Dear Students, Faculty and Staff Colleagues, Alumni, and Friends of the University:

More people are discovering what a strong, diverse institution the University of West Georgia is. They are learning about the outstanding academics, vibrant student life and exciting athletic programs that are making UWG a destination university. As high-caliber high school students, their parents, counselors and teachers become more aware of the merits of UWG, its reputation for excellence will be enhanced.

Challenges remain, most notably with the state budget crisis. It is unknown at this point the extent of reductions that we might incur. But we've efficiently managed the cuts we've sustained over the past few years and are confident that we'll be able to do so again this year.

The fall semester opened with an enrollment of 11,283 students participating in an academic community that is challenging and full of opportunities.

They have chosen to enter a world of unfettered opportunity, which is one of the key messages of the University's new branding campaign, Go West. The messaging aims to tell a wider audience the story of the wonderful things going on at UWG. From online, print, and broadcast advertisements, more people are learning what it means to Go West and are seeing how they can come to UWG and make their mark.

There's evidence to suggest that the messaging is making its mark, too; the past two Preview Day events have drawn record numbers of visitors.

We recently received great academic news as the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia approved UWG to add a Ph.D. program to its doctoral studies. The Ph.D. program in Psychology: Consciousness and Society will start admitting new students in the fall of 2011. I cannot overemphasize how important this milestone is in the history of our University. Thus far, there has been a firewall that prevented us from offering a Ph.D. program; I am delighted that we are now past that.

The Princeton Review continues to bestow favorable ratings on the University, recognizing it as a Best Southeastern College each year since 2004 and naming the Richards College of Business to its 300 Best Business Schools list. Both national recognitions are based on a survey regarding the college's academic programs and student satisfaction, as well as the University's student body and campus life.

UWG was recently accepted into a prestigious cooperative that provides research, technical assistance, and education to environmental and natural resource projects conducted by the government.

The outstanding facilities at UWG are being enhanced with a number of new projects. This spring, a new bookstore will be completed; giving students the opportunity to shop in a larger, more centrally located facility. Also later this year, a renovation of the Ingram Library will be finished, a project that will include a re-creation of the office of the late Thomas B. Murphy, longtime speaker of the Georgia House of Representatives.

At the University of West Georgia, we are blazing trails to new possibilities for scholarly achievement, creative expression, and service to humanity. Go West!

Onward and Upward, West Georgia!

Sincerely,

Beheruz N. Sethna, Ph.D.

Sherry of hell.

Professor of Business Administration, and

President of the University

History

The University of West Georgia, a four-year institution of the University System of Georgia, is a co-educational, residential, liberal arts institution located in Carrollton, Georgia.

Carrollton, the seat of Carroll County, is about an hour drive from Atlanta. According to the 2007 Census estimate, Carrollton has a regional population of 111,954 with retail shopping, medical, educational, entertainment, financial, and recreational services, making it one of Georgia's fastest growing industrial areas.

The University of West Georgia was established in 1906 as the Fourth District Agricultural and Mechanical School, one of twelve such institutions by the State of Georgia between 1906 and 1917. Twenty five years later, an Act by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia changed Carrollton A&M School to West Georgia College, a junior college. Dr. Irvine S. Ingram, who had been principal of the A&M School, was named the institution's first president. In 1939, the College was authorized by the Board of Regents to add a three-year program in elementary education.

In 1957, the institution was authorized to confer the B.S. degree in education, making it a four-year college within the University System of Georgia. Two years later, West Georgia College added the Bachelor of Arts degree in English, history, and mathematics.

During the following years, West Georgia College became one of the fastest growing institutions of higher learning in the South. From an enrollment of 576 in 1957, the institution's student body reached a milestone of 11,500 in Fall 2009. West Georgia offers twelve undergraduate degrees with majors in 60 different fields.

In 1967, the Board of Regents authorized the establishment of a graduate program at the master's level. Ten master's degrees are offered in 33 areas of study. The Specialist in Education degree is offered in 9 areas of study and a doctoral degree in 3 areas.

In 1983, the Board of Regents approved the External Degree Program as a cooperative effort between Dalton College and West Georgia. Since its inception, close to 400 degrees have been conferred through the Center. The Board of Regents in 1988 approved the opening of Newnan Center, a joint effort involving the Newnan-Coweta Chamber of Commerce and other businesses, civic and educational leaders in the area. With an enrollment of 540 in Fall 2009, the Newnan Center provides access to higher education for residents of Coweta County.

In June1996, the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia officially changed the name of West Georgia College to the State University of West Georgia and to the University of West Georgia in 2005.

The University's growth is accommodated by the following additions:

Fall 2009, the University of West Georgia opened a 262-bed Greek Village. The Village includes a community building, outdoor basketball and volleyball court, outdoor green space, parking, and half a dozen six-bed townhouses. Each house has a living/chapter room, kitchen, laundry facilities, single and double bedrooms, and semi-private bathrooms. The university now has 3,045 beds available to the students.

