Committee XIII: Rules Committee (Chair, Chris Aanstoos)

Action items:
A) A Proposal to Specify the Meaning of “Consultation” in the Faculty’s Shared Governance Role - MOTION: To clarify and improve the consultative role of the faculty in the shared governance of the university, it is recommended that the Policies and Procedures be revised to the following (highlighted material = additions):

Article I, Section 1,F:
The President, in consultation with the Faculty Senate and other representatives of the University community, shall determine the divisional organizational structure necessary for the orderly, effective, and efficient administration of the University’s affairs...

Article II, Section 1,D:
The President, in consultation with the Faculty Senate and other representatives of the University community, shall determine the divisional organizational structure necessary for the orderly, effective, and efficient administration of the University’s affairs...

Article III, Section 2,D:
The President, in consultation with the Faculty Senate and other representatives of the University community, shall determine the divisional organizational structure necessary for the orderly, effective, and efficient administration of the University’s affairs.

Motion approved by voice vote.

B) A Proposal to Provide Support for the Chair of Senate - MOTION: To amend the Policies and Procedures, Article IV, Section 2,B. The addition to read as follows:

4. Support
To support the effective carrying out of his or her duties, in due recognition of the time commitment of such service, the Chair of the Faculty Senate shall receive reassigned time of one-course per semester or the equivalent. In consultation with the individual’s supervisors up through the level of the Provost, there may be an alternative of an equivalent stipend. In the case of reassigned time, the Chair’s home department shall be compensated by an amount sufficient to hire a part-time instructor to fill the gap left by the course release.

Motion approved by voice vote.

C) A Proposal to Include the Chair of the Senate on the President’s Advisory Committee - MOTION: To accept the proposal of the President to include the Chair of the Senate among those who shall be invited to participate in meetings of the President’s Advisory Committee.

Motion approved by voice vote.
D) A Proposal to Further Define the Role of the Executive Committee - MOTION: To replace Article IV, Section 2,E of the Policies and Procedures.

The following editorial changes were suggested: 1) Delete “appointing an ad hoc elections committee” (Aanstoos); 2) change from oversee to overseeing (Mbaye )

No objections to editorial changes were voiced.

The current Article IV, Section 2,E of the Policies and Procedures to be replaced with:

E. The Executive Committee. The Faculty Senate shall include an Executive Committee with the following functions and composition.
1. Functions. The Executive Committee shall have broad responsibility for:
   a. planning and facilitating the activities of the Senate, including the following functions:
      assign senators to Senate standing committees and subcommittees; create ad hoc Senate committees and assign senators; assign senators to such non-senate university committees, task forces and search committees as may be needed; propose any legislation to the Senate the Executive Committee may deem appropriate.
   b. overseeing the election of the officers of the Senate, including receiving nominations, organizing and supervising elections, monitoring compliance, adjudicating challenges, and certifying the results.
   c. interviewing candidates for university-wide positions and provide evaluations to the appropriate search committees.
2. Composition. The Executive Committee shall be composed of the chairs of the Senate standing committees, the Chair of the Senate, the Past Chair of the Senate, the Executive Secretary of the Senate, the President of the University, and the Provost of the University.

Motion was approved by voice vote.

E) A Proposal to Revise the Allocation of Senators – MOTION: To replace Article IV, Section 2,A,5 of the Policies and Procedures.

After discussion it was recommended that only the methodology for arriving at the numbers of senators, rather than the numbers themselves, should be included in the polices. As a result, it was moved that the preamble be approved:

Each college, the School of Nursing and the Library shall be allocated the number of senators equal to 10% of their full-time faculty. The Library and the School of Nursing shall elect their senators at large. For the colleges, each department within a college first elects one senator, and then the remaining senators allocated to that college are elected at-large by the college.

Motion approved by voice vote.

Modification Request:
Current Post-Bacs in our program are required to take both SPAN 4040 (Spanish Linguistic) and SPAN 4170 (Advanced Language Skills). We would like to allow students to choose one of the two as a requirement and to allow the second to be placed with an additional elective.

Rationale:

Spanish 4040 (Spanish Linguistics) and Spanish 4170 (Advanced Language Skills) are very similar content-wise. Both courses explore semantic, lexical, syntactical, and pragmatic aspects of the Spanish Language. Both courses aim to have a better understanding of the general linguistic structure of the Spanish language. Given their close similarity in content, the Spanish faculty considers that it would be more beneficial for students to take another upper-level literature or culture course whose content would explore different topics related to the Hispanic world. This change proposed would not diminish the quality of the requirements, but rather would allow for a more varied exposure to other aspects of the Hispanic world.

Addendum III
University of West Georgia Policy on Volunteers

The university benefits from the efforts of non-paid agents who contribute to overall success of the institution.

The Georgia Tort-Claims Act only extends liability coverage to non-paid agents if they are part of a structured volunteer program.

Employing non-paid agents without a program represents an uninsured financial risk to both the university and the individual.

Purpose

This purpose of this policy is to simultaneously protect the university and our non-paid agents by providing the structure required under the Georgia Tort-Claims Act.

Definitions

Community-service worker: An individual who is referred by the court or by the student judicial process and ordered to perform work as part of a disciplinary sanction or restitution.

Extended effort – An activity that employs more than one non-paid agent or is scheduled for more than one day. Excludes volunteer lecturers and consultants.

Intern: A person who works without pay as to gain practical experience as part of an academic curriculum. In reference to this policy, an individual is only considered an intern if (1) he or she conducts university business, and (2) is not paid for this work.

Non-paid agent: Any community-service worker, intern, or volunteer works for or represents the university without monetary compensation.

Single-Event Effort – An activity that employs only one non-paid agent and is only scheduled for one day. Also includes volunteer lecturers or consultants who may be working with the university for up to two weeks.

