Committee IV: Academic Policies Committee (Susana Velez-Castrillon, Chair)
Action Items:

A) Proposed changes to the Faculty Handbook in the following section:

   208.04 Grade Appeals

   F. Procedures. The student is encouraged to present their concerns to the faculty member regarding their grade. If dissatisfied with the discussion with the faculty member the student can initiate the grade appeal in writing, using the Student Grade Appeal Form available from the Provost’s website.

   1. Procedural Summary. Grade appeals begin at the level of the Department Chair.

   a. Department Chair. Upon receipt of the written grade appeal, the Chair (1) consults with the faculty member and the student, (2) determines whether the grade appeal should be considered as an Academic Dishonesty Grade Appeal or a Grade Determination Appeal, (3) shares the grade appeal with the faculty member and after review the faculty member may (but is not required to) submit a narrative and any supporting documentation, (4) examines the available evidence documentation, and (5) grants the appeal and changes the grade, or denies the appeal. The Chair notifies the student of the decision in writing. If the Chair denies the appeal, the written notification to the student should explain the student’s right to appeal to the Dean (or Dean’s designee). If the appeal is denied, the student may accept the decision and end the appeal process, or request that the appeal and all associated documentation be forwarded to the Dean (or Dean’s designee).

B) Proposed changes to the Student Grade Appeal Form to reflect the new Grade Appeal Procedure:

The following statement and signature line for the faculty member will be added to the Department chair box:

“I have reviewed the student’s grade appeal and stand by the grade.”
Faculty Handbook Current Wording

208.04.

F. Procedures. The student initiates the grade appeal in writing, using the Student Grade Appeal Form available from the Provost’s website.

1. Procedural Summary. Grade appeals begin at the level of the Department Chair.

a. Department Chair. Upon receipt of the written grade appeal, the Chair (1) consults with the faculty member and the student, (2) determines whether the grade appeal should be considered as an Academic Dishonesty Grade Appeal or a Grade Determination Appeal, (3) examines the available evidence, and (4) grants the appeal and changes the grade, or denies the appeal. The Chair notifies the student of the decision in writing. If the Chair denies the appeal, the written notification to the student should explain the student’s right to appeal to the Dean (or Dean’s designee). If the appeal is denied, the student may accept the decision and end the appeal process, or request that the appeal and all associated documentation be forwarded to the Dean (or Dean’s designee).

Committee VI: Strategic Planning (Nadya Williams, Chair)
Information Item:

A) Update regarding the QEP and on-going work on Core Area B.

Committee IX: Facilities and Services Committee (Ben Steere, Chair)

A) Presentation by Mark Reeves, Auxiliary Services, about recycling efforts on campus.

Committee XII: Budget Committee (Andrea Stanfield, Chair)
Information Item:

A) Dr. Marrero informed the committee that the goal of raising all staff salaries to market entry point will be met this month. Previously, only pay grades 1-10 had been raised to the entry point. All salaries in pay grades 11-19 that are not at the market entry point will be raised. The Mercer study is now two years old, so the office of Business & Finance is looking at doing a new study in an effort to keep the pay scale current. The committee supports these efforts.

5. Old business:

   A) Peer and Aspirant Institutions (Faye McIntyre)
   B) Engagement survey (N. Jane McCandless)

6. New business

Joint Committee Report: I (UPC: Julia Farmer, Chair) and Committee VI (Strategic Planning: Nadya Williams, Chair)

Action Item:

A) QEP-mandated modifications to outcomes for Core Area B

Debra MacComb was present at the meeting in order to answer questions. She said that through a series of meetings it was determined that the proposal under consideration seemed like the most workable solution to incorporate writing in the core curriculum. Dr. N. Williams added that this goes to the General Education Committee at the BOR level. After that we will likely return to this conversation.
Camilla Gant pointed out that the proposed courses in Core Area B.2, including COMM 1110, do not meet the definition of critical cultural communication or critical communication pedagogy. She noted that oral communication is equally as important as written communication and critical thinking competencies; and that not keeping oral communication central to Core Area B would be out of synch with industry demands and USG curricular trends.

During discussion, Ms. Pashia motioned to remove the heading “Applied Writing” after “B1” and “Critical Communication” after “B2.” This motion was seconded and unanimously approved via voice vote. Two corrections were also noted: ANTH 1000 should be ANTH 1100, and PHIL 2050 should be PHIL 2020. The item as amended was approved unanimously by voice vote.