The Coliseum opened January 2009; a 6,500 capacity facility is the home for UWG Wolves basketball and volleyball programs and the Department of Health, Physical Education and Sports Studies. Its schedule includes athletic and community events, classes, concerts, corporate meetings, local high school graduations, and UWG orientations.

September 2009, West Georgia Wolves opened its 9,000seat football stadium. The facility, located on approximately 250 acres, will be completed in stages to include locker rooms, weight and training rooms, several athletic programs, and offices for the Athletics Department.

The Campus

The campus is a unique blend of old and new. Boasting numerous cultivar of trees, shrubs, and flowers, the campus is dotted with structures of the early 1900s, as well as buildings exemplifying the most contemporary modes of architecture.

West Georgia began as an A&M school in 1906 on the three-block-long expanse shaded by old oak, elm, and maple trees that surrounds a number of brick buildings and stretches into a semi-circle on front, or "Old Campus."

A modern academic complex composed of a library, social science, humanities, and math-physics buildings lies beyond the "Old Campus." A business school annex was added in 1985. Other buildings in the area include a three-story student center, a three-story campus center, and a health services building. A performing arts center, containing two theatres, a black box and a main stage, which seat 250 and 455 respectively was completed in 1989.

The central focal point of the University's core curriculum classes is situated across from the Performing Arts Center—the Technology-enhanced Learning Center (TLC). The $20 million, 110,000-square-foot, three-story, state-of-the-art building was completed in the summer of 2001. Academic departments housed in the TLC include Computer Science, English, Chemistry, and History. The defining feature of the TLC is the "smart" classrooms, or studio classrooms, in which every student has a computer at his or her desk. Other features include three lecture halls, a seminar room for each department, one general-purpose computer lab, and several chemistry labs, in addition to faculty offices. In the lecture halls, students have a place to plug in their laptops, and in the lobby area, computer screens offer students a chance for a quick revision of their assignments between classes. Labs and lectures are integrated, and experiments are done on computers. The University believes that this high-tech teaching method increases student learning and is proud to be one of only three institutions in the University System of Georgia to use this technology.

Much of the University's other recent physical development occurred on the westside of campus. The Education Center, a structure unique in the University System, contains five large lecture-demonstration rooms, which by moving the sliding partitions; serve as a 1,000-seat auditorium. It also features an instructional materials center, television and sound recording studios, an audiovisual laboratory and dark room, counseling rooms, group observation rooms, study carrels, and other areas for independent study.

Adjacent to the Education Center is the Biology Building, a facility with numerous laboratories, lecture halls, and the latest scientific equipment. The Education Annex, a 42,000-square-foot facility, opened in 1995. This facility houses education and nursing faculty offices, classrooms, laboratories, and the campus day-care center.

A complete renovation of the University's baseball complex was made possible by a gift from the E. Woodfin Cole family in Carrollton. The 20,000-square-foot, two-level Murphy Fieldhouse provides offices for all athletic personnel, a football locker room, academic support area, sports information offices, a sports medicine area, and meeting rooms.

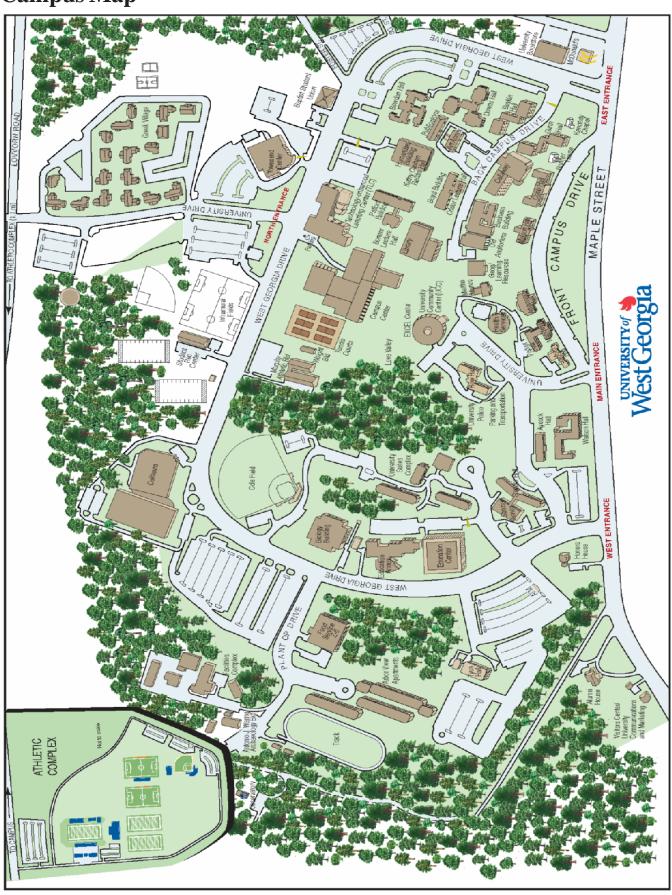

Kennedy Interfaith Chapel and Bonner House are two of the oldest buildings on campus. The Chapel was owned first by the Episcopal Church and later by the Catholic Church. When the local parish built a new church, its members donated the Chapel to the University for non-denominational use. In 1964, after the Chapel was moved to the campus, the late Robert F. Kennedy dedicated it to the memory of his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

The Bonner House, constructed in 1843 as a plantation home, is the oldest building on campus. The frame colonial structure has served various purposes through the years.

