Mass Communications Scholarship Criteria

Dora Byron Memorial Scholarship

Recipient criteria: incoming freshman women who have a high school average of “B” or better, a demonstrated interest in journalism, and who plan to declare a mass communications major may apply for this scholarship. The recipient must maintain a “B” (3.0) average or better while at West Georgia, and must commit to writing at least one article per semester for the West Georgian.

Rhubarb Jones Scholarship

Recipient criteria: shall be an upcoming University of West Georgia senior with a future career goal in broadcast journalism. Must have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 to 2.9.

Harold Newell Scholarship (Not Annually)

Recipient criteria: Mass Communications major with emphasis in print journalism. The award shall be based equally on merit and financial need.

Frances Parkman Memorial Scholarship

Recipient criteria: priority given to a junior or senior pursuing a career in mass communication, who has attained a minimum 2.5 GPA after completing 30 hrs of college credit. Financial need and participation in extracurricular activities will be considered including serving on the staff of the West Georgian. Student financial services will determine which student as a financial need.

David S. Parkman III Scholarship

Recipient criteria: Priority will be given to a junior or senior pursuing a career in print journalism, who has attained a minimum 2.5 GPA after completing 30 hours of college credit. Participating in extracurricular activities by applicants will be considered; with special consideration given to staff members of the West Georgian. Priority will also be given to a student from Carroll County.

George Fields Whatley Scholarship

Recipient criteria: Financially deserving mass communications major with an emphasis in print journalism.
