Office of the President

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff Colleagues, Alumni, and Friends of the University:

We refer to the University of West Georgia as a land of opportunity, for a number of reasons.

First, our land literally presents us with a great deal of opportunities, as evidenced by the growth of our campus. We have recently begun construction on a state-of-the-art nursing education building, we have completed a visual arts building, and we've erected the largest residential facility to date on campus, Center Pointe Suites.

We've also opened a new bookstore and completed a major renovation of Ingram Library that includes a replica of the office of the late Thomas B. Murphy, longtime speaker of the Georgia House of Representatives.

UWG also is a land of opportunity because of its outstanding academics.

It's rare to find an institution that provides as many opportunities for undergraduate research as UWG does. The national success of our students in undergraduate research competitions continues to be outstanding. The 106 programs of study offer students a choice of majors and degrees that can fit their skills and ambitions.

Our enrollment has grown, recently reaching a record of more than 11,600, including more than 10,000 undergraduates, also a record. But our class sizes remain ideal for learning life lessons. We are large enough to expose students to a variety of diverse opinions and opportunities, yet small enough to let each student find a niche that enables success.

Our land of opportunity also presents a vibrant campus life for students, faculty, staff and the community. The university and the local area benefit from the cultural enrichment, educational opportunities and entertainment that have become a regular part of the scene at UWG. Whether you're taking in an international festival, a lecture by a renowned expert, a concert by a dynamic musical act or an exciting sporting event, UWG provides a fantastic venue.

Meanwhile, this land of opportunity continues to produce students, faculty and staff who prove that amazing things happen when you Go West.

UWG placed highly in a national ranking of online learning programs, WebMBA programs and online graduate nursing education programs compiled by U.S. News and World Report. UWG's debate teams won one national competition and finished near the top of the pack in another, continuing a tradition of success. The campus of UWG earned a Tree Campus USA designation, recognizing our environmental stewardship.

And the Princeton Review once again recognized UWG as a Best Southeastern College and named the Richards College of Business to its 300 Best Business Schools list. Both national recognitions are based on a survey regarding the college's academic programs and student satisfaction, as well as the university's student body and campus life.

At the University of West Georgia, we are blazing trails to new possibilities for scholarly achievement, creative expression, and service to humanity. Go West!

Onward and Upward, West Georgia!

Sincerely,

History

The University of West Georgia, a four-year institution of the University System of Georgia, is a co-educational, residential, liberal arts institution located in Carrollton, Georgia.

Carrollton, the seat of Carroll County, is about an hour drive from Atlanta. According to the 2010 Census estimate, Carroll County has a population of 110,527 with retail shopping, medical, educational, entertainment, financial, and recreational services, making it one of Georgia's fastest growing industrial areas.

The University of West Georgia was established in 1906 as the Fourth District Agricultural and Mechanical School, one of twelve such institutions by the State of Georgia between 1906 and 1917. Twenty five years later, an Act by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia changed Carrollton A&M School to West Georgia College, a junior college. Dr. Irvine S. Ingram, principal of the A&M School, was named the institution's first president. In 1939, the Board of Regents authorized the College to add a three-year program in elementary education.

In 1957, the institution was authorized to confer the B.S. degree in education, making it a four-year college within the University System of Georgia. Two years later, West Georgia College added the Bachelor of Arts degree in English, history, and mathematics.

During the following years, West Georgia College became one of the fastest growing institutions of higher learning in the South. From an enrollment of 576 in 1957, the institution's student body reached a milestone of 11,646 in fall 2011. West Georgia offers twelve undergraduate degrees with majors in 49 different fields.

In 1967, the Board of Regents authorized the establishment of a graduate program at the master's level. Currently, the degrees offered are bachelors, masters, doctorates, post-baccalaureates, post-masters, and education specialists.

In 1983, the Board of Regents approved the External Degree Program as a cooperative effort between Dalton College and West Georgia. The Board of Regents in 1988 approved opening the Newnan Center, a joint effort of the Newnan-Coweta Chamber of Commerce and other businesses, civic and educational leaders in the area. With an enrollment of 399 in fall 2011, the Newnan Center provides access to higher education for residents of Coweta County.

In June 1996, the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia officially changed the name of West Georgia College to the State University of West Georgia and to the University of West Georgia in 2005.

The Campus

The campus is a unique blend of old and new. Boasting numerous cultivar of trees, shrubs, and flowers, the campus is dotted with structures of the early 1900s, as well as buildings exemplifying the most contemporary modes of architecture.