- Academic Programs Balancing Liberal Arts with Professional Preparation
- 2. A Campus that is Safe, Engaging, and Exciting
- 3. Steady and Intelligent Enrollment and Resource Growth
- 4. Meaningful Engagement with Off-campus Communities

The Strategic Plan is designed to shape the University of West Georgia for the next five years in such a way as to place it as a destination university, particularly among peer universities in the state of Georgia and among those universities in the nation granting doctoral degrees in programs that balance liberal education with professional preparation. In addition to this bold pledge of shaping, creating, and maintaining such a distinctive educational mission as expressed in its degree programs, it also promises to be a leader in campus safety and campus life. That is to say, West Georgia will be guided by a commitment to a safe and engaging campus. West Georgia predicts a growing enrollment, and the University is committed to a steady and smart growth that together with careful resource management will enhance our primary mission of academic excellence in a personal environment. Finally, we are committed to our external community from Atlanta to India to Japan, but we are quite mindful of our local community of Carrollton, Georgia, and will build on all of our current obligations of giving students opportunities for service work in the community even as we invite the community into our campus and thus work together to develop our neighborhood as a recognizable university village.

The Department of Housing and Residence Life provides a living/learning community environment that complements the educational process of the University. Ten residence halls house more than 3,000 West Georgia students. Unmarried freshmen that do not reside with parents within a thirty-mile radius of the University are required to live on campus. We offer co-ed and single gender housing options for students who live on campus. Co-ed residence halls have separate areas for men and women, typically separated by wings. Residence halls provide students with the convenience of being close to campus life and its activities as well as comfortable and attractive surroundings. On campus living provides each student with the community living experience, which fosters the development of disciplined minds, social conscientiousness, and responsibility for governing hall affairs. In addition, the department offers a variety of social, educational, and recreational programs which are provided to promote individual growth and development.

Health Services provides diagnosis, first aid, and treatment of minor or short-term acute illnesses or injuries under the supervision of a physician. Health Services is opened from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Friday. Students are referred to other medical personnel or facilities for special services such as x-ray, surgery, and dentistry. Medication necessary for treatment is usually available at the Center. In addition, many tests performed in the Health Center laboratory are covered by the student's health fee. Health Services saw 27,167 patients and filled 52,372 prescriptions in Fiscal Year 2010.

Intercollegiate Athletics

University of West Georgia (UWG) Athletics is a member of NCAA Division II and the Gulf South Conference (GSC), the largest Division II conference in the nation. The university currently offers 12 varsity sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, football, men's and women's golf, women's soccer, women's softball, women's tennis and women's volleyball.

UWG proudly boasts athletic facilities that rank among the finest of any Division II program in the nation. Since 2009 six teams have moved into new, state-of-the-art home venues. The Coliseum serves as home to the men's and women's basketball and volleyball teams; softball and soccer have moved into new, on-campus home stadiums, while UWG football now plays its home games in University Stadium.

The new homes for football, soccer, and softball are part of the sprawling UWG Athletic Complex. Beyond the new playing sites, this facility includes a women's field house for the soccer and softball programs, a soccer practice field, football practice fields, and the soon-to-be completed Athletic Office Building that includes locker room and training room facilities. Beyond, plans are on the drawing board for a new baseball facility and other improvements within the coming years.

West Georgia teams are no strangers to success. From a 1974 Men's Basketball National Championship to the 1982 NCAA Football, UWG Athletics continues to a strong contender in Gulf South Conference and NCAA events. Men's Basketball has participated in eight NCAA Regional Tournaments and 13 GSC post-season events since 1994. In 2002 the team won both the GSC and NCAA South Region titles, thus earning the school's first ever berth in the Division II Elite Eight. Baseball captured the GSC title in 1998, earning the right to host the NCAA South Central Regional. UWG captured the tournament to earn a berth in the Division II World Series. Beyond, the football program won GSC titles in 1997, 1998 and 2000, and has advanced to the NCAA Division II Playoffs on four separate occasions.

Women's volleyball earned GSC Tournament berths from 2004-2007, winning the school's first GSC title and advancing to the NCAA Tournament in 2007. Women's basketball has a lengthy record of accomplishment, including two GSC titles (1992, 1994) and advancing to the NCAA Tournament in many occasions, most recently in 2008.