This is the text of the approved item:

[Subsequent to this meeting, Provost Micheal Crafton arranged for the USG General Education Council to review this proposal. They indicated that they would not approve ENGL 1101L as a core course. It follows that we cannot implement the proposal as approved by the Senate. The Director of the QEP is working with the Senate’s Strategic Planning and Undergraduate Programs committees and with the departments currently teaching in Area B on a revised implementation plan for the QEP.]

The Committee recommends that the word “three” (below) be changed to “two” in the Faculty Handbook, page 11.

103.02 Procedures

By the end of the first week of fall semester classes, the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs shall establish the date by which recommendations shall be submitted at each level of the promotion/tenure process. Any faculty member who meets the criteria for promotion and tenure established herein and who desires to be considered shall submit a dossier to his or her department chair, library supervisor, or other designated supervisor (in the absence of a department chair). Department chairs or supervisors shall see that dossiers are organized uniformly according to the appropriate criteria specified. Each dossier shall include, at a minimum, the following:

- a curriculum vitae;
- the three two evaluations of teaching effectiveness and performance of allied duties specified in Section 103.05 and 103.06;
- any letters of recommendation which the department chair has received;
- reprints of scholarly publications or other evidence of scholarly or creative work.
Item approved unanimously by voice vote.

Committee IX: Facilities and Services Committee (Ben Steere, Chair)

Strategic Plan for Facilities (Brendan Bowen): Presentation of the Space Utilization Study completed by Comprehensive Facilities Planning, Inc.

Mr. Bowen and three members of Comprehensive Facilities Planning, Inc. (Brian Bell, Jim Pallovan, and Tom Bowen) spoke about the results of a three-year study of classroom and office utilization at UWG. It was noted that their PowerPoint presentation will be posted online. Here are some highlights:

- WRH is weekly room hours; it is the number of hours per week per room (#hrs/wk/rm).
- Student occupancy is not much different over the last three years.
- The usual peak is 86%.
- Daily M-Th is around 23%, except Fri. at 7.2%.
- Classrooms are not fully utilized.
- The study grew out of the Master Plan. Only some (I and III) of the 9 categories were studied, and labs were not one of the categories studied.
- A basic study of office utilization was conducted in 2011. There were 398 faculty offices then. In 2013, there were 405. (This does not include deans and administrators.) They are generally one faculty member per room and each space averages 142 or 143 square feet. We have 419 faculty right now in 405 rooms, so we are using our space pretty well. Adjunct faculty have 24 offices with 2 to 3 to a room. Graduate assistants have 45-50 offices, with greater than 2 occupants per room. We have enough office space to accommodate faculty, but there is not a lot of wiggle room for growth.

Committee XII: Budget Committee (Andrea Stanfield, Chair)

FY2016 Budget Prioritization: Presentation by Myrna Gantner, Assoc. VP for Academic Affairs.

Dr. Gantner spoke with the aid of a PowerPoint presentation that was delivered at yesterday’s Town Hall meeting. There are two parts to the budget cycle: 1) the State budget cycle, and 2) West Georgia’s. This is the FY2016 budget cycle. We will know by May what we get. Education accounts for 25% of the State budget. Revenue is up 5.2%, but we compete with other interests, like the Affordable Care Act, etc. Performance-based funding will start in 2017. Across the USG, freshmen and sophomore enrollments are down, but upperclassmen and graduate student enrollments are up, ameliorating the situation somewhat. There is $7.62M in new money from enrollment funding.

Dr. Gantner talked about the budget exercise that UWG has started. USG institutional funding will be based on whether an institution’s enrollments are up or down. Ours is up, so we will model a 3% increase. Those institutions that are down must model reductions based on the actual decrease. It is very unlikely that a reduction will occur for us. We went from just over 70% to 74.8% retention. If there is new money, what are the top priorities? Pay attention to: 1) UWG Strategic Plan; 2) USG Strategic Plan; 3) CCG/RPG (Complete College Georgia/Retention, Progression, Graduation) when creating your plans. For new positions, model salary plus 20% for fringes and $7500 for health insurance. Model the budget cuts over a three-year period, as well. Finalize work in your departments/with deans by October 22. Models go from the deans to the provost by November 5, then the provost and president will wrestle with it. It was noted that equity and merit are not part of this exercise. Increases in graduate and undergraduate tuition are being planned.