University business: Activities which are endorsed by an individual’s chain-of-command, and:

- Defined in an individual’s job description, or;
- Accomplish departmental objectives, or;
- Help support university or divisional missions, or;
- Contribute to efforts that are specifically identified by USG or the State of Georgia.
University employee: Any individual who performs work for, and receives a paycheck from, the university, including student assistants, graduate assistants, paid interns, and those who are enrolled in a contracted-employment program.

Volunteer: A person who voluntarily offers himself or herself for a service or undertaking without pay.

Text
Departments shall not employ the services of non-paid agents (community service workers, volunteers, non-paid interns) unless a structured program is in place.

A basic structured volunteer program is required for all single-event efforts. This program includes:
- Adherence to the all applicable laws, codes, and regulations, including USG and UWG policies, and the Fair Labor Standards Act.
- Tasks and objectives that support or accomplish university business.
- A defined volunteer structure that is coordinated by a university employee.
- An effort to ensure that volunteers are made aware of their rights, responsibilities, and restrictions, and documentation that this effort has been accomplished.

An extended structure volunteer program is required for all extended efforts. This program must include all requirements of the basic structure volunteer program as well as:
- Volunteer orientation and training.
- Documentation, including a volunteer roster, completed training, and an acknowledgement of rights, responsibilities, and restrictions.

Rationale for Program Modification

Proposal on Modifying the Planning Program

Prepared by Hee-Jung Jun, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor in Political Science and Planning

1. Changing the Planning Program Title

The Master of Science in Rural and Small Town Planning program is a graduate program in the Department of Political Science and Planning at UWG. This program has existed over 20 years and produced a number of planners, working in the public, non-profit, and private sectors around the state of Georgia.

However, enrollments of the program have declined over time. One of the potential reasons for declining enrolments is its name. The program’s name, Rural and Small Town Planning, is too narrowly focused to attract more students. Although Rural and small town planning is certainly a division of the planning discipline, planning activities are more active in urban areas and at the regional level. Thus, a majority of schools use urban and regional planning or city and regional planning that cover urban planning, rural and small town planning, and regional planning. According to the directory of planning schools at the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning (ACSP) website, none of the planning schools are named with Rural and Small Town Planning. This further highlights that the narrow name has made potential students away from the program.

Currently, the Provost Office is concerned about declining enrollments in graduate programs. The planning program has a lot of potentials in increasing enrollments. In spite of the current recession, both US News and World Report and the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics report that planners continue to be in demand in North America. There are promising career opportunities in planning.

In Georgia, there are only three other planning programs, Georgia Institute of Technology’s City and Regional Planning, Savannah State University’s Urban Studies and Planning, and University of Georgia’s Environmental Planning programs. Thus, the planning program at UWG can attract more students if the university properly advertises the program with changing its name to, for example, Urban and Regional Planning or City and Regional Planning.

A Urban and Regional Planning (URP) name is the most commonly used name for planning programs and most new planning programs use a URP name. In addition, “Urban” is broader than “City” and thus preferable. Therefore, the Department of Political Science and Planning proposes the Master of Urban and Regional Planning as the new name for the existing planning program.
2. Adding New Courses

The Department of Political Science and Planning also proposes changing the curriculum by adding five new courses and changing the core and elective course and requirements. In planning, there are roughly six subfields, Environmental Planning, Housing and Community Development, Land Use Planning, Planning for Transportation, Sustainable Development, and Economic Development. Except for PLAN 5701 Technology and Sustainable Economic Development, none of the courses based on these subfields is offered to students under the current curriculum. Since planners should have comprehensive knowledge to effectively work with citizens and staffs in other municipal departments, it is necessary that students at the master level take all subfields of planning. Thus, five new courses will be added as elective courses in the curriculum. The new courses are as follows:

- PLAN 5721 Housing and Community Development
- PLAN 5722 Environmental Planning
- PLAN 5723 Transportation Planning
- PLAN 5724 Sustainable Development
- PLAN 6702 Land Use Planning

As there are a planning track for undergraduate students and a public administration program for graduate students in the Department of Political Science and Planning, the department additionally requests adding the following courses:

- PLAN 4721 Housing and Community Development
- POLS 4721 Housing and Community Development
- POLS 5721 Housing and Community Development
- PLAN 4722 Environmental Planning
- POLS 4722 Environmental Planning
- POLS 5722 Environmental Planning
- PLAN 4723 Transportation Planning
- POLS 4723 Transportation Planning
- POLS 5723 Transportation Planning
- PLAN 4724 Sustainable Development
- POLS 4724 Sustainable Development
- POLS 5724 Sustainable Development
- POLS 6702 Land Use Planning
Rationale for Program Modification

3. Changing the Core and Elective Course Requirements

The Master of Urban and Regional Planning will require the completion of 36 semester hours of graduate credit. Some of the existing core courses will become elective courses and the new curriculum will have three core courses that are core courses in the present curriculum. The core courses (9 hours) are as follows:

- PLAN 5704 Planning Theory and Practice
- POLS 6202 Research Method for Public Administration
- PLAN 5786 Capstone Project or Internship

Students are required to take seven courses (21 hours) among the listed elective courses (See the attached proposed catalog). Four courses out of the seven elective courses required must be PLAN 5000 or 6000 level courses. The remaining six hours may be selected from across the University. Students may fill the remaining six hours with courses in other disciplines such as public administration, geography, economics, sociology, and history. Students can also fill the remaining six hours with the elective courses.
Rationale for Program Modification

Assessment Plan – Department of Political Science/Planning

Master of Urban and Regional Planning

Description of Assessment Methods*

Every Planning student will develop skills and gain knowledge consistent with the following learning objectives.

1. The theoretical foundations of public planning
2. The methods and techniques of contemporary planning practice
3. The substantive knowledge base necessary to study and practice in the field of planning
4. The ability to apply statistical methods to practical problems within the discipline
5. The ability to communicate their knowledge orally and in writing

Capstone Project or Internship: To evaluate whether the program has adequately prepared students to master these objectives, the Planning director will evaluate a sample of papers submitted in the required capstone or internship. Evaluations will take place every spring term. The director’s report, along with the Department’s response, will be updated every year on the website.