Both men's and women's cross country teams enjoy long records of GSC success, combining for eight league crowns since the mid-1990s. In 2000 the women's cross country team captured the NCAA South Region title, and in 2003 claimed the league's individual title. Both programs continue to be among the GSC's best and appear regularly in the regional rankings.

Women's soccer and men's and women's golf have made a big contribution to the university's winning tradition. The soccer program has advanced three times to the GSC Tournament. Both golf teams have enjoyed success in regular season and GSC Tournament play, including the men's team twice (2007, 2009) qualifying a player for the NCAA Regional Tournament.

Newly launched 2010-11, following a 10-year absence from the university, is women's tennis. Prospects for future success are very bright.

Athletics has always played a major role in campus life at the University of West Georgia. The commitment is now stronger than ever to field successful teams with talented student-athletes who succeed in both the classroom and on the field of play.

The Administration

Administrative Organization

The University System of Georgia

The University System of Georgia's Board of Regents was created in 1931 during a reorganization of Georgia State government. This Act unified Georgia public higher education under one governing and management authority.

The Board of Regents is a State constitutional board responsible for the governance, control, and management of its member institutions. The governor appoints members to the Board, who each serves seven years. The Board is composed of 18 members, five are appointed from the state-at-large and one from each of the 13 congressional districts. The Board elects a chancellor who serves as chief executive officer and chief administrative officer of the University System.

The Board oversees 35 colleges and universities: four research universities, two regional universities, 13 state universities, seven state colleges, and nine two-year colleges. These institutions enroll more than 270,000 students and employ approximately 11,000 faculty and 28,600 staff to provide teaching and related services to students and their communities.

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia is located at:

270 Washington Street, SW Atlanta, Georgia 30334, U.S.A.

University System of Georgia Strategic Plan

Transforming the System, Changing Lives, Strengthening the State

The Board of Regents has utilized strategic planning for a number of years to guide its policy development and annual budget requests. The Board's current Strategic Plan was adopted in August 2007.

The Plan has a theme of building capacity in every aspect of the System's operations. The Plan will direct actions that transform the System, change lives, and strengthen the State.

The Plan defines six broad goals designed to ensure the investment that the citizens of Georgia have made in their system of public higher education continues to serve the needs of future generations.

For more information on the University System's Strategic Plan, go to: http://www.usg.edu/regents/strategic/

The six strategic goals:

- 1. Renew excellence in undergraduate education to meet students' 21st century educational needs.
- 2. Create enrollment capacity to meet the needs of 100,000 additional students by 2020.
- Increase the USG's participation in research and economic development to the benefit of a global Georgia.

- 4. Strengthen the USG's partnerships with the State's other education agencies.
- 5. Maintain affordability so that money is not a barrier to participation in the benefits of higher education.
- 6. Increase efficiency, working as a System.

The Chancellor and the Central Office staff are responsible for administering the affairs of the University System of Georgia under the general direction of the Board of Regents.

University of West Georgia

The President is responsible to the Chancellor for the operation and management of the University. The President's Advisory Committee (PAC) is the immediate advisory body to the President. This Committee consists of persons in administrative positions reporting directly to the President and others as the President believes will provide advice for the orderly, effective, and efficient administration of the Committee's affairs. Appointments are annual at the beginning of the fiscal year.

The Administrative Council is the chief advisory body for administrative activities in the academic operations of the University. It consists of the Vice President for Academic Affairs (chair), Dean of Students and Vice President for Student Services, Deans of the Graduate School, Arts and Sciences, Business, Education and Honors College; the Director of Institutional Research and Planning; Directors of Continuing Education/Public Services, Information Technology Services and the Library; the chair of the Institutional Studies and Planning Committee of the Faculty Senate; and the President of the Student Government Association.

The Planning Council is an advisory body to the President for long-range development of the University, and is expected to oversee the creation of a variety of plans extending over three or more years into the future. Members of the Council are appointed by the President from the administration, faculty, students, alumni and the community. It will have no policymaking powers.

The Technology Coordination Council creates, assesses, and coordinates technical standards, procedures and processes that implement UWG's information technology strategic policies; it coordinates the activities of UWG's information technology groups for the best use of information technology across campus.

Distance and Distributed Education Center

www.westga.edu/~distance/

Distributed Education is the term used to describe alternative learning environments whereby faculty draw on appropriate technology to provide instruction outside of the traditional classroom. The distributed model can be used in combination with traditional classroom-based courses or it can be used to create distance education courses, in which most learning occurs independent of time and/or place. In the University System of Georgia, if more than 50 percent of instruction in a course is delivered via distance technologies, it is classified as a Distance Education course.