West Georgia began as an A&M school in 1906 on the three-block-long expanse shaded by old oak, elm, and maple trees that surrounds a number of brick buildings and stretches into a semi-circle on front, or "Old Campus."

A modern academic complex composed of a library, social science, humanities, and math-physics buildings lies beyond the "Old Campus." A business school annex was added in 1985. Other buildings in the area include a three-story student center, a three-story campus center, and a health services building. A performing arts center, containing two theatres, a black box and a main stage, which seat 250 and 455 respectively was completed in 1989.

The focal point of the University's core curriculum classes is situated across from the Performing Arts Center—the Technology-enhanced Learning Center (TLC). The $20 million, 110,000-square-foot, three-story, state-of-the-art building was completed in the summer of 2001. Academic departments housed in the TLC include Computer Science, English, Chemistry, and History. The defining feature of the TLC is the “smart” classrooms, or studio classrooms, in which every student has a computer at his or her desk. Other features include three lecture halls, a seminar room for each department, one general-purpose computer lab, and several chemistry labs, in addition to faculty offices. In the lecture halls, students have a place to plug in their laptops, and in the lobby area, computer screens offer students a chance for a quick revision of their assignments between classes. Labs and lectures are integrated, and experiments are done on computers. The University believes that this high-tech teaching method increases student learning and is proud to be one of only three institutions in the University System of Georgia to use this technology.

Much of the University's other recent physical development occurred on the Westside of campus. The Education Center, a structure unique in the University System, contains five large lecture-demonstration rooms, which by moving the sliding partitions serve as a 1,000-seat auditorium. It also features an instructional materials center, television and sound recording studios, an audiovisual laboratory and dark room, counseling rooms, group observation rooms, study carrels, and other areas for independent study.

Adjacent to the Education Center is the Biology Building, a facility with numerous laboratories, lecture halls, and the latest scientific equipment. The Education Annex, a 42,000-square-foot facility, opened in 1995. This facility houses education and nursing faculty offices, classrooms, laboratories, and the campus day-care center.

A complete renovation of the University's baseball complex was made possible by a gift from the E. Woodfin Cole family in Carrollton. The 20,000-square-foot, two-level Murphy Field house provides offices for all athletic personnel, a football locker room, academic support area, sports information offices, a sports medicine area, and meeting rooms.

In fall 2009, the University of West Georgia opened a 262-bed Greek Village. The Village includes a community building, outdoor basketball and volleyball court, outdoor green space, parking, and half a dozen six-bed townhouses. Each house has a living/chapter room, kitchen, laundry facilities, single and double bedrooms, and semi-private bathrooms. The university now has 3,045 beds available to the students.

The Coliseum opened January 2009; a 6,500 capacity facility is the home for UWG Wolves basketball and volleyball programs and the Department of Health, Physical Education and Sports Studies. Its schedule includes athletic and community events, classes, concerts, corporate meetings, local high school graduations, and UWG orientations.

In September 2009, West Georgia Wolves opened its 9,000-seat football stadium. The facility, located on approximately 250 acres, will be completed in stages to include locker rooms, weight and training rooms, several athletic programs, and offices for the Athletics Department.

Kennedy Interfaith Chapel and Bonner House are two of the oldest buildings on campus. The Chapel was owned first by the Episcopal Church and later by the Catholic Church. When the local parish built a new church, its members donated the Chapel to the University for non-denominational use. In 1964, after the Chapel was moved to the campus, the late Robert F. Kennedy dedicated it to the memory of his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

The Bonner House, constructed in 1843 as a plantation home, is the oldest building on campus. The frame colonial structure has served various purposes through the years.

The Strategic Plan, 2010 - 2015

UWG's Four Strategic Guiding Principles

1. Academic Programs Balancing Liberal Arts with Professional Preparation
2. A Campus that is Safe, Engaging, and Exciting
3. Steady and Intelligent Enrollment and Resource Growth
4. Meaningful Engagement with Off-campus Communities

The Strategic Plan is designed to shape the University of West Georgia for the next five years in such a way as to place it as a destination university, particularly among peer universities in the state of Georgia and among those universities in the nation granting doctoral degrees in programs that balance liberal education with professional preparation. In addition to this bold pledge of shaping, creating, and maintaining such a distinctive educational mission as expressed in its degree programs, it also promises to be a leader in campus safety and campus life. That is to say, West Georgia will be guided by a commitment to a safe and engaging campus. West Georgia predicts a growing enrollment, and the University is committed to a steady and smart growth that together with careful resource management will enhance our primary mission of academic excellence in a personal environment. Finally, we are committed to our external community from Atlanta to India to Japan, but we are quite mindful of our local community of Carrollton, Georgia, and will build on all of our current obligations of giving students opportunities for service work in the community even as we invite the community into our campus and thus work together to develop our neighborhood as a recognizable university village.