Exit Survey: In their final semester, prior to graduation, all students complete a questionnaire to determine the degree to which the program has achieved its states goals and to learn from the seniors what they believe are the strengths and weaknesses of the program.

Use of Assessment Results

The Director of Planning will analyze assessment findings each fall and make appropriate recommendations regarding improvements in the degree programs. Possible changes might include:

- Addition / deletion of courses or changes in course sequences
- Changes in degree requirements
- Use of assessment information to guide changes in degree programs
- Justification of past curriculum changes and to show program improvement resulting from those changes
- Changes in advising processes
- Development of program-based websites to provide students with academic and program information

*Procedures for assessment of student learning for the Master of Urban and Regional Planning will be developed as part of the overall program development to be undertaken by new faculty hired in this area.

Class Schedule

Following an overview of global housing indicators, standards and trends in weeks 1 and 2, this course is organized into four parts:

PART I: Economics of Housing Markets and Policy Choices (Weeks 3-5)
The first part of the course will introduce basic concepts of economics of housing markets from macro and micro-level perspectives. Demand and supply fundamentals in housing markets will be reviewed with an emphasis on special attributes of housing (e.g., spatial fixity, transaction costs). It will examine the organization of the home-building industry, dynamics of land markets and the performance of housing finance institutions (e.g., Fannie Mae).

PART II: U.S. Housing Conditions and Policy (Weeks 6-10)
The second part of the course will review past and current U.S. housing conditions and policy responses. Concepts (such as affordability, rent burden, overcrowding) used in preparing a local housing study/strategy/consolidated plans will be examined. The changing role of federal, state and local governments in housing delivery will be discussed. Current state and federal housing policy directions and programs (e.g. tax credits for low income housing) will be examined. The effects of housing finance policies (promoting single-family suburban homes) in shaping metropolitan spatial structure will be discussed.

PART III: Community-based housing strategies in the U.S. (Weeks 11-14)
The third part of the course will review the history of community-based economic development strategies and housing delivery by community-based institutions in urban areas. It will examine new housing types (e.g. co-housing, SROs) that have emerged in response to new types of households (e.g. female householders, nonfamily households), community-based initiatives for local economic development and affordable housing (e.g. microenterprises, density bonuses), and the role nonprofit housing builders in low-income housing delivery.
PART IV: Perspectives from Outside the U.S.: Lessons for U.S. housing policy (Week 16)
The fourth part of the course will introduce housing delivery systems, problems and policy responses in Western Europe and in developing countries.

Rationale

Sustainable Development has been one of the most significant and controversial concepts in recent decades. Planners have adopted the concept, balancing economic development, environmental protection, and equity, to bring sustainable outcomes. As most planning schools have at least a sustainable development course and the newly hired planning faculty in the Department of Political Science and Planning has an ability to teach this course, this course should be added in the curriculum.

Catalog Description of Course

Examines and understands existing land use planning methods and formats. Develops land use planning skills and gains experience by developing a land use plan.

Course Outcomes

At the end of the semester:

- Students will be able to articulate a clear vision of what constitutes an effective local land use plan and be able to describe a range of possible plan formats.
- Students will be able to specify the components of a complete land use-planning program and know where a plan fits into such a program.
- Students will have developed a dependable sense of judgment for assessing the validity, effectiveness, feasibility, strengths, and weaknesses of various land use plan-making methods and plan formats.
- Students will have learned how to go about formulating a plan in a professional manner, appropriate to the community context, and will have internalized that knowledge by actually making a plan for a small hypothetical city.

Textbooks

This course will utilize the classic land use planning text Urban Land Use Planning by Kaiser, Godschalk, and Chapin. The class will also be using a workbook consisting of exercises that take you through a complete plan-making process for a growing small hypothetical city (Hypothetical City Workbook).

Resources Used

As Geographic Information Systems (GIS) is a necessary tool to develop a land use plan in these days, the course will be held at a GIS lab. The Department of Geosciences has shared their GIS facilities with the political science and planning faculties.

Class Schedule

Following an overview of global housing indicators, standards and trends in weeks 1 and 2, this course is organized into four parts:

PART I: Economics of Housing Markets and Policy Choices (Weeks 3-5)
The first part of the course will introduce basic concepts of economics of housing markets from macro and micro-level perspectives. Demand and supply fundamentals in housing markets will be reviewed with an emphasis on special attributes of housing (e.g., spatial fixity, transaction costs). It will examine the organization of the home-building industry, dynamics of land markets and the performance of housing finance institutions (e.g., Fannie Mae).

PART II: U.S. Housing Conditions and Policy (Weeks 6-10)
The second part of the course will review past and current U.S. housing conditions and policy responses. Concepts (such as affordability, rent burden, overcrowding) used in preparing a local housing study/strategy/consolidated plans will be examined. The changing role of federal, state and local governments in housing delivery will be discussed. Current state and federal housing policy directions and programs (e.g. tax credits for low income housing) will be examined. The effects of housing finance policies (promoting single-family suburban homes) in shaping metropolitan spatial structure will be discussed.

PART III: Community-based housing strategies in the U.S. (Weeks 11-14)
The third part of the course will review the history of community-based economic development strategies and housing delivery by community-based institutions in urban areas. It will examine new housing types (e.g. co-housing, SROs) that have emerged in response to new types of households (e.g. female householders, nonfamily households), community-based initiatives for local economic development and affordable housing (e.g. microenterprises, density bonuses), and the role nonprofit housing builders in low-income housing delivery.
PART IV: Perspectives from Outside the U.S.: Lessons for U.S. housing policy (Week 16)
The fourth part of the course will introduce housing delivery systems, problems and policy responses in Western Europe and in developing countries.

Rationale

Sustainable Development has been one of the most significant and controversial concepts in recent decades. Planners have adopted the concept, balancing economic development, environmental protection, and equity, to bring sustainable outcomes. As most planning schools have at least a sustainable development course and the newly hired planning faculty in the Department of Political Science and Planning has an ability to teach this course, this course should be added in the curriculum.