Through its Distance and Distributed Education Center, the University offers credit classes to students at times and locations outside of the traditional classroom. The University of West Georgia was one of the first institutions in the University System of Georgia to offer full or partial online credit courses. The courses utilize the internet to deliver materials, assignments, facilitate discussion, and other appropriate interactions. Distance or Distributed credit courses are delivered fully or partially online through two-way live videoconferencing or through a combination of technologies.

A primary function of the Distance and Distributed Education Center is to provide support services and training for faculty and students participating in these courses. The Center also provides opportunities for collaboration and research for those who manage and administer Distance and Distributed Education programs throughout the nation through its online academic journal, its online non-credit certificate program, and its annual conference. For more information about Distance or Distributed Education, visit the Honors House, telephone 678-839-6248, or visit the University website.

Continuing Education

https://uwgagenda.westga.edu/

The Department of Continuing Education and Public Services has emerged as the extension of the traditional oncampus learning process. Non-credit classes are developed and offered to citizens of the University community at convenient locations and with flexible schedules to accommodate a wide variety of participants.

The mission of Continuing Education is to identify and provide non-credit educational opportunities that will enhance the quality of life for local citizens and provide training support to business and industry that will serve as a catalyst for economic development.

The CEU is defined as ten contact hours of participation in a qualified continuing education program. The CEU is recognized as the national standard for measuring an individual's participation in a non-credit program. Programs that qualify for CEU credit are referred to as Category I. Category I activities are designed to enhance occupational skills, and individual permanent records as transcripts are maintained. Courses that are designed primarily for personal enrichment and are social, cultural, or recreational in nature are referred to as Category II courses. No permanent individual records or transcripts are maintained for Category II courses.

Off-Campus Programs

The Board of Regents approved and established a West Georgia satellite campus in Newnan, Georgia in August 1988. The Center currently offers degree and non-degree programs.

Approved by the Board of Regents in August, 2002, as a cooperative effort between Georgia Highlands College and the University of West Georgia, the External Degree Program services students in the Floyd County area who wish to continue formal education beyond the associate degree.

Student Financial Aid Fiscal Years 2007 - 2010

The Office of Financial Aid coordinates financial assistance for nearly seventy-two percent of West Georgia's students. Office staff determines eligibility for aid awarded by the University and record aid received by students from other sources, such as the University of West Georgia Foundation, corporations, and individuals. The Office coordinates all student financial aid awards and reports all aid awarded to students attending the University to the Board of Regents, federal government, and University officials.

History

The University of West Georgia established a central office to administer sponsored operations in 1967. University reorganization in 1973 placed responsibility for sponsored operations, grants, contracts, budgeting of funds from sources external to the University, and institutional research in the office of Instructional and Research Services. By 1980, that unit became the Division of Budget and Research Services, reporting to the President of the University. In Fiscal Year 1996, Sponsored Operations was placed under the Vice-President for Academic Affairs.

Services Rendered

The Office of Sponsored Operations aids and supports faculty/staff efforts to attract funds from sources external to the University in support of instructional, research, and service programs. This is accomplished by the Director of Sponsored Operations, who: 1) matches faculty/staff interests and needs with appropriate funding sources, 2) routes requests for proposals (RFP's) to specific faculty/department/program personnel, 3) assists faculty/staff in preparing applications and proposals, 4) coordinates award paperwork, documentation, and reporting, and, 5) provides staff development through grants preparation/administration workshops and seminars. The Office of Sponsored Operations provides the day-to-day services necessary to support all program activities funded from sources external to West Georgia and provides support for the administration of the Faculty Research Grant program funded through the University.

The Director of Sponsored Operations recommends all external contracts, proposals, and grants, and monitors institutional performance under such agreements.

West Georgia attracts grants, gifts, and contracts from federal, state, and local government agencies, corporations, and foundations. This external funding and other revenue enable the University to fulfill its official mission to emphasize creative teaching, encourage research, and promote the development of human resources through educational programs.

Sponsored Operations Goals

The Sponsored Operations Office established the following strategic goals:

- 1. To promote and support the instructional, research, and public service missions of West Georgia.
- To encourage University units and individual faculty/ staff efforts in seeking funds from external agencies in support of instructional, research, and public service projects.
- 3. To monitor the Faculty Research Grant Program in compliance with established institutional policies and procedures.
- To assist principal investigators in efforts to comply with federal and state statutes and University System policy.
- 5. To seek increased support for University activities from corporate and foundation sources.

Faculty Research Grants Fiscal Year 2010

In addition to resources acquired from external sources, the University budgets state-allocated funds to assist faculty research efforts through the Faculty Research Grant Program. Established in 1967, the Faculty Research Grant Program provides limited funding for approved faculty research projects.

Each fiscal year, faculty members submit formal proposals to the Learning Resources Committee of the Faculty Senate requesting University support. Committee members evaluate proposals and make funding recommendations for full Senate review. The Faculty Senate approves proposals and suggests levels of funding to the President, who subsequently allocates funds to the grant recipients.

