

Home Page

Today is: GASP website Homepage

Friday, February 22, 2008

Welcome to the GASPnet.org website!

GASP President

Tracy Boney
President 2007-2008

message | bio
Letter from Tracy on APA issue

Recent News & Events

Spring GASP- Current Information

HOT ISSUE- APA's MLA and affects School Psychologists -GASP's response to APA's I

GASP Legislation Day- Feb 22
read more

GA Legislative Session Begins
GASP Smartwatch

Area workshops Information

What's NEW? updated links page

GASP strives to

- provide the highest services to the children of Georgia through the collaboration of professionals sharing knowledge, experience, research, and accountability.
- promote and maintain the highest standards of ethics, training, and professional practices in Psychological Services in the schools of the state of Georgia.
- advance education and mental health

School Psychologists

- are state and nationally certified professionals who serve preschool and adult individuals in public and private settings.
- help students who may be having learning, behavioral and emotion problems through a comprehensive psycho-educational assessment and intervention..
- serve the school system by collaborating with teachers, parents and through psychological research and the dissemination of professional ideas.

- serve the mental health and educational needs of students and to assist in the development of sound educational practices for the total school program.
- study issues and provide recommendations for the organization and administration of school psychology and professional practices.

administrators aiding them with information and recommendation

- conduct research to help promote effective forms of learning, disciplin and social interaction.
- are liaisons and effective persons the event of a crisis to help alleviate stressors and promote healthy transitions in the schools and community.

GASP's Vision

GASP has a vision of all students being intellectually, personally, and socially prepared to meet life's opportunities.

GASP's Mission

GASP will provide school psychologists Georgia with the highest level of supervision and professional training so that they remain effective in a dynamic educational environment.

Atlanta, GA Find Another City: Enter city or U.S.zip <input type="button" value="GO"/>	Currently Hour-by-hour 10-day  40°F Rain	Today's Outlook  48/43°F Heavy Rain	Tomorrow's Outlook  61/36°F AM Clouds / PM Sun
@weather.com: Pollen Levels Fitness Forecast Get the temp on your desktop

School Psychology Programs in Georgia are located at:
Georgia Southern University, Georgia State University, University of Georgia & Valdosta State University

GASP in a not-for-profit professional association dedicated to helping Georgia's children.
Support GASP become a member today!

Support Disaster Relief

Freedom isn't Free!

Together, we can save a life

The information herein is believed to be accurate with care taken to ensure such. However, no guarantee is expressed or implied. Please feel free to contact us about any concerns or problems within this site. Site maintained by webmaster@GASPnet.org, free script provided by JavaScript Kit