The Four Guiding Principles and Twelve Goals

Guiding Principle 1: The University will develop and support a distinctive set of quality academic programs ranging from bachelors to doctorates that blend the best of professionalized liberal education, experiential learning, and individual transformation.

Learning communities that are available to students will include communities organized by living arrangement, by year in program, by other co-curricular associations – Honors Program, Advanced Academy, Band, Athletics, Debate, or program in the major.

Goal 3: The University will endeavor to increase enrollment in and graduation from graduate programs, including doctoral programs, that have as their mark a practical professional purpose, experiential learning opportunities, and an intellectual program informed by a foundation of liberal education.

Guiding Principle 2: Every responsible agency of the University will be dedicated to creating a safe, supportive, and engaging campus life.

Goal 4: The University will maintain an environment that is safe and conducive to learning.

Goal 5: The University community will provide a balanced variety of cultural, recreational, leisure, and informal education programming opportunities for faculty, staff, and students that enhance the quality of campus life.

Goal 6: All units will strive to improve the compensation and working environment.

Students are referred to other medical personnel or facilities for special services such as x-ray, surgery, and dentistry. Medication necessary for treatment is usually available at the Center. In addition, many tests performed in the Health Center laboratory are covered by the student's health fee. Health Services saw 27,167 patients and filled 52,372 prescriptions in Fiscal Year 2011.

The Department of Housing and Residence Life provides a living/learning community environment that complements the educational process of the University. Ten residence halls house more than 3,000 West Georgia students. Unmarried freshmen that do not reside with parents within a thirty-mile radius of the University are required to live on campus. We offer co-ed and single gender housing options for students who live on campus. Co-ed residence halls have separate areas for men and women, typically separated by wings. Residence halls provide students with the convenience of being close to campus life and its activities as well as comfortable and attractive surroundings. On campus living provides each student with the community living experience, which fosters the development of disciplined minds, social conscientiousness, and responsibility for governing hall affairs. In addition, the department offers a variety of social, educational, and recreational programs which are provided to promote individual growth and development.

Intercollegiate Athletics

<http://www.uwgsports.com/>

University of West Georgia (UWG) Athletics is a member of NCAA Division II and the Gulf South Conference (GSC), one of the oldest and most prestigious conferences in Division II. The university currently offers 12 varsity sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, football, men's and women's golf, women's soccer, women's softball, women's tennis and women's volleyball.

UWG proudly boasts athletic facilities that rank among the finest of any Division II program in the nation. Since 2009 six teams have moved into new, state-of-the-art home venues. The Coliseum serves as home to the men's and women's basketball and volleyball teams; softball and soccer have moved into new, on-campus home stadiums, while UWG football now plays its home games in University Stadium.

The new homes for football, soccer, and softball are part of the sprawling UWG Athletic Complex. Beyond the new playing sites, this facility includes a women's field house for the soccer and softball programs, a soccer practice field, football practice fields, and the soon-to-be completed Athletic Office Building that includes locker room and training room facilities. Beyond, plans are on the drawing board for a new baseball facility and other improvements within the coming years.

West Georgia teams are no strangers to success. From a 1974 Men's Basketball National Championship to the 1982 NCAA Football, UWG Athletics continues to be a strong contender in Gulf South Conference and NCAA events. Men's Basketball has participated in eight NCAA Regional Tournaments and 13 GSC post-season events since 1994. In 2002 the team won both the GSC and NCAA South Region titles, thus earning the school's first ever berth in the Division II Elite Eight. Baseball captured the GSC title in 1998, earning the right to host the NCAA South Central Regional. UWG captured the tournament to earn a berth in the Division II World Series. Beyond, the football program won GSC titles in 1997, 1998 and 2000, and has advanced to the NCAA Division II Playoffs on four separate occasions.

Women's volleyball earned GSC Tournament berths from 2004-2007, winning the school's first GSC title and advancing to the NCAA Tournament in 2007. Women's basketball has a lengthy record of accomplishment, including two GSC titles (1992, 1994) and advancing to the NCAA Tournament in many occasions, most recently in 2008.