In compliance with these procedures, the President of the University awarded Faculty Research Grant funds for this Fiscal Year as follows:

Financial Information

Budgeting and Assessment Cycle

The University of West Georgia operates under three major budgets: the Resident Instruction Budget, the Auxiliary Enterprises Budget, and the Student Activities Budget. Each serves a distinct purpose.

The Resident Instruction Budget is funded from state appropriations, student tuition and fees, and dedicated funds received from sources external to the University System of Georgia. Resident Instruction Funds support instruction, research, libraries, the computer center and laboratories, Student Services, the administrative and service offices of West Georgia, a portion of the maintenance of the physical plant, and academic scholarships and fellowships.

The Auxiliary Enterprises Budget is self-supporting and is operated on a profit/loss basis. Auxiliary Enterprises generate revenue from residence hall rentals, meal ticket sales, bookstore sales, vending machine sales, student health and athletic fees, parking fees, and parking fines. Auxiliary Enterprises funds support the operation of the residence halls, dining rooms, the University Bookstore, network support, vending machines, bus service, health services, traffic operations, intercollegiate athletics (as of FY 93) and, they provide funds necessary to maintain a portion of the University's physical plant.

The Student Activities Budget is funded by student activities fees. Student Activities funds support various activities including choral and instrumental organizations, art exhibits, debate team, jazz ensemble, Student Activities Council, University game room, Student Government, University publications such as the West Georgian and Eclectic, and intramural athletics.

In addition to the three budgets, the West Georgia Foundation, Inc., a non-profit corporation dedicated to the advancement of West Georgia, provides funding for scholarships, equipment, and services not funded by state appropriations. The Alumni Association section of the Fact Book supplies additional information about the West Georgia Foundation.

*By State law the period of fiscal operation is the Fiscal Year, beginning July 1 of any year and ending June 30 of the following year.

Reporting

The format for the Fact Book shows information as provided in the University of West Georgia Financial Report. It accurately reflects the financial position of the University.

All revenue sources and expenses for all fund groups (Resident Instruction, Auxiliary, Student Activities, Sponsored, Continuing Education, Indirect Revenue, and Technology Fees) are combined with as much detail as previously provided. Totals for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2008 have been audited. Totals for the year ending June 30, 2009 are actual revenue and expense amounts and are still subject to changes following the State audit. Totals for the current year are original budgeted totals. Total expenditures do not include capitalized amounts such as equipment over $5,000 and library collections.

Campus Facilities and Grounds

Campus Planning and Facilities

University of West Georgia's Department of Campus Planning and Facilities consists of the Office of the Assistant Vice President for Campus Planning and Facilities, Campus Planning and Development, Risk Management/Environmental Health and Safety, and Facilities and Grounds. Its mission is to professionally operate, maintain, and support the development of quality facilities, grounds, and services, and to support the campus community, students, faculty and staff. Through their efforts they support the university's commitment to the pursuit of academic excellence in a personal learning environment with cost-effectiveness, safety and in an environmentally responsible manner.

Facilities and Grounds is comprised of the Work Information Center, Maintenance, Motor Pool, Custodial Services, Moves/Set-ups, Paint Shop, Construction and Landscaping, and Grounds Maintenance. The function of repair and routine maintenance, energy management, and special projects are scheduled, performed, and managed for the more than 1.7 million square feet of building floor space. Displaying an ongoing and pleasing attitude to its customers, the staff is always willing to address any needs or concerns any given time, seven days a week.

UWG's campus is considered to be one of the most beautiful in the University System of Georgia. Landscaping and Grounds Maintenance continue a long tradition of systematic landscaping that began in 1919 when Fourth District A&M School Principal, John H. Melson, solicited gifts of trees from each of the then forty-eight states for transplantation to the school campus. UWG landscapers care for the many plant species residing on the almost 400 acre campus. They also construct and maintain irrigation systems, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, and athletic fields. A University nursery cultivates plants for seasonal, new, or replacement landscaping.

Campus Planning and Development provides expertise for all planned works. The department has architectural, engineering, and drafting capabilities within the design group. The department also acts as project managers for contracted work, which happens often due to the scope of work involved and/or the time constraints imposed by the priority level of a project.

The mission of Risk Management/Environmental Health and Safety Department (RM/EHS) is to protect UWG's students, visitors, faculty and staff through training, education, hazard abatement and information dissemination. Additionally, they will assist in the preparation of the students for the future in the area of environmental health and safety. RM/EHS ensures that all activities conducted on campus either meet or exceed requirements set by local, state and federal agencies, thus enhancing the overall working environment while fully supporting the education mission on campus.

Information Resources and Technology

http://www.westga.edu/library/

As the academic heart of the campus, the Ingram Library provides both online and in-house collections and services to meet curricular needs. The four story building of some 85,000 square feet provides seating space for 700, an electronic classroom, a conference room, small group study rooms, lockable faculty carrels, and computers and other equipment for accessing materials retained in print, online, recorded, and micro formats. Wireless access to internet resources is available throughout the building.