It was noted that the Biology Building is high in the USG priorities.

5. Old business

A) Sustainability Council (Hannes Gerhardt): Presentation about sustainability by consultant, Jessica Rose.

Ms. Rose of Incite Sustainability gave a Prezi presentation of a UWG Sustainability Roadmap. Ms. Rose’s organization conducted an assessment and did a SWOT analysis. They are developing a roadmap timeline for these elements, which are necessary for success: 1) Foundation and Framework; 2) Projects and Initiatives; 3) Culture and Communication. Ms. Rose gave an example of a Walking Campus. Her organization has provided some deliverables—postcards, posters, and a video shown to frosh. Next steps that she mentioned include the appointment of Hannes Gerhardt as Sustainability Director and Princeton Review’s Green Schools ranking. A report is available on the Go Green website.

6. New business

A) Presentation of 2015 Holiday Schedule by Juanita Hicks
B) Presentation of 2015 Benefits by Juanita Hicks

Ms. Hicks spoke about benefits first. She outlined a number of changes to insurance for healthcare, dental, Minnesota Life/Disability, and the tobacco surcharge. The Benefits Fair is Tuesday, October 14, 9:00-3:00 in the Z-6 lower level. Open enrollment is November 3-14. Every employee must go online and enter their selections, including the surcharge question.

The Open Access POS plan is becoming the Comprehensive Care Plan. This premium will decrease by 6%. Dental is going up 11.8%.

Ms. Hicks agreed to have her presentation posted by Tuesday.

Regarding holidays: please e-mail Faculty Senate Chair Elizabeth Kramer if you want to comment or express an opinion.

7. Announcements

There were no announcements.

8. Adjournment

The meeting adjourned at 5:11 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Shelley Rogers,
Executive Secretary of the Faculty Senate and General Faculty

GEOL 7203 OCEANOGRAPHY FOR TEACHERS
SYLLABUS

Instructor: Dr. David Bush, Callaway Building, Room 206, (678) 839-4057, dbush@westga.edu

Textbook: It is not essential to have a textbook. If you want one for reference you can use any textbook and if you are computer savvy you can get by without one. There are so many good oceanography web sites that you can access information about any topic with just a short search. We will use PowerPoint slide shows and notes I have compiled. They are available on line via the CourseDen class home page.

OCEANOGRAPHY CONCEPTS: Oceans comprise almost three quarters of the earth’s surface, yet we know less about some parts of the ocean than we do about distant planets. Oceanography is not a separate science, but the application of all sciences to the study of the oceans. We often think of oceanography as having four main branches: geological oceanography (size and shape of ocean basins, how did the ocean basins form, composition of the ocean crust, and the sediments covering the sea bottom), chemical oceanography (chemical properties of water and the materials dissolved in it), physical oceanography (movement of ocean water--waves, tides, currents), and biological oceanography (environmental zones of the ocean and the plants and animals that fill them). Environmental science, ecology, engineering, meteorology, even law and art, are also branches of study often applied to oceans. During this course we will take a look at different aspects of ocean study and how they often relate to one another. We will also gain an appreciation for ocean resources and the linkage between the global ocean and Earth’s atmosphere.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES: By the end of the course, you should be able to:
- Discuss the four main branches of oceanography and other subordinate branches
- Identify major sea floor topographic features
- Describe the three oceans and their main features, chemistry, and geologic history
- Explain the unique properties of water, and discuss how water makes life on Earth possible
- Define and describe physical aspects of oceans including waves, tides, and currents
- Identify environmental zones in the oceans and the diverse types of oceanic life occupying them
- Use a computer effectively, emphasizing use for CourseDen communication
- Develop an oceanography section tailored to your specific teaching needs
- Ask questions, share thoughts, and debate in an online discussion

The overall goal of "Oceanography for Teachers" is to present fundamental principles, concepts, and information about the oceans in such a way that will be useful for elementary, middle, or secondary school teachers.

CLASS FORMAT: The class will be Web-based but you will be doing most activities independently. We will be working straight from the PowerPoint slide show lectures and notes, and using CourseDen for discussions and other communication. We will not meet in person. Try to do all our communication via the CourseDen mail function instead of my regular email. That will help me keep my thinking straight.