Both men's and women's cross country teams enjoy long records of GSC success, combining for eight league crowns since the mid-1990s. In 2000 the women's cross country team captured the NCAA South Region title, and in 2003 claimed the league's individual title. Both programs continue to be among the GSC's best and appear regularly in the regional rankings.

Women's soccer and men's and women's golf have made a big contribution to the university's winning tradition. The soccer program has advanced three times to the GSC Tournament. Both golf teams have enjoyed success in regular season and GSC Tournament play, including the men's team twice (2007, 2009) qualifying a player for the NCAA Regional Tournament.

Women's tennis was re-introduced as an intercollegiate sport at UWG during the 2010-11 academic year. After a 10-year absence, the program has already shown significant growth, and prospects for future success are very bright.

Athletics has always played a major role in campus life at the University of West Georgia. The commitment is now stronger than ever to field successful teams with talented student-athletes who succeed in both the classroom and on the field of play.

The Administration

Administrative Organization

The University System of Georgia

In 1931 Georgia State government reorganized and created the University System of Georgia's Board of Regents, which unified Georgia public higher education under one governing and management authority.

The Board of Regents is a State constitutional board responsible for governance, control, and management of its member institutions. The governor appoints members to the Board, who each serves seven years. The Board is composed of 18 members, five are appointed from the state-at-large and one from each of the 13 congressional districts. The Board elects a chancellor who serves as chief executive officer and chief administrative officer of the University System.

The Board oversees the 35 colleges and universities that comprise the University System of Georgia, Skidaway Institute of Oceanography and the Georgia Public Library System. These institutions enrolled approximately 318,027 students in fall of 2011 and employed 41,680 faculty and staff to provide teaching and related services to students and the communities.

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia is located at:

270 Washington Street, SW
Atlanta, Georgia 30334, U.S.A.

University System of Georgia Strategic Plan

Transforming the System, Changing Lives, Strengthening the State

The Board of Regents has developed a Strategic Plan that will guide and focus the actions of many toward continuing the great tradition of educating more Georgians to a higher level than at any time in history.

The Strategic Plan defines six broad goals designed to ensure the investment that the citizens of Georgia have made in their system of public higher education continues to serve the needs and transforms the lives of future generations.

For more information on the University System's Strategic Plan, go to: <http://www.usg.edu/strategicplan/>

The six strategic goals:

1. Renew excellence in undergraduate education to meet students' 21st century educational needs.
2. Create enrollment capacity to meet the needs of 100,000 additional students by 2020.
3. Increase the USG's participation in research and economic development to the benefit of a global Georgia.
4. Strengthen the USG's partnerships with the State's other education agencies.
5. Maintain affordability so that money is not a barrier to participation in the benefits of higher education.
6. Increase efficiency, working as a System.

The Chancellor and the Central Office staff are responsible for administering the affairs of the University System of Georgia under the general direction of the Board of Regents.

University of West Georgia

The President is responsible to the Chancellor for the operation and management of the University. The president is a member of the General Faculty, Chair of the President's Advisory Committee, Chair of the General Faculty, and ex officio member of all standing committees of the Senate.

The President's Advisory Committee, the Administrative Council, the Planning Council, and the Technology Coordination Council when requested by the President, shall advise on policy recommendations forwarded to the President by the Faculty Senate.

Distance and Distributed Education Center

<http://uwgonline.westga.edu/>

Distributed Education is the term used to describe alternative learning environments whereby faculty draw on appropriate technology to provide instruction outside of the traditional classroom. The distributed model can be used in combination with traditional classroom-based courses or it can be used to create distance education courses, in which most learning occurs independent of time and/or place. In the University System of Georgia, if more than 50 percent of instruction in a course is delivered via distance technologies, it is classified as a Distance Education course.

Through its Distance and Distributed Education Center, the University offers credit classes to students at times and locations outside of the traditional classroom. The University of West Georgia was one of the first institutions in the University System of Georgia to offer full or partial online credit courses. The courses utilize the internet to deliver materials, assignments, facilitate discussion, and other appropriate interactions. Distance or Distributed credit courses are delivered fully or partially online through two-way live videoconferencing or through a combination of technologies.

A primary function of the Distance and Distributed Education Center is to provide support services and training for faculty and students participating in these courses. The Center also provides opportunities for collaboration and research for those who manage and administer Distance and Distributed Education programs throughout the nation through its online academic journal, its online non-credit certificate program, and its annual conference. For more information about Distance or Distributed Education, visit the Honors House, telephone 678-839-6248, or visit the University website.