The library is named in honor of Irvine Sullivan Ingram, the institution's first president. The glass enclosed lobby overlooks a study garden designed in honor of Maurice Townsend, fifth president of the university. The lobby area provides study tables and casual seating where patrons may enjoy food and drink while accessing the wireless network, working individually or in small groups, or browsing through the new books, current newspapers, and periodicals on display. Ingram Library houses a collection of student and faculty art, including "The Prophet," a bronze by Gary Coulter, presented by the Class of 1968, which stands at the entrance, and "Sporangium Disseminating Spores," a large ceramic installation by Cameron Covert and Bruce Bobick, completed in 1980. Rotating displays of student art and writing inspired by programs developed by the Thomas B. Murphy Holocaust Teacher Training and Resource Center, which is located on the second floor of the library, may be viewed in the Center and in the lobby.

Library collections include over 400,000 cataloged volumes, over 1,100,000 microforms, over 11,000 audiovisual items, and more than 20,000 maps and charts. The library provides access to some 15,000 print and electronic serials, including magazines, scholarly journals, and newspapers. As a selective depository for federal documents, the library houses an extensive collection of United States government publications and provides access to government information available in online and other electronic formats.

The library participates in state and regional consortia, facilitating extensive access to the collective resources of university system and other libraries. The library catalog, provided through Georgia Interconnected Libraries (GIL), lists materials available in Ingram Library collections, and provides links to catalogs of other libraries. West Georgia students, faculty, and staff may request books from any university system library through the online GIL Express service, a feature of the universal catalog, and they also have check out privileges when visiting system libraries. In addition, the University of West Georgia is a member of the Atlanta Regional Council for Higher Education (ARCHE), which allows students, faculty and staff to utilize the resources of member libraries.

Ingram Library provides interlibrary loan service through its web site, facilitating the borrowing of books from libraries throughout the country. Articles requested through interlibrary loan are transmitted to patrons electronically.

Library users have access to Georgia Library Learning Online (GALILEO), an online library of databases, full text electronic journals, and reference resources available to all Georgians, as well as to an extensive range of electronic materials selected to support the university's academic programs. All licensed electronic materials are available to university students and faculty through any computer with internet access. By providing access to an extensive range of online materials, developing an electronic reserve system and online request systems for obtaining materials from other libraries, the library ensures that students enrolled at the university's remote class sites and in online courses are afforded the same level of library support as those who attend classes on the Carrollton campus. Fax and courier services to off campus class sites, and arrangements with libraries in Newnan and other locations also support off campus students.

The Annie Belle Weaver Special Collections area on the third floor of Ingram Library provides access to information about the history of the university and the geographic area it serves. Photographs, family histories, and other materials associated with the west Georgia region are included in Special Collections, as are materials on sacred harp music and American psalmody. A special effort is being made to acquire the manuscript collections of individuals who have represented the region in state or national legislative bodies. One of the most notable collections is that associated with Georgia's Political Heritage Program, begun by university faculty in 1985. The collection includes taped interviews with state and national leaders, among them most of Georgia's post-World War II governors, U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young, U.S. House Speaker Newt Gingrich and Georgia House Speaker Tom Murphy. Senator Herman Talmadge was the first interview subject for the program. The Talmadge collection is particularly significant as it includes some thirty-five interviews taped between 1985 and 1995 as well as interviews with his staff and some of his supporters.

Information about library programs and services is distributed through publications available in the building, and through the library web site. An online newsletter chronicles developments within the library, while an online announcements site outlines upcoming events, programs and classes.

The library pursues an aggressive instruction program. A for-credit course, which is part of Area B of the core curriculum, is taught in the library's computer-enhanced classroom as well as via the web. The course is designed to orient students to doing research in academic libraries and to critically evaluating information resources. Throughout the semester students may register on the library web site to attend basic library skills classes addressing various topics. In addition, classes tailored to specific assignments and other types of customized instruction are developed for upper-level and graduate courses. Individuals seeking assistance with library resources and research needs can utilize reference services at the reference desk, via telephone, and through the online AskAL service available through the library web site.

Thomas B. Murphy Holocaust Teacher Training and Resource Center

The Thomas B. Murphy Holocaust Teacher Education Training and Resource Center, administered by the Georgia Commission on the Holocaust and located on the second floor of Ingram Library, is the only Holocaust center in the United States devoted to teacher training located in a state-supported institution. With the study of the Holocaust as a catalyst, the Center encourages and supports human understanding and dignity by developing programs to open minds and hearts to the appreciation of all of humankind. The Center's multimedia resource collection includes books, videotapes, archival, and electronic materials augmented by resources available within the collections of Ingram Library. Working collaboratively with academic departments and area organizations, the Center provides curriculum development assistance, teacher conferences, staff development seminars, exhibits, and other programs.

