

§§§ CALL FOR PAPERS §§§

16th Annual

Southern Appalachian Undergraduate Philosophy Conference

The University of North Carolina at Asheville
The Liberal Arts Campus of the University of North Carolina

Saturday, April 11, 2015

Sponsoring Organizations include: the Belk Chair of Humanities, The UNCA Philosophical Society, The NC Epsilon Chapter of Phi Sigma Tau, & The UNCA Philosophy Department

Our symposium provides a professional style philosophical forum for aspiring undergraduates to present significant and original work. All papers will be evaluated by blind review process. At the conference, judges from universities with important graduate programs will determine prizes for the top three presentations [1st place--$300; 2nd place--$200; 3rd place--$100].

We are honored to announce the keynote address this year will be:

Evaluative Perception

Dr. Susanna Siegel, the Edgar Pierce Professor of Philosophy at Harvard University

We are honored to announce our judges this year will be:

Dr. Leonard Lawlor [Edwin Erle Sparks Professor of Philosophy, Pennsylvania State University].

Dr. Susanna Siegel [Edgar Pierce Professor of Philosophy, Harvard University]

Please submit each of the following as a separate MS Word file to ddavis@unca.edu:

- ◆ a paper
- ◆ an abstract
- ◆ a separate cover sheet with name and affiliation

Papers on any philosophical topic are welcome. Papers should be designed for a 20 minute presentation time [approximately 10 - 12 standard double-spaced pages]. The paper should not contain the author's name or institutional affiliation, since it will be evaluated in a blind review process.

Abstracts should be attached to the paper, should be one paragraph, double spaced, no more than 150 words. These abstracts should not contain the author's name or institutional affiliation, since it will be evaluated in a blind review process.

Cover sheets should be on a separate sheet, and should contain the title of the paper, the author's name, and the author's institutional affiliation, address, e-mail address, and phone number.

All submissions must be received by Friday, February 15, 2015.

Acceptance notifications will occur by March 13, 2015.
