

College of Education EdD Students Accomplishments

Scott Fortes, Cohort 2, headed up the new Health Track and Fitness Park at Woodstock Elementary School in 2014.

Amy Mount, Cohort 16, was named among ASCD's class of 2015 Emerging Leaders. Amy has also presented at the Texas Social Studies Supervisor's Association and the Texas Council for the Social Studies Conference.

Melissa Ladd, Cohort 13, lobbied at the GAE Day at the Capitol Event. She is featured on the 2016 cover of KNOW.

Matthew Townsley, Cohort 15, was published in Curriculum in Context (41): Building a district-wide PLC vision through repeated story. He presented: Scaling standards-based grading at the high school at the National Learning Forward Annual Conference in Washington D.C. He also has many additional state and regional presentations.

Jennifer Elemen, Cohort 13, presented Increasing Civic Participation: High School Students' Participation in Distributed Leadership at the California Council for the Social Studies: 54th Annual Conference in Oakland.

Daniel Lane, Cohort 13, presented Fidelity of Response to Intervention Implementation in Georgia's High Schools at AERA.

College of Education EdD Students Accomplishments

Elizabeth Webb, Cohort 15, has presented Transatlantic Perspectives on Best Practices on L2 Education for Immigrants at SETSOL. She has also presented: Effective Instruction for English Learners: It's all about Chutzpah! Advocating for Your ELLs.

Jessica Ainsworth, Cohort 14, was named the National Assistant Principal of the Year as well as the Georgia Assistant Principal of the Year. She was also recognized in the Top Ten Young Professionals of Douglas County. She received a Presidential Citation at the 2015 Georgia Association of Alternative Education.

Rachel Osborn, Cohort 13, is the current Director of Outreach at the City University Stanford Education Program. She presented at the WA State Head Start ECEAP Conference: Spokane, WA.

Lola Burse, Cohort 16, was presented on Data Driven Instruction at the National Youth at Risk Conference in Savannah, GA.

Anne Roycroft, Cohort 12, is the current Portfolio Manager at Fuel Education. She is also volunteers as CAEP Site Visitor and an SPA reviewer.

Hal Brian Ridley, Cohort 8, was named the 2013 Georgia Middle School Principal of the Year. He presented: The "Right Stuff": A Middle School Journey, at the 2015 Georgia Middle School Association Annual Conference in Columbus, GA.

College of Education EdD Students Accomplishments

Anne Johnston, Cohort 16, has presented at the Georgia Independent Schools Association, The Learning Disabilities Association in San Antonio, TX as well as the Sport and Society Conference in Cambridge, UK.

Yolanda Cooper McKee, Cohort 10, presented Inherently Differentiated Problem-Based Learning: Engaging Diverse Learners in Secondary Science at NSTA in Chicago and ASCD in Houston.

Monika Wiley, Cohort 14, has presented at the Hawaii International Conference on Education.

James Lanier, Cohort 13, was named among the "20 to watch" Educational Technology Leaders list by the National School Board Association.

Paquita Mia Austin, Cohort 15, presented: Moving Beyond Ready to Teach, Progressing toward Lead Professional, at the 2015 edTPA summit in Savannah, GA.

Michael Berg, Cohort 12, has presented on: Strategies for Promoting a Positive Inclusion Classroom at Georgia Regent's 17th Annual Impacting Student Learning Conference.