The Sustainable Urban Development Reader, 2nd edition (Wheeler & Beatley)

Grading Policy

Undergraduate Students:
Student performance will be evaluated based on participation (15%); discussant lead (10%); peer evaluation (5%); 2 papers of increasing depth (30%, 40%). Participation includes in-class and online discussions related to the readings and sustainability issues in general. Students will also have the opportunity to supplement in class participation with work done outside of class. Additionally, students who are interested, may elect to present their term paper for up to 3 bonus points. The presentation will not hurt your grade; at worst it will be a non-factor.

Catalog Description of Course

Examines and understands existing land use planning methods and formats. Develops land use planning skills and gains experience by developing a land use plan.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of the semester:

- Students will be able to articulate a clear vision of what constitutes an effective local land use plan and be able to describe a range of possible plan formats.
- Students will be able to specify the components of a complete land use-planning program and know where a plan fits into such a program.
- Students will have developed a dependable sense of judgment for assessing the validity, effectiveness, feasibility, strengths, and weaknesses of various land use plan-making methods and plan formats.
- Students will have learned how to go about formulating a plan in a professional manner, appropriate to the community context, and will have internalized that knowledge by actually making a plan for a small hypothetical city.

Textbooks

This course will utilize the classic land use planning text Urban Land Use Planning by Kaiser, Godschalk, and Chapin. The class will also be using a workbook consisting of exercises that take you through a complete plan-making process for a growing small hypothetical city (Hypothetical City Workbook).

Resources Used

As Geographic Information Systems (GIS) is a necessary tool to develop a land use plan in these days, the course will be held at a GIS lab. The Department of Geosciences has shared their GIS facilities with the political science and planning faculties.
Grading Policy

The course grade will be determined by performance on six exercises and general course participation.
Exercise 1 (20%): State of the Community Report (the only individual exercise in the class)
Exercise 2 (10%): Vision Statement and Verbal Policy Framework
Exercise 3 (10%): Area-wide Land Policy Plan
Exercise 4 (25%): Community-wide Land Use Design
Exercise 5 (10%): Development Management Plan

A valid renewable Level 4 certificate (or higher) in a teaching field is required for recommendation of the endorsement to the Georgia Professional Standards Commission.

NOTE: Students must maintain a “B” average throughout the program. If a student earns a grade of “C” in a course, he/she must earn a grade of “A” in another course to compensate for the grade of “C”. A grade of “C” in a second course will result in a suspension from the program.

Online Teaching Endorsement Program (Plan H, non-degree)

Rationale:

Over the past few years, the nature and delivery of P-12 education has shifted and broadened to include hybrid course delivery combining online modules with traditional face to face instruction in brick and mortar classrooms, as well as totally online courses offered by traditional schools and virtual schools. Consequently, the Georgia Professional Standards Commission has created an Online Teaching Endorsement to provide a credential for P-12 teachers working in these new learning environments.

The proposed Online Teaching Endorsement meets the requirements for P-12 teachers to receive the Online Teaching Endorsement awarded by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission. Candidates for this endorsement must already hold fully renewable teaching certificates from the Georgia Professional Standards Commission and add instructional design and distance education competencies to meet the certification requirements. Students will be able to complete the OTE as a stand-alone program, as part of an existing Masters or EdS program, or as a focus area in the School improvement doctorate. We also anticipate that the expansion of the Georgia Virtual School, and other Virtual Schools within specific school districts, will increase the demand for teachers with this endorsement.

The endorsement includes three courses. Two courses are already offered, MEDT 7461 Instructional Design and MEDT 7472 Introduction to Distance Education. The third course is new, MEDT 7475 The Distance Education Professional.

No additional resources will be required.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The course provides an overview of systematic approaches to instructional planning, development, and evaluation.
CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Preparing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors (knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive, decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic), clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence; (b) Field-Based Inquiry; and (c) the Betterment of Society. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National and state standards (National Board for Professional Teaching Standards [NBPTS], and American Association of School Librarians) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Students will:

1. identify and describe the major steps in the systematic design of instruction. (D8 Knowledgeable; NBPTS 1,2,3,4; AASL 2); (Dick & Carey, 1995; Gagne, Briggs, & Wager, 1992; Smaldino, Russell, Heinich, & Molenda, 2005; Kemp, Morrison, and Ross, 2000; Seels & Glasgow, 1998; Reigeluth, 1999; Shambaugh, & Magliaro, 1997; Smith & Ragan, 1999; Turner & Riedling, 2003; Zook, 2001);

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICIES

Link to Conceptual Framework

The focus of this course is to provide students with an overview of and opportunities to work with a variety of systematic approaches to instructional planning, implementation, assessment, and evaluation. As students participate in the course and complete the course assignments they will have demonstrated achievement as decision maker: developing an instructional design project centered around student instruction, developing an instructional design project based on an information literacy standard or technology standard for a faculty/staff in-service (course activities 3, 4); adaptive: comparison paper describing the value of instructional design and its changing role as it relates to the changing nature of society and learners, including provisions in the instructional design project to meet the needs of diverse learners, in-service projects (course activities 2, 3, 4, 5); collaborative: developing an instructional design project collaboratively with teachers and media specialists centered around student instruction (course activities 3, 4, 8); knowledgeable: developing an instructional design project centered around student instruction, developing an instructional design project based on an information literacy standard or technology standard for a faculty/staff in-service, completing a project describing and comparing two systematic instructional design models, completing midterm and final examinations which will cover text information, class materials, and CourseDen discussions, participation in class and CourseDen discussions and activities (course activities 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8); reflective: participation in class and CourseDen discussions, comparison paper, thought provokers, describing the evaluative aspects of the instructional design project, field experience reflections, completing the reflective section of the final exam (course activities 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7).