DISCUSSION PAGE: An important part of the class is participation in on-line discussions. The discussion page is accessible via the link on the course navigation bar near the top of the home page. You will see a forum named “Discussions.” Within that forum I have set up several discussion topics. You are required to initiate at least two discussions within any of the topics. To do so, open a topic and click the “Start a New Thread” button. Post a comment about a newspaper or magazine article, or a television show; or maybe a question you have always had about the oceans; or perhaps you noticed something interesting on a family trip to the beach or on a cruise, or that you read in a book. Anything goes as long as it is somehow related to oceanography. I have initiated a thread under “Geology” to start things off.

Similarly, everyone to respond to posts as often as possible. You do that by clicking on a thread and then clicking on the “Reply to Thread” button.

You are also expected to read all posts in all threads in all topics within the discussions forum. This takes the place of class discussions if we met in person. By the end of the course you will find a wealth of information within the discussions. A pdf file of all the discussions will be available at the end of the semester.

ASSIGNMENTS:

1. Read and review all 24 PowerPoint lecture slide shows and accompanying notes.
2. Seek out additional information for each topic, as necessary. Feel free to pursue aspects of oceanography that you find interesting. Use the on-line resources presented, and look for additional material.
3. For each of the 24 topics, find one internet resource that can be used as the basis for an on-line activity, and design an activity based on that internet resource. It may include simply answering some questions about material presented on the site, or perhaps interpreting data presented. Use your imagination. Anything goes. Make it appropriate to the grade you will be teaching. By the way, seek out internet sites that you are pretty sure are permanent. For example, government or major research institutions.
4. Participate in discussions on-line. See explanation of Discussion Page above.
5. As a semester project, prepare a lesson plan for an oceanography section that you could actually use. Feel free to take any material from my PowerPoint lectures, or from any other source (make sure you attribute the source of the material). Prepare an outline of the material you would present in your class. Obviously, there is way more information presented in the 24 topics that you could possibly use. Pare it down to something manageable for your needs.
6. There is a “Dropbox” on the class web page. Submit your lesson plan by July 15.
8. Finally, give a quick look through the lesson plans of your classmates. Please make any comments or suggestions positive or negative. You can then revise your lesson plan (if warranted) and resubmit it before the end of the term.

The goal of the course is to provide students with the theoretical and analytical tools needed to understand the history and current processes of American foreign policy. The course will incorporate current events in American foreign policy, as well as historical discussion, as a means of demonstrating the academic concepts of the course in practice.

Learning Outcomes:

Students in this course will learn critical thinking skills and the ability to analyze diverse perspectives, and they will learn how to evaluate American foreign policy in its historical and contemporary political context. This course will also help students to improve their writing, research, and communication skills. The writing assignments and exams will assess students’ knowledge and skills in these areas.

Assessment:

Students’ final grades will be determined as follows:
   Midterm exam (take-home)  20%
   Research paper           30%
   Class participation / emails  25%
   Take-home final exam essay  25%

There will be no opportunity for extra-credit assignments in this course.

Grading Methodology: This university does not use a plus / minus grading system, but during the course of the semester, I will use plus / minus grades, as well as split-letter grades (e.g., an A-
In computing final course grades, I convert all grades into numeric scores according to the following system:

- A = 95
- A/A- = 94
- A- = 92
- A-/B+ = 90
- B+ = 88
- B+/B = 87
- B = 85
- B/B- = 84
- B- = 82
- B-/C+ = 80

(A similar pattern is used for grades in the C-range and D-range).

In computing final course grades, a grade average of 89.5 or higher converts to a course grade of A, a grade average between 79.5 and 89.49 converts to a course grade of B, and a grade average between 69.5 and 79.49 converts to a course grade of C. A grade average of 59.5, which converts to a D, is the lowest possible passing grade in the course.

A-range grades, including the grade of A-/B+, are reserved for work that is of exceptional quality. In order to receive an A-range grade on an essay assignment, a student’s essay must show evidence of original thinking and the ability to synthesize information from a wide variety of sources, as well as an accurate understanding of the material and good writing technique. Papers that receive a grade of 90 or above must be cogent and persuasive in their argumentation, and they must be well written and tightly organized around a strong thesis. In short, a paper that receives an A-range grade not only meets the basic requirements for the assignment, but also demonstrates that a student has mastered the interpretative, analytical, and writing skills expected for a course at this level.