Continuing Education

<http://www.westga.edu/conted/>

The Department of Continuing Education and Public Services has emerged as the extension of the traditional on-campus learning process. Non-credit classes are developed and offered to citizens of the University community at convenient locations and with flexible schedules to accommodate a wide variety of participants.

The mission of Continuing Education is to identify and provide non-credit educational opportunities that will enhance the quality of life for local citizens and provide training support to business and industry that will serve as a catalyst for economic development.

The CEU is defined as ten contact hours of participation in a qualified continuing education program. The CEU is recognized as the national standard for measuring an individual's participation in a non-credit program. Programs qualifying for CEU credit are referred to as Category I. Category I activities are designed to enhance occupational skills, and individual permanent records as transcripts are maintained. Courses that are designed primarily for personal enrichment and are social, cultural, or recreational in nature are referred to as Category II courses. No permanent individual records or transcripts are maintained for Category II courses.

Off-Campus Programs

The Board of Regents approved and established a West Georgia satellite campus in Newnan, Georgia in August 1988. The Center currently offers degree and non-degree programs.

Approved by the Board of Regents August 2002, as a cooperative effort between Georgia Highlands College and the University of West Georgia, the External Degree Program services students in the Floyd County area who wish to continue formal education beyond the associate degree.

Student Financial Aid

Fiscal Years 2008 - 2011

The Office of Financial Aid coordinates financial assistance for nearly seventy-two percent of West Georgia's students. Office staff determines eligibility for aid awarded by the University and record aid received by students from other sources, such as the University of West Georgia Foundation, corporations, and individuals. The Office coordinates all student financial aid awards and reports all aid awarded to students attending the University to the Board of Regents, federal government, and University officials.

Research and Sponsored Projects

Office of Research and Sponsored Projects

<http://www.westga.edu/oso/>

History

The University of West Georgia established a central office to administer research grants and other sponsored projects in 1967. University reorganization in 1973 placed responsibility for sponsored projects, grants, contracts, budgeting of funds from sources external to the University, and institutional research in the Office of Instructional and Research Services. By 1980, that unit became the Division of Budget and Research Services, reporting to the President of the University. In Fiscal Year 1996, Sponsored Operations was placed under the Vice President for Academic Affairs and was renamed the Office of Research and Sponsored Projects (ORSP) in 2011.

Services Rendered

The Office aids and supports faculty, staff, and student efforts to secure funds from sources external to the University in support of instructional, research, and service programs. The compliance specialists accomplish this through Pre-Award and Post-Award by: 1) matching faculty/staff/student interests and needs with appropriate funding sources; 2) routing requests for proposals (RFPs) to specific faculty/department/program personnel; 3) assisting faculty/staff/students in developing applications and proposals; 4) negotiating and receiving all awards; 5) overseeing financial management of all awards; 6) ensuring compliance with expenditure regulations; 7) overseeing time and effort reporting; 8) tracking expenditures, prepare invoices and financial reports; 9) overseeing all grant and contract compliance functions including the Institutional Review Board (IRB), Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC), and Institutional Biosafety Committee (IBC); and, 10) providing staff development through grants preparation/administration workshops and seminars.

The ORSP staff provide the day-to-day services necessary to support all program activities funded from sources external to UWG and provide support for the administration of the internal Faculty Research Grant program.

The Associate Vice President for Research and Sponsored Projects recommends all external contracts, proposals, and grants, and monitors institutional performance under such agreements.

UWG secures grants, gifts, and contracts from federal, state, and local government agencies, corporations, and private foundations. This external funding and other revenue enable the University to fulfill its official mission to emphasize creative teaching, encourage research, and promote the development of human resources through educational programs.

Goals

The Research and Sponsored Projects Office established the following strategic goals:

1. To promote and support the instructional, research, and public service missions of UWG.
2. To encourage University units and individual faculty, staff, and student efforts in seeking funds from external agencies in support of instructional, research, and public service projects.
3. To monitor the internal Faculty Research Grant Program in compliance with established institutional policies and procedures.
4. To assist faculty, staff, and students in efforts to comply with federal and state statutes, state of Georgia laws, and University System policies.
5. To aid faculty, staff, and students in securing increased support for University research and other sponsored activities from federal, state, corporate, and private foundation sources.

Faculty Research Grants

Fiscal Year 2011

In addition to resources acquired from external sources, the University budgets state-allocated funds to assist faculty research efforts through the Faculty Research Grant Program. Established in 1967, the Faculty Research Grant Program provides limited seed funding for approved faculty research projects.

