

Friday, October 06, 2017

	Melson 207	Melson 218	Melson 213
8:00-9:00	Continental Breakfast and Music by Jake Tengelson
9:00-9:20	Ego, Soul, and the Restorative Function of Emotional Pain Leland "Chip" Baggett	The Value of My West Georgia College Experience Thomas Patrick Williams
9:30-9:50	Assessment Meets Automation: A Humanistic Response to Computerized Cognitive Testing Andrew Bland	The Body Wisdom Lifestyle Donna Goldstein
10:00-10:20	Break and Music by Shikera Thomason
10:30-11:00	"Logos and Slogans and Brands, Oh my!" Our Propaganda Society Jeffrey Koob	How Carl Rogers Transformed My Life . . . and Yours: When UWG, Politics, Zen, and Emotional Intelligence Came Together at One Time David Ryback
11:10-11:30	Toward a Humanistic Cultural Psychology Jim Dillon
11:40-12:00	Life Springs Forth as Psychology: Reflections on Love, Justice, and Vocation Will Adams	My Life as the Forrest Gump of Humanistic Psychology Daryl Conner	How My UWG Psychology Thesis Transformed into My Independent Bookstore Candace Apple
12:00-1:30	Lunch on your own - (Music by Garri 1:10-1:30)
1:30-1:50	Characterizations and Critiques of Humanistic Psychology in Introductory Textbooks Christopher Henry	Down the Hillbilly Highway: Transgenerational Trauma and the Appalachian Diaspora Sara Adkins
2:00-2:20	Envisioning Indo-Tibetan Buddhism as a Contemplative Metapsychology Alan Pope	Looking Forward, Looking Back, Looking Around Mark Kunkel
2:30-2:50	Break and Music by Joe Huang
3:00-3:20	Who is Dr. Edith Weisskopf-Joelson and Why Does Ingram Library have her Papers? Andrea Stanfield	An Experiential Model of Change: Integrating the Phenomenological Psychology of West Georgia with Experiential Psychotherapy Avrum Weiss
3:30-3:50	Wonder, Wonder Everywhere: The Psychology of Spirituality Daniel Helminiak
4:00-4:20	Stories of Integrating Spirituality amidst the Modern American Lifestyle in Those Who are Spiritual but not Religious Douglas Watts	Writing the Self: Reflections on Humanistic Psychology and the Importance of Feminine Expression Rebecca Gimeno
4:30-5:30	Drum Circle with Ten Blocks Away
6:00-8:00	Celebration Dinner - Campus Center Ballroom (ticket required)

Saturday, October 07, 2017

	Melson 207	Melson 218	Melson 213
8-8:30	Continental Breakfast and Music by Mark Kunkel and Jeanette Broyles
8:40-9:30	Gentle Flow Yoga with Lisa Duffey
9:40-10:00	Humanistic and Allied Psychologies in the 21st century Eric Dodson	The Role of Psychology in the Emerging Transhuman Subject Sebastienne Grant	Better Understanding the Causes, Symptoms, and Treatment for Parasomnias and Sexsomnia Alliyah Hooten
10:05-10:35	Towards a Dynamic and Dialogical Notion of Language Form Marie-Cecile Bertau	The Politics of a Humanistic Approach: What We Can Do Together as a Community of Kindred Spirits to Fight for Human Rights David Ryback
10:40-11:00	Creating your own Career Path with a West Georgia Degree in Psychology Debra Redman	Solidarity and Significance: Transformation from Student to Professor in the UWG Psychology Department John Roberts
11:10-11:30		Psychology at West Georgia over the Years Chris Aanstoos
11:40-12:00		Where is the UWG Psychology Program Headed? Psychology Program Directors
12:00	Conference Ends
12:00-2:00	50 Years of Psychology at UWG - Artifacts detailing the history of the Department of Psychology at the University of West Georgia will be exhibited in Ingram Library. Special Collections and the Center for Public History will host a reception in the Thomas Murphy Reading Room from 12-2 p.m		