B-range grades are given to essays that demonstrate a student’s accurate understanding of the material, adequate use of the assigned documents, and competence in writing. They rarely contain the sophisticated analysis required for an A-range essay, but they meet the requirements and expectations for the assignment.

C-range grades are given to essays that contain factual inaccuracies, errors in interpretation, inadequate use of the assigned documents, or poor writing technique, even though they usually meet most of the basic requirements for the assignment.

D-range and failing grades are assigned to work that fails to meet the requirements and expectations for the assignment.

Exams: There will be take-home midterm and final exams. Both exams will consist of broadly-based essay questions relating to themes covered in the course readings and lectures throughout the semester. I will give you the exam questions one week before each exam, and you will have a week to write 8-10 pages in response to those essay questions.
Research paper: You will be required to write one 15-18 page research paper for this course. The research paper should focus on an aspect of contemporary American foreign policy or the history of American foreign policy since 1898. Consult the online guidelines for research papers for more information about this assignment.

Papers that are turned in after the assigned date will be marked down 1/3 of a letter grade for each day they are overdue.

It should go without saying that all papers that you write must be your own work, and that any students who are caught plagiarizing another student’s work, a paper from a web site, a textbook, or any other source will automatically fail this course and may be subject to further disciplinary action. Plagiarism is a serious offense that will not be tolerated. Please look at the course website to find guidelines on proper footnoting procedures and avoiding inadvertent plagiarism.

All of your written work for this class must be original; you are not allowed to submit essays that you have written for other courses or that you have completed prior to this semester.

Class participation and email assignment: Classes will consist of interactive lectures, which will give you a chance to ask questions and discuss concepts related to the history of American foreign policy. In addition, there are five class periods reserved for discussion of the assigned books. It is very important for you to read these books prior to the class discussions so that you can come to class prepared to participate. Failure to attend these discussions will adversely affect your class participation grade. I do not have a formal attendance policy, but since students cannot participate in class discussions if they do not attend class, habitual absences, as well as habitual silence in class throughout the semester, could negatively affect a student’s class participation grade.

Your class participation grade will also be based on email book summaries that you are required to submit for each of the books assigned in this course. Each of these emails is due by 10pm on the evening before the date on which we are scheduled to discuss the book in question. I will not assign these emails a letter grade, but I will instead treat them as I would comments that you make in class, and I will consider their content when I formulate class participation grades at the end of the semester. I will also distribute copies of these emails to all of the members of the class for their consideration in preparation for our class discussions. For more information on this assignment, please consult the guidelines for the email summaries that are posted on the course website.

There will also be two scheduled graduate discussions of books assigned only to the graduate students in this course. Your class participation grade will be based partly on your participation in these discussions.

Class communication: I may send out periodic email communiqués to students in this course, so please check your UWG email account regularly. The university administration has stipulated that all email communication between faculty and students should take place on UWG email accounts, so please use your UWG email account for all electronic communications that you send me.
University policy also prevents me from disclosing grades over email, so if you would like to discuss your grade on any assignment in the class, please set up an appointment to meet with me in my office. Please do not email me with a request for your grades, since I am not allowed to email that information to you.

To protect students' privacy rights, I will not return graded papers or exams to any third party (e.g., a student's friend or relative who asks to pick up a student's work on that person's behalf) unless a student gives me permission in writing (e.g., an email) to do so. There are occasions when I must disclose a student's grade to university administrators, other history department faculty (e.g., the department chair), or athletic coaches who need to know the academic status of students on their team, but in all other cases, I will make every effort to maintain the confidentiality of students' grades.

I would like to do whatever I can to help you succeed in this course. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have a question about any subject pertaining to this class. I make it a priority to respond promptly to emails from students, and I am happy to talk with students during my office hours, so please feel free to stop by my office to introduce yourself and discuss any concerns that you may have about this course. I believe that this will be an excellent semester, and I'm pleased to welcome you to this class.

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING

Evaluation and Grading:

Grading for this course is based on total points assigned. Your average will be determined by dividing the total of points you earned for the assignments by the total points possible. Assignments are not listed in order; pay attention to due dates!