Activities and Assessments:
1. Participation in face-to-face and on-line class activities

Face-to-face class requirements

- Students will attend and participate in all classes that are scheduled on campus, be prepared for each class by doing the assigned readings in advance, and have the appropriate materials required for class activities.
- Absence from on campus sessions may result in a lower cumulative point total. Failure to submit assignments on time will result in a loss of points. (Objectives # 1,2,3,4; disposition; teacher observation)

On-line class requirements

- Students will complete the assigned online activities by the specified timelines. Students must check CourseDen at least 3 times per week. Students can expect responses from the instructor within 48 hours. If students have any problems they are to contact the Distance Office for assistance and the instructor immediately. The help line e-mail address is on page one of this syllabus as well as the distance office e-mail address and phone number. If this fails call the Distance Learning Office and then the instructor for assistance. Remember, there are computer labs on campus for student use.
- Students need to go through the tutorials that are available by clicking on the “Student” tab at the top of the CourseDen page. Do not wait to ask for help with CourseDen. Seek assistance immediately.
- Since this is primarily an online course, you are responsible for monitoring your work time in order to complete and submit assignments by the established due dates. Assignments will be accepted late but there will be a loss of points due to the lateness of submission.
- Extra credit is not available for assignments in this course
- All student work submitted during the course is required to be original.
- Work created in another course will not be excepted unless approved by the instructor.
- All assignments must follow APA format unless otherwise specified.

(Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4; knowledgeable, reflective; teacher observation)

2. Thought Provokers and Other Discussion Topics

For each chapter in the text, students will read and respond formally to the questions and situations posted (Thought Provokers). Responses should be both reflective and significant in that your answers should include information that you expect to remember and, perhaps, use a year to five years after you complete this class. What concepts, definitions, and processes are most meaningful to you? These concepts will guide your thinking about the course content and may provoke questions and improve our class and online discussions. Students will also respond to projects developed by their classmates. Students will respond to other discussion topics posted by instructor.

(Objectives 1,2,3,4; adaptive, knowledgeable, reflective; checklist)
3. Student Instruction Design Project - Group Project

Students will discuss and reflect on the Instructional Design steps in relation to collaborative development, implementation, and evaluation of a Student Instruction project. The discussion will be completed collaboratively between students in the course and school library media specialists. Discussion groups will be assigned by the instructor based on the background and experience of students. The project will focus on a variety of grade levels and corresponding QCCs or Performance Standards and will include information literacy and technology skills.

- Specific details for the Student Instruction Design project will be posted in the “Student ID Project” backpack on the CourseDen course page.
- The work for this project will be completed and submitted periodically throughout the semester.

(Objective 3; decision maker, adaptive, collaborative, knowledgeable, reflective; rubric)

4. Faculty/Staff In-Service Design Project

Students will individually design, hopefully implement, evaluate, and revise one Faculty/Staff In-service Design Project. The project will focus on a specific information literacy standard (school library media students) or a specific technology standard (instructional technology students). The project must use specific Georgia Performance Standards as the context for the In-Service Project.

- Specific details for the In-Service project will be posted in the under “In-Service Project” backpack on the CourseDen course page.

(Objective 3; decision maker, adaptive, collaborative, knowledgeable, reflective; rubric)

5. Comparison of Instructional Design Models - Individual Project

Students will define ID, compare three specific instructional design (not research models) models, and explain why they are important in today's society. To accomplish this each student will individually research, reflect, and prepare a comparison documenting the value of instructional design today as it relates to the changing nature of society and learners and describe and compare two specific instructional design models. The comparison must include the definitions of instructional design as presented in the literature as well as the definition of instructional design as the student sees it, the value of instructional design in the schools, the role the student will play as an instructional designer in the future, and the descriptions and comparisons of instructional design models. A minimum of 5 references must be included. A list of potential resources and definitions found will be due early in the semester. Specific criteria will be posted in the “Comparison of Models” backpack on the CourseDen course page.
Reflection on Instructional Design Models

After comparing the three instructional design models, students will reflect on their comparison and describe how they would adapt the models to best meet the needs of students. Students will also reflect on the assignment and how it helped them gain a better understanding of AASL standards and College of Education Conceptual Framework descriptors. Specific criteria will be posted in the “Comparison of Models” backpack on the CourseDen course page. This assignment will be placed in Foliotek.

(Objective 4; adaptive, knowledgeable, reflective; rubric)

6. Research Models Exploration

Students will explore and compare a variety of research models that are most frequently used with students in PreK-12 schools. As each model is explored, information will be recorded on the form provided. Connections between the research models and Information Literacy Standards and Technology Standards must also be identified. After all of the specified models have been explored, students will write a comparison of the models and describe the potential use for each model.

(Objective 3; knowledgeable, reflective; rubric)

7. Field Experience Activities

Examine specific instructional roles of the SLMS through interviewing a SLMS. Discuss roles related to planning, implementing and evaluating student instruction; developing in-service materials; collection development related to Georgia Performance Standards, Information literacy standards and technology standards. Students will submit the Field Experience Log and the Field Experience Reflection Form. Field experience activities for Instructional Technology students will be developed individually.

(Objectives 2, 3, 4; knowledgeable, reflective; checklist)

8. Completion of Midterm and Final Examination Activities

The midterm and final exam activities will be completed during on-line sessions (midterm) and during our on campus session (final) and will cover the text material and other notes posted in CourseDen. The exam activities will consist of both group work and individual work. The final exam will also include a reflective activity. Students will have access to all materials to use while completing the activities.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is a general introduction to conceptual, theoretical, and practical ideas concerning distance education, including the current status of distance learning and its impact on education.
Students will become conversant in the terminology of the field of distance education, review its history, conduct research on specific areas of practice, investigate instructional and learning design strategies, explore the technologies commonly used, and understand the unique roles and responsibilities of the distance learner and the distance instructor.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Preparing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors (knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive, decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic), clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence; (b) Field-Based Inquiry; and (c) the Betterment of Society. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National and state standards (National Board for Professional Teaching Standards [NBPTS], International Society for Technology in Education [ISTE]) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course's objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Students will:

1. demonstrate knowledge, skills, and understanding of concepts related to distance education as they apply to instruction (Ashby, 2002; Huet, Moller, & Young, 2005; Keegan, 1986; Moore, 1989; Palloff & Pratt, 1999, 2003; Porter, 1997; Roblyer, 2001; White & Weight, 2000; Williams, Pappock, & Covington, 2004). ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICIES

Link to Conceptual Framework:
As students complete their assignments, they will have demonstrated achievement in the areas of decision making: selecting topic areas in the student's field of study to design and develop an online learning module and interactive tutorial (course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4b); leadership: enhancing his/her knowledge and skills in distance education in order to integrate technology more extensively on the job, at a distance, and to assist others as needed (course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c); lifelong learning: studying how to integrate technology into the workplace and distant environment (course course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c); being adaptive: changing educational practices to meet the needs of distance learners (course activities 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c); collaboration: working with colleagues and stakeholders to plan and carry out school improvements in technology (course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c); cultural sensitivity: adapting interventions and technology innovations to meet the needs of diverse distance learners (course activities 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c); empathy: demonstrating sensitivity to the needs of individual, family, and community needs (course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c); knowledge: drawing on pedagogical, content, and professional knowledge, including knowledge from others’ postings in the online bulletin board when developing distance education systems(course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c); being proactive: implementing new interventions and innovations in technology to better serve distance learners (course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c) and reflection: engaging in ongoing, continuous reflection related to technology to determine the effectiveness of interventions/innovations and school changes that are needed to more effectively integrate technology into the curriculum both local and distant (course activities 1.0, 2.1-2.2, 3.1-3.4a-c).

Activities and Assessments:

1.0 Class Participation (20 points)

Students will participate in the course regularly and will attend any Wimba Live Classroom or other virtual session(s) scheduled in WebCT CourseDen (if applicable) and generally be prepared for the class. Absence from Wimba session(s) or noted absence of participation may lower a student’s cumulative point total by 20 points. Virtual conference sessions with outside experts/teachers in the field of distance education may be scheduled. If these conferences are scheduled, it is expected that students will prepare, attend, and ask questions. Scheduling and requirements will be posted in WebCT CourseDen. (Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7; disposition; teacher observation)

2.0 Weekly Work

2.1 Discussions (6 weeks @ 5 points each = 30 points)

- The student will respond to a discussion prompts provided by the instructor. With a few exceptions, the student is expected to make an initial posting on or before Wednesday of the week the discussion posting is first available and follow up with remaining postings during the week. Students are expected to read and participate in all online discussions. Each discussion (except where noted elsewhere) is worth 5 points. You are required to post your initial thoughts (3pts) and respond to AT LEAST two other postings (2pts). Video posting of discussion responses is encouraged. A reflective response includes new information, personal perspectives, or other input that shows thought and consideration of the issue. It goes beyond simple agreement with or endorsement of responses that have already been posted. (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4; Teacher Observation, WebCT CourseDen DB postings, Online discussions)

3.0 Student Work

1. All student work submitted during the course is required to be original. All projects must be completed to be graded. It is strongly recommended that you begin work on ALL of the projects as soon as possible. Do not rely solely on the suggested schedule to tell you when to start and finish these projects. Please work early and often!

3.1 Project 1: Chapter Concept Map and Quiz Questions (15 points)

The student will create a concept map using the software tool XMIND to visually illustrate associations and relationships between the ideas presented in the assigned chapter from the text. XMIND is a wonderful open source mind-mapping tool can be downloaded for free. Upon completion of the concept map, the student will write a brief 1-2 page scenario/plan that outlines how the information presented in the chapter could best be delivered through a web-based delivery system.

As we are piloting a new textbook this session, upon completion of the concept map, the student will generate 10 total quiz questions for that chapter: 7 multiple choice and 3 true false questions in a Word document with the correct answer highlighted with the page number where it can be found. The student must post the concept map, quiz questions, and scenario to the appropriate discussion forum AND to the WebCT CourseDen Assignment Dropbox for grading. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8; rubric).

3.2 Project 2: Distance Education Instructional Design Plan (15 points)

The student will create an instructional design plan for one module of online instruction concerning the topic of the student’s choosing. The module is to consist of at least one week of instruction, to be delivered entirely online, and to address five major components: module design, interactivity and collaboration, use of technology, assessment, and learner support. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 3, 4, 7, 8; rubric).

3.3 Project 3: Hands-on Creation of Learning Module in WebCT CourseDen (25 Points)

The student will create a learning module in WebCT CourseDen following the design plan developed for Project 2. Upon completion of the module, the student will also review at least one other student’s module, complete the work in the module (where appropriate), and offer suggestions for improving the content. The student will post a review in the appropriate forum in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

If you desire, you may work in teams of no more than 3 for the design and development components of Projects 3.2 & 3.3 (the review aspect of 3.3 must be completed individually). If you choose to do this, you must inform me beforehand, and you will be required to complete a confidential analysis of each group member’s level of participation.

3.4 Project 4: Henry County Cooperative Online Course Review Project (60pts)

This semester we are piloting a new and exciting online course review project in partnership with Henry County. This is an authentic, field-based, online learning experience that should prove to be very valuable and enlightening. Your grade for the project will be based on completing specific readings, discussions, review instruments, virtual meetings, and other requirements as outlined in CourseDen. Participation in this project constitutes a large portion of your grade. However, since this is a pilot project, please know that effort on your part counts for a lot and that I, and you, will need to be flexible as we will be adapting as we go along. I will also depend heavily upon your feedback and input for project improvements.

Extra Credit (5 points)

Read Thomas Friedman’s The World is Flat (updated and expanded 2006 version). I have chosen this book because I think it does a very effective job of explaining how technology is radically changing our world, and the way we conduct business and education in an “easily digestible” manner. I consider it a great read for anyone interested in technology education. For this extra credit assignment, you will examine one or more of Friedman’s “flatteners” (or other salient observations) and give your opinion about its potential effect on education generally and distance education specifically. There is no minimum or maximum page limit requirement for this assignment. Just do a thorough analysis.

