

PHILIP J. BARNARD

OBJECTIVE

To strengthen and grow an orchestra program of energized and inspired advanced student musicians, through systematic and effective recruitment, essential parent involvement, instruction that is relevant and easily understood by today's student, and a rapport with students that fosters growth and success as a citizen.

WORK EXPERIENCE

August 1994 – June 1995 Bledsoe County Schools, Tennessee
Instrumental music teacher
Taught instrumental music for school system: 6th grade-12th grade

August 1995 - June 2002 Cleveland City Schools, Tennessee
Instrumental music teacher
Middle school director/high school assistant director: Sole responsibility of 300 member middle school program and assisted at high school program of 200 members

August 2003 – 2009 Dekalb County Schools, Georgia
Instrumental music teacher
Elementary school director: Sole responsibility for 100 member 4th and 5th grade elementary orchestra program.

August 2009 – Present Dekalb County Schools, Georgia
Instrumental music teacher
High school orchestra director, Dunwoody High School

EDUCATION

August, 1989 – May 1994 University of Tennessee at Chattanooga
Bachelor of Science: Music Education

August, 2002 – May 2004 Georgia State University
Master of Music in Orchestral Conducting

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

National Association of Music Education

Georgia Music Educators Association

American String Teachers Association

International Double Reed Society