

BETA GAMMA SIGMA

2011 Chapter Honorees

Robin Worley

Robin Worley is a proven business transformation specialist and entrepreneur. With over 30 years of leadership experience, Robin's approachable and common sense style has resulted in positive organizational change in a wide variety of operations. As Chief Executive Officer of the Sewell Companies, a tailored apparel firm which began in 1918, his achievement of transforming the manufacturing operations from civilian to officer uniforms for our United States military resulted in saving more than 500 American jobs.

Outside of clothing, Robin has formed several other businesses in many different fields such as commercial/residential real estate, nuclear welding, and executive consulting.

Because of his diversity, he has a market driven appreciation of the powerful difference people can make once they grasp the vision of what "could be". His understanding of real teamwork and extreme leadership allows him to be an effective communicator and motivational speaker for a variety of businesses, schools, churches and civic groups.