Financial Information

Budgeting and Assessment Cycle

The University of West Georgia operates under three major budgets: the Resident Instruction Budget, the Auxiliary Enterprises Budget, and the Student Activities Budget. Each serves a distinct purpose.

The Resident Instruction Budget is funded from state appropriations, student tuition and fees, and dedicated funds received from sources external to the University System of Georgia. Resident Instruction Funds support instruction, research, libraries, the computer center and laboratories, Student Services, the administrative and service offices of West Georgia, a portion of the maintenance of the physical plant, and academic scholarships and fellowships.

The Auxiliary Enterprises Budget is self-supporting and operated on a profit/loss basis. Auxiliary Enterprises generate revenue from residence hall rentals, meal ticket sales, bookstore sales, vending machine sales, student health and athletic fees, parking fees, and parking fines. Auxiliary Enterprises funds support the operation of the residence halls, dining rooms, the University Bookstore, network support, vending machines, bus service, health services, traffic operations, intercollegiate athletics (as of FY 93) and, provide funds necessary to maintain a portion of the University's physical plant.

The Student Activities Budget is funded by student activities fees and the Campus Center Facilities fee. Student Activities funds support various activities including choral and instrumental organizations, art exhibits, debate team, jazz ensemble, Student Activities Council, University game room, Student Government, University publications such as the West Georgian and Eclectic, and intramural athletics. The Campus Center Facilities fee covers the debt service for the facility in addition to the cost of operating the facility.

In addition to the three budgets, the West Georgia Foundation, Inc., a non-profit corporation dedicated to the advancement of the university, provides funding for scholarships, equipment, and services not funded by state appropriations. The Alumni Association section of the Fact Book supplies additional information about the West Georgia Foundation.

*By State law the fiscal operation period is the Fiscal Year, beginning July 1 of any year and ending June 30 of the following year.

Reporting

The format for the Fact Book shows information as provided in the University of West Georgia Financial Report. It accurately reflects the financial position of the University.

All revenue sources and expenses for all fund groups (Resident Instruction, Auxiliary, Student Activities, Sponsored Research, Continuing Education, Indirect Revenue, and Technology Fees) are combined with as much detail as previously provided. Totals for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2010 have been audited. Totals for the year ending June 30, 2011 are actual revenue and expense amounts and are still subject to changes following the State audit. Totals for the current year are original budgeted totals. Total expenditures do not include capitalized amounts such as equipment over $5,000 and library collections.

UWG campus is considered to be one of the most beautiful in the University System of Georgia. Landscaping and Grounds Maintenance continues a long tradition of systematic landscaping that began in 1919 when Fourth District A&M School Principal, John H. Melson, solicited gifts of trees from each of the then forty-eight states for transplantation to the school campus. UWG landscapers care for the many plant species residing on the 645 acre campus. They also construct and maintain irrigation systems, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, and athletic fields. A University nursery cultivates plants for seasonal, new, or replacement landscaping.

AEC Project Services provides expertise for planning and construction work. The department has architectural, engineering and drafting capabilities within the design group. Because of the continuing growth and changing needs of the University, they often act as project managers for contracted work.

The mission of Risk Management/Environmental Health and Safety Department (RM/EHS) is to protect students, visitors, faculty, and staff of the University through training, education, hazard abatement, and information dissemination. Additionally, they assist students in preparing for the future in environmental health and safety. RM/EHS ensures that all activities conducted on campus either meet or exceed requirements set by local, state, and federal agencies, thus enhancing the overall working environment while fully supporting the education mission on campus.

Information Resources and Technology

Irvine Sullivan Ingram Library

<http://www.westga.edu/library/>

As the academic heart of the campus, Ingram Library provides online and in-house collections and services to meet curricular needs. The four story building of some 85,000 square feet is open 24 hours a day from Sunday afternoons through Friday evenings, and during the day on Saturday. The main floor of the library is designed for individual and group study, and features areas for group project development. A full-service Starbucks, entered on the west side of the library, faces Love Valley and the Campus Center. The library facility contains electronic classrooms, conference rooms, small group study rooms, and computers and other equipment for accessing materials retained in print, online, recorded, and micro formats.

Wireless access to internet resources is available throughout the building. Student Technology Assistants are on duty at all hours to help patrons with technology-related needs, and with laptops and other equipment available for student check-out for in-house use. Individuals seeking assistance with library resources and research needs can utilize reference services at the reference desk on the main floor of the library, via telephone, and through the online QuestionPoint 24/7 chat reference service available through the library web site. Individuals may book appointments with librarians through the GoPRO (Personalized Research Option) to explore resources to support their research.

