The Center for Economic Education in conjunction with the Richards College of Business and the College of Education will host Fed Day at UWG on Tuesday, October 19. Visiting lecturers from the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank will be Gary Tapp and Amy Hennessy.

Amy Hennessy is the Education Specialist for the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. She was 2009 Georgia Economics Teacher of the Year from Davidson Fine Arts School, Richmond County Schools. This is Georgia Council on Economics Education's highest honor for classroom teachers who have made outstanding contributions to teaching economics in Georgia schools.

Gary W. Tapp, Ph.D., is Director for Economic Education at the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. The Atlanta Fed provides programs in both economic and personal financial education aimed primarily at educators in the Sixth Federal Reserve District (Georgia, Florida, Alabama, and portions of Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee). He currently serves on the Georgia Department of Education’s Social Studies Advisory Board, the Georgia Council for Economic Education’s Research Committee, and the Georgia Council’s Program Committee.

Amy Hennessy and Gary Tapp will be guest lecturers in select College of Education and Richards College of Business classes on Tuesday.
