GrantForward: A Search Engine for Grants

Did you know that the ORSP has various resources to help you identify funding opportunities?

One of these resources is GrantForward:

Creating an Account

What is GrantForward?

GrantForward is a search engine where users can search for funding opportunities across all fields, from federal, state, foundation and other sources. GrantForward aggregates various funding opportunities from different websites into one database. You are able to search by sponsor, deadline date, keyword, and other criteria.

Creating an account

Creating an account is a simple two-step process. On the GrantForward homepage, press the Sign Up button on the upper right hand side. On the Create and Account page, enter your institution email and create a password. You will also want to choose "Institution" as your account type. A confirmation email will be sent. In the confirmation email, click on the link to confirm your account. Afterwards, you will have account access to GrantForward.