Information Technology Services

http://www.westga.edu/its/

Information Technology Services (ITS) provides technology leadership and support to all areas of the University of West Georgia community. ITS offers a wide variety of services, from user assistance and training, to the planning and maintenance of the campus technology infrastructure. Providing this range of services makes ITS role a very challenging one. To successfully meet the challenge, ITS is continually upgrading the services and equipment that are available to the campus community.

ITS manages the campus' administrative and residence hall data and telephone networks, as well as the computer systems that proved email, web, and other mission critical services. High-speed Internet access is provided through a link to PeachNet, operated by the University System of Georgia. Wireless access is available in most academic buildings, and in common areas of the residence halls. Student computer labs are located in the College of Business, the Technology-enhanced Learning Center, the College of Education, and the University Community Center. Many of these labs are used for instruction; however, the University Community Center computer lab is an open lab for general use.

Information Technology Services is also responsible for the installation, maintenance, and training of the classroom Audio Visual (AV) equipment. A wide-range of AV technology, including cameras, microphones, sound systems, and projectors is also available for checkout. In addition, ITS provides multimedia services including creation, modification, duplication and format conversion for graphic images, videos, and audio media. Scanning of documents, pictures, negatives and 35 mm slides is also available.

History

The Department of Institutional Research and Planning at West Georgia was established in 1967. Through various studies, IRP evaluates the University culture by investigating campus community norms and values. Research findings aid the administration in determining the institutional climate and provide a basis for policy analysis and identification of potential problems. In the early 1980's, University of West Georgia was the first University System of Georgia institution to conduct institutional retention studies. Retention studies indicate causes of attrition, and such studies analyze retention-attrition behavior and provide a basis for policy revisions, such as establishing alternative admissions criteria and strategic enrollment planning.

Mission

The University of West Georgia's strong commitment to "Educational Excellence in a Personal Environment" is central to the mission of the Department of Institutional Research and Planning. The Department has, as its primary mission, the collection of data (from both internal and external sources) and the timely analysis, distribution, and presentation of information for use in planning, decision-making, and policy formulation at the University.

The Department is also responsible for ensuring the accuracy of vital university statistics and for reporting these data to a broad spectrum of stakeholders including regulatory entities, management, faculty, private organizations, parents and the general public. Another major function of the Department is to respond to diverse requests for data from members of the University community as well as the public at-large and to assist with research, evaluation and analysis.

Institutional Research and Planning also serves as records custodian for the University of West Georgia. In this capacity, it promotes an efficient administration and management of State governmental records in compliance with the Georgia Records Act and the Georgia Open Records Act. Institutional Research and Planning also advises departments on appropriate recordskeeping techniques and systems

Institutional Research supports the University development efforts by providing institutional information for external fundraising projects, conducting case studies for use in fund drives, and providing information necessary for data-based development strategies. Institutional Research techniques routinely provide evidence that development efforts may utilize to assess their own effectiveness and to consider the viability of new development strategies.

Goals

The Department of Institutional Research and Planning adopted the following goals to facilitate institutional effectiveness and to foster mechanisms to assess results:

- Serve the executive functions of the institution by providing a reliable and proactive data-based support to enhance decision making.
- Promote an improvement of West Georgia's planning process in compliance with the Board of Regents' policies and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' criteria.
- Generate data, information, and analytical reports on institutional research topics designed to improve information usage in the planning process at the University.
- Provide support to facilitate institutional assessment geared toward institutional effectiveness.
- Provide systematic collection and reporting of standard institutional, regional, environmental, and studentcentered information for institutional planning and assessment.
- Reply in a punctual manner to spontaneous requests for data, descriptive information, and analytical reports.
- Provide guidelines and standards to various departments for establishing and maintaining successful individual records management programs that comply with the Georgia Records Act and the Open Records Act.

Institutional Research and Planning Website

The IRP website is a repository of data and information, providing ready access to all UWG stakeholders for data-based decision-making.

To facilitate and maintain a data-driven environment for planning and decision making, the Department of Institutional Research and Planning makes data easily available to all stakeholders through its interactive website. The site is continually updated to provide current data and ensure unaided access and correct interpretation of the data posted.

From March 2010 to March 2011, 755 unique visitors used the website with total visits of 4,194 which resulted in 16,449 page views. On average, the visitors reviewed about 4 pages and spent an average of 4 minutes on the site. Of the total site users, 82.5 percent were returning visitors while 17.5 percent were new visitors.

About 17 percent of the visitors accessed the site just once. Another 26 percent visited the site from 2 times to 25 times per year. It is encouraging that the bulk of the website users (57 percent) frequently made good use of the site by returning more than 25 times per year. It is the hope of the Department of Institutional Research and Planning that more faculty and staff will be using this site for collecting relevant data about UWG for evidence-based decision making on campus.