CLASS, DEPARTMENT, AND UNIVERSITY POLICIES

1. Submitting Assignments
   Students are expected to submit assignments on time. All components must be completed to receive a grade. Valid reasons for submitting work late must be cleared by the professor in advance. It is the student’s responsibility to contact the professor when extenuating circumstances take place. Points will be deducted for each day an assignment is late. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course focuses on current issues and challenges for the distance education professional. Students will be prepared to assume the role of an e-learning teacher and professional through the study of distance education research as well as the analysis, design, development, implementation, and evaluation of e-learning environments. Students will examine the management of e-learning initiatives including cultural impact; budget, technological and managerial requirements; quality support; policy issues; development of e-learning materials; facilitating instruction and interaction; and other areas of professional development and training.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Preparing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors (knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive, decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic), clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence; (b) Field-Based Inquiry; and (c) the Betterment of Society. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National and state standards (National Board for Professional Teaching Standards [NBPTS] and International Society for Technology in Education [ISTE]) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICIES
Link to Conceptual Framework:

As students complete their assignments, they will have demonstrated achievement in the areas of decision making: selecting topic areas in the student’s field of study to design and develop an online learning module and interactive tutorial (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); leadership: enhancing his/her knowledge and skills in distance education in order to integrate technology more extensively on the job, at a distance, and to assist others as needed (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); lifelong learning: studying how to integrate technology into the work place and distant environment (course course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); being adaptive: changing educational practices to meet the needs of distance learners (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); collaboration: working with colleagues and stakeholders to plan and carry out school improvements in technology (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); cultural sensitivity: adapting interventions and technology innovations to meet the needs of diverse distance learners (course activities 2.1, 3.1-3.4); empathy: demonstrating sensitivity to the needs of individual, family, and community needs (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); knowledge: drawing on pedagogical, content, and professional knowledge, including knowledge from others’ postings in the online bulletin board when developing distance education systems (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); being proactive: implementing new interventions and innovations in technology to better serve distance learners (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4) and reflection: engaging in ongoing, continuous reflection related to technology to determine the effectiveness of interventions/innovations and school changes that are needed to more effectively integrate technology into the curriculum both local and distant (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4).

Activities and Assessments:

1.0 Class Participation (20 points)

Students will participate in the course regularly and will attend any Wimba Live Classroom or other virtual meeting session(s) scheduled in WebCT CourseDen (if applicable) and generally be prepared for the class. Absence from virtual meetings or noted absence of participation may lower a student’s cumulative point total by 20 points. Virtual conference sessions with outside experts/teachers in the field of distance education may be scheduled. If these conferences are scheduled, it is expected that students will prepare, attend, and ask questions. Scheduling and requirements will be posted in WebCT CourseDen. (Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7; disposition; teacher observation)

2.0 Weekly Work

2.1 Discussions (6 weeks @ 5 points each = 30 points)

The student will respond to a discussion prompts provided by the instructor. With a few exceptions, the student is expected to make an initial posting on or before Wednesday of the week the discussion posting is first available and follow up with remaining postings during the week. Students are expected to read and participate in all online discussions. Each discussion (except where noted elsewhere) is worth 5 points. You are required to post your initial thoughts (3pts) and respond to AT LEAST two other postings (2pts). Video posting of discussion responses is encouraged. A reflective response includes new information, personal perspectives, or other input that shows thought and consideration of the issue. It goes beyond simple agreement with or endorsement of responses that have already been posted. (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4; Teacher Observation, WebCT CourseDen DB postings, Online discussions)

3.0 Student Work

All student work submitted during the course is required to be original. All projects must be completed to be graded. It is strongly recommended that you begin work on ALL of the projects as soon as possible. Do not rely solely on the suggested schedule to tell you when to start and finish these projects. Please work early and often!

3.1 Project 1: Redesign an Existing Course (25 points)

Working in teams, students will redesign an existing online course. Students will be presented with a current online class and asked to redesign the course for more effective delivery. Students will focus on analyzing their intended audience and then on improving course navigation and layout; selecting or updating technologies to enhance learning; designing to facilitate interaction, communication, and collaborative learning; and articulating clearly the learning objectives, expectations, activities, and assignments. In addition to the class improvements, the group will produce a wiki-report justifying their changes. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

3.2 Project 2: Virtual Mentorship (25 points)

Each student will be assigned (or will locate and have approved) a virtual mentor to collaborate with over the term. The student will observe and participate in the mentor’s online class. The details of the assignment will vary based on expectations established with the mentor. This assignment serves as partial fulfillment of the internship requirement for endorsement. The student will submit a reflection report about the collaboration. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1,2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

3.3 Project 3: Online Learning Proposal/Instructional Design Plan (25pts)

The student will craft an online learning proposal and action plan to address a demonstrated need. The proposal will highlight the nature of the online project (why it is important, why it needs doing, and what will be accomplished), how it will be accomplished, where it will take place, who is the target population, what are the expected outcomes and how will they be measured/assessed, etc. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

3.4 Project 4: Hands-on Creation and Delivery of Learning Module (25 points)

The student will create a learning module in WebCT CourseDen or the learning management platform of their choice for delivery to an audience in their chosen field. Upon completion of the module, the student will present the content to the appropriate audience and assess the effectiveness of their instructional design. This assignment serves as partial fulfillment of the internship requirement for endorsement. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

Program Change Rationale: Masters in Media: Instructional Technology Track (M.Ed. IT)
Instructional Technology – Plan B
Entry Certification: None

Substantive changes to the M.Ed in Instructional Technology (M.Ed. in IT) program are needed if it is to continue to be a viable and relevant program as the current program does not fully address the needs of educators with regards to integrating technology in the classroom. The proposed changes are based on continuing low enrollments, candidate evaluations, alumni evaluations, and focus group meetings with professionals across the state. This program modification includes updates to one course (MEDT 7464), the addition of two courses (MEDT 6402, and MEDT 7476), and a revised program sheet.