Grades that influence your final average include but may not be limited to the following:

- Field Experience Evaluations by cooperating teacher 50 points
- GA Virtual School TOOLS 50 points
- GA Virtual School projects 50 points
- Discussions 50 points (10 pts x 5)
- Reflections 140 points (20 pts x 7)
- Video activities 50 points (25 pts x 2)
- Microteachings 100 points (50 pts x 2)
- Unit Plan 100 points
- Strategies for meeting the needs of special populations 165 points (55 pts x 3)
- Reflective analysis of teaching strategies 100 points

Class Grade

- A = 90 - 100 % of points
- B = 80 - 89 % of points
- C = 70 - 79 % of points
- F = 0 - 69 % of points

650 points TOTAL
Assignments:

Always refer to CourseDen for additional assignment details! Assignments are not listed in order; pay attention to due dates!

1. Online Field Experience Evaluations/Projects. Refer to CourseDen for due dates. Course Objectives 1-10. Through a field experience partnership with Georgia Virtual School, you will be assigned to a cooperating teacher in your content area and have access to his/her online course. To prepare for this experience, you will work on modules designed for best practices in online teaching, develop online course content, and present during synchronous online course meetings.

2. Unit Plan. Due on CourseDen and Tk20. Course Objectives 1-10. This is the critical assessment for this course. You will develop a unit plan of 5 lessons in the subject area of your certification area, with a focus on active student engagement through flipped instruction.

3. Microteachings. Due on CourseDen. Course Objectives 1, 2, 8, 9. You will create two video-based lessons, and critique those of your classmates.

4. Discussions. Refer to CourseDen for the five due dates.
   There will be five discussions on CourseDen that coincide with assigned readings and/or class activities. Further instructions, including topics to discuss, will be posted on CourseDen. For each of the discussions, you should make a minimum of four entries.

5. Reflections. Refer to CourseDen for due dates. There will be seven reflections on CourseDen that coincide with assigned readings and/or class activities. Further instructions, including topics, will be posted on CourseDen. For each of the five reflections, you should write a narrative essay in response to the topic, and upload your MSWord document to the dropbox. Although these are personal responses, this is not a casual composition like your online postings – part of your evaluation will be of your writing skills, so prove to me that you can write an essay!

5. Readings and Commentaries: Strategies for meeting the needs of special populations. Objectives 3-7.
   - In the Discussions, I will have posted an article that demonstrates best practices for teaching the special population.
     - Read my article and
     - post a commentary as a reply, either to my original post or to a post of one of your classmates. This is intended to be a discussion, so keep the conversation going!
   - Find an article that you feel is important for addressing the population from a teaching perspective. You may not select an article that has already been posted in the discussion, so pay attention to those who have posted ahead of you!
     - “Compose” a new discussion topic with the title of your article as the title of your discussion.
     - In your discussion,
       - attach either a PDF of or a hyperlink to the full-text article and
       - include the following information with a short paragraph for each:
         - brief summary of the article (what is the main point for the population?),
         - explanation of how the information presented in the article does/could affect or apply to your classroom, and
         - explanation of how the article is significant to the field of education.
   - Review the articles posted by your classmates.
     - Select five to read in detail and
     - post a commentary as a reply, either to the original post or to a post of one of your classmates, then
     - respond to each of your classmates who commented on the article you posted. This is intended to be a discussion, so keep the conversation going!
Tentative Schedule

This is a general plan for this course. Be aware that this schedule may change as the semester progresses! Any/all changes will be announced in class and reflected in the weekly assignment postings on CourseDen.

- College: Master of Education with a Major in Media (School Library Media)
- Program Name: MEET 7444 Designing Technology Enhanced instruction is moved into the Instructional Technology core
- Degree Name: Graduate
- Effective Semester/Year: Spring 2015

Rationale
Modifications will allow candidates to be eligible for certification in both school library media and instructional technology fields within the 36-hour master’s program. This change will make us more competitive with other institutions. This modification will add a third concentration choice of School Library Media/Instructional Technology, and will need to be built into Banner as a concentration.

Reason

Modifications will allow candidates to be eligible for certification in both school/library media and instructional technology fields within the 36-hour master's program. This change will make us more competitive with other institutions. This modification will add a third concentration choice of School Library Media / Instructional Technology, and will need to be built into Banner as a concentration.

Planning Info

- Library Resources are Adequate
- Library Resources Need Enhancement

- Is this a SACS substantive change? NO

- Present or Projected Annual Enrollment: 65

Comments

- Master of Education with a Major in Media (School Library Media) AND Master of Education with a Major in Media (Instructional Technology) are on the same program sheet; modifications will impact both concentrations.