Library collections include some 400,000 cataloged volumes, over 1,100,000 microforms, over 11,000 audiovisual items, and more than 20,000 maps and charts. The library provides access to some 400 electronic databases and some 50,000 print and electronic serials, including magazines, scholarly journals, and newspapers. As a selective depository for federal documents, the library houses an extensive collection of United States government publications and provides access to government information available in online and other electronic formats.

The library participates in state and regional consortia, facilitating extensive access to the collective resources of university system and other libraries. The library catalog, provided through Georgia Interconnected Libraries (GIL), lists materials available in Ingram Library collections, and provides links to catalogs of other libraries. West Georgia students, faculty, and staff may request books from any university system library through the online GIL Express service, a feature of the universal catalog, and they also have check out privileges when visiting system libraries. In addition, the University of West Georgia is a member of the Atlanta Regional Council for Higher Education (ARCHE), which allows students, faculty and staff to utilize the resources of member libraries. Ingram Library provides interlibrary loan service through its web site, facilitating the borrowing of books from libraries throughout the country. Articles requested through interlibrary loan are transmitted to patrons electronically.

Library users have access to Georgia Library Learning Online (GALILEO), an online library of databases, full text electronic journals, and reference resources available to all Georgians, as well as to an extensive range of electronic materials selected to support the university's academic programs. All licensed electronic materials are available to university students and faculty through any computer with internet access. By providing access to an extensive range of online materials, developing an electronic reserve system and online request systems for obtaining materials from other libraries, the library ensures that students enrolled at the university's remote class sites and in online courses are afforded the same level of library support as those who attend classes on the Carrollton campus. Fax and courier services to off campus class sites, and arrangements with libraries in Newnan and other locations also support off campus students.

The library pursues an aggressive instruction program. LIBR 1101, a for-credit course which is part of Area B of the Core curriculum, is taught as a face to face class, or students may register for online sections of the course. LIBR 1101 is designed to orient students to doing research in academic libraries and to critically evaluating information and media resources. Library instruction sessions tailored to specific assignments are developed for undergraduate and graduate courses at the request of faculty.

The library is named in honor of Irvine Sullivan Ingram, the institution's first president. The glass enclosed lobby overlooks a study garden designed in honor of Maurice Townsend, fifth president of the university, and the Thomas B. Murphy Reading Room, which honors Georgia's longest-serving House speaker. Speaker Murphy's State Capitol office was re-created on the library's ground floor to honor his service to the state. The Murphy office installation is supported with panel and digital exhibits exploring Georgia history from the Depression era through the twenty-first century.

The library's Annie Belle Weaver Special Collections provides access to information about the history of the university and the geographic area it serves. Photographs, family histories, and other materials associated with the west Georgia region are included in Special Collections, as are materials on sacred harp music and American psalmody.

A special effort is being made to acquire the manuscript collections of individuals who have represented the region in state or national legislative bodies. One of the most notable collections is that associated with Georgia's Political Heritage Program, begun by university faculty in 1985. The collection includes taped interviews with state and national leaders, among them most of Georgia's post-World War II governors, U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young, U.S. House Speaker Newt Gingrich and Georgia House Speaker Tom Murphy. Senator Herman Talmadge was the first interview subject for the program. The Talmadge collection is particularly significant as it includes some thirty-five interviews taped between 1985 and 1995 as well as interviews with his staff and some of his supporters. Special Collections is joined by the Department of History's Center for Public History and the Department of Political Science & Planning's Thomas B. Murphy Center for Public Service, which maintain offices and student work space on the library's ground floor to support the university's Center for Civic Engagement.

Ingram Library's Penelope Melson Society, the library's friends organization, was founded during the library's centennial in 2008. The Society supports author visits, presentations by scholars, book discussions, nationally-touring exhibits, exhibit talks, and docent-led tours of exhibits for groups. Members of the Melson Society founded the Second Century Collection to extend library collections. Penelope Stevens Melson, 1879-1969, wife of John Holland Nelson, first principal of the Fourth District Agricultural & Mechanical School, the predecessor of the University of West Georgia, founded the institution's first library in 1908 and volunteered as its librarian until the couple moved to Hogansville, Georgia in 1920. Mrs. Melson's service as a community leader who secured educational and training opportunities for the less fortunate provides inspiration for the ongoing development of the library she founded.