Changes Included in Course Proposal

Course Modifications
MEDT 7464
• Renamed from Integrating Technology into the Classroom to Designing Technology Enhanced Instruction.
• New course description
• New course objectives
• New course syllabi

Course Additions
MEDT 6402
• Name: Technology in the Content Areas
• New course description
• New course objectives
• New course syllabi
MEDT 7476
• Name: Evaluating Technology Enhanced Instruction
• New course description
• New course objectives
• New course syllabi

Modified Program Sheet
M.Ed. in IT Program – Plan B
In addition to the changes/additions listed above, more choices have been included to allow students to complete the program in a timely manner. For example, three research courses are listed as options - each of the research courses meet the programs research requirement. In the Pedagogy area, the PTED 7271 course was removed because it is taught infrequently and has been replaced with two options, EDLE 6322 and EDLE 6323 one of which is available every semester. MEDT 7467 was moved from being an elective to a required course and MEDT 7475 was included as an elective to compliment the MEDT 7472 course.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
An overview of instructional communications, design, and technology as they relate to teaching and learning in the digital age; including the production of digital teaching materials and the utilization of digital teaching tools.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK
The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence [knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive]; (b) Field-Based Inquiry [decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading]; and (c) the Betterment of Society [collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic]. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. The ISTE national standards and the GaPSC standards also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course's objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Students will:

1. demonstrate basic software and hardware troubleshooting strategies common in digital learning environments;

GRADING SCALE:
Final grades are based on a percentage of the total points available in the course. The percentages are as follows:

- A = 95% - 100%
- B = 85% - 94%
- C = 75% - 84%
- Below 74% Points = F

CLASS POLICIES

1. Submitting Assignments.
Students are expected to submit assignments on time. All components must be completed to receive a grade. Valid reasons for submitting work late must be cleared by the professor in advance. It is the student's responsibility to contact the professor when extenuating circumstances take place. Class participation points will be deducted for each day late. Late online assignments such as bulletin board postings will result in grade reduction. All assignments are due by midnight on the date due. Any assignments posted after midnight are considered late.

2. Professionalism
Students are expected to conduct themselves professionally. This is an essential quality for all professionals who will be working in the schools. All students are expected to display a positive attitude. Professionalism includes but is not limited to the following:

- Participating in interactions and class activities in a face-to-face or online environment in a positive manner.
o Collaborating and working equitably with students in the class.
o Actively participating in class each week.
o Turning in assignments on time.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Prerequisites: MEDT 6402 and MEDT 7461
This course will focus on the application of instructional design principles as they relate to instruction. A systems approach to instructional design which includes information and application of skills and techniques necessary in the analysis, design, development, implementation, and evaluation of instruction will be used.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK
The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence [knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive]; (b) Field-Based Inquiry [decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading]; and (c) the Betterment of Society [collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic]. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. The ISTE national standards and the GaPSC standards also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course's objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

ACTIVITIES AND ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICY

Activities and Assessments:

1.0 Class Attendance and Participation (30 points)

Students will be prepared for each class by doing the assigned readings in advance, and have the appropriate materials required for class activities. Students will also receive points for participation in online class forums. Absence from online forums during the week in which they are active may lower a student’s cumulative point total by 30 points. (Objectives # 1,2,3,4,5,6,7; disposition; teacher observation)

2.0 Weekly Work

2.1 Weekly Discussions (14 discussions @ 3 points each = 42 points)

Each week the student will respond to a discussion prompt provided by the instructor. Students will be assessed on the degree to which they addressed the discussion prompt, reflection, the degree to which the posting contributed to the discussion, and the timeliness of their postings. Please Note: Since discussion postings are a part of an active conversation postings made after the week during which the discussion is active will not receive ANY credit. Therefore, it is very important that discussion postings are made in a timely manner. (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6,7; Knowledge, Skills, Disposition; Teacher Observation, Course LMS postings, online discussions)

2.3 Weekly Quizzes (14 quizzes @ 2 points each = 28 points)

Each week a short quiz of no more than five questions will be made available through the course website. The quiz will be based on that week’s readings. Please consult the tentative course schedule for each week’s readings. (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; Knowledge, Skills; Course LMS Quizzes)

3.0 Student Work

All student work submitted during the course is required to be original. All projects must be completed to be graded.

3.1 Establishing the Web Portfolio (5 Points)
Using materials provided in the class the student should use their UWG web space to establish a web based portfolio for the class. The portfolio will be built as each assignment is completed for the class.
(Course Objectives 7; Knowledge, Skills; rubric).

3.2 The ASSURE Lesson Redux (5 Points)
The student will update the ASSURE lesson plan they created in MEDT6401 or MEDT6402. These updates should be based on feedback about the lesson plan and their own reflections. A brief (no more than one page) explanation of these changes should be included with the updated lesson. The student will then print out a PDF of the resulting work, upload it to their website portfolio, provide a brief reflection about the assignment (including how the student will use it in their professional practice) and post a link to their work in the course assignment area.
(Course Objectives 1, 2, 4; Knowledge, Skills; rubric).

3.3 ASSURE Lesson Video (5 Points)
The student should videotape a five minute lesson using the revised ASSURE lesson plan. The video should be saved as a flash video and uploaded into their personal course web space. A brief reflection about how the delivery of the lesson went should be included with the video. The student will then print out a PDF of the reflection work, upload it and the video to their website portfolio, provide a brief reflection about the assignment (including how the student will use it in their professional practice) and post a link to their work in the course assignment area.
Directions for creating the video will be provided in the course.
(Course Objectives 3; Knowledge, Skills; rubric).

This course will focus on the application the principles of evaluation as they relate to instruction. Specific concepts covered include formative evaluation, summative evaluation, evaluation of instruction, and standardized testing.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and

These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. The ISTE national standards and the GaPSC standards also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. ACTIVITIES AND ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICY

Activities and Assessments:

1.0 Class Attendance and Participation (30 