Thomas B. Murphy Holocaust Teacher Training and Resource Center

The Thomas B. Murphy Holocaust Teacher Education Training and Resource Center, administered by the Georgia Commission on the Holocaust and located on the second floor of Ingram Library, is the only Holocaust center in the United States devoted to teacher training located in a state-supported institution's library. With the study of the Holocaust as a catalyst, the Center encourages and supports human understanding and dignity by developing programs to open minds and hearts to the appreciation of all of humankind. The Center's multimedia resource collection includes books, videotapes, archival, and electronic materials augmented by resources available within the collections of Ingram Library. Working collaboratively with academic departments and area organizations, the Center provides curriculum development assistance, teacher conferences, staff development seminars, exhibits, and other programs.

Information Technology Services

<http://www.westga.edu/its/>

Information Technology Services (ITS) provides technology leadership and support to all areas of the University of West Georgia community. ITS offers a wide variety of services — from user assistance and training, to planning and maintenance of the campus technology infrastructure. Providing this range of services makes ITS role a very challenging one. To successfully meet the challenge, ITS is continually upgrading services and equipment that are available to the campus community.

ITS also manages the campus' administrative and residence hall data and telephone networks, as well as the computer systems that provide email, web and other mission critical services. High-speed Internet access is provided through a link to PeachNet, operated by the University System of Georgia. Wireless access is available in most academic buildings and in common areas of the residence halls. Student computer labs are located in the Richards College of Business, Technology-enhanced Learning Center, College of Education, and Ingram Library. Many of these labs are used for instruction; however, the Library computers are available for general use.

History

The Department of Institutional Research and Planning at West Georgia was established in 1967. Through various studies, IRP evaluates the University culture by investigating campus community norms and values. Research findings aid the administration in determining the institutional climate and provide a basis for policy analysis and identification of potential problems. In the early 1980's, University of West Georgia was the first University System of Georgia institution to conduct institutional retention studies. Retention studies indicate causes of attrition, and such studies analyze retention-attrition behavior and provide a basis for policy revisions, such as establishing alternative admissions criteria and strategic enrollment planning.

Mission

The University of West Georgia's strong commitment to "Educational Excellence in a Personal Environment" is central to the mission of the Department of Institutional Research and Planning. The Department has, as its primary mission, the collection of data (from both internal and external sources), and timely analysis, distribution, and presentation of information for use in planning, decision-making, and policy formulation at the University.

The Department is also responsible for ensuring the accuracy of vital University statistics and for reporting these data to a broad spectrum of stakeholders including regulatory entities, management, faculty, private organizations, parents and the general public. Another major function of the Department is to respond to diverse requests for data from members of the University community and to assist with research and analysis.

Institutional Research and Planning also serves as records custodian for the University of West Georgia. In this capacity, it promotes an efficient administration and management of State governmental records in compliance with the Georgia Records Act and the Georgia Open Records Act. Institutional Research and Planning also advises departments on appropriate records keeping techniques and guides in developing records retention schedules.

Goals

The Department of Institutional Research and Planning pursues the following goals to facilitate institutional effectiveness:

- Serves the executive functions of the institution by providing a reliable and proactive data-based support to enhance decision making.

- Generates data, information, and analytical reports on institutional research topics designed to improve the planning processes at the University.
- Provides systematic collection and reporting of standard institutional, regional, environmental, and student-centered information for institutional planning and assessment.
- Responds punctually to spontaneous requests for data, descriptive information, and analytical reports.

Institutional Research and Planning Website

The IRP website is a repository of data and information, providing ready access to all UWG stakeholders for data-based decision-making.

To facilitate and maintain a data-driven environment for planning and decision making, the Department of Institutional Research and Planning makes data easily available to all stakeholders through its interactive website. The site is continually updated to provide current data and ensure unaided access and correct interpretation of the data posted.

From March 2011 to March 1, 2012, 756 unique visitors used the website with total visits of 5,430 which resulted in 21,198 page views. On average, the visitors reviewed about 4 pages and spent an average of 4.19 minutes on the site. During this period 5,392 visitors from 42 states within the United States accessed the website. Of the total site users, 86.7 percent were returning visitors while 13.3 percent were new visitors.

About 13 percent of the visitors accessed the site just once. Another 29 percent visited the site from 2 times to 25 times per year. It is encouraging that the bulk of the website users (58 percent) frequently made good use of the site by returning more than 25 times per year. It is the hope of the Department of Institutional Research and Planning that more faculty and staff will be using this site for collecting relevant data about UWG for evidence-based decision making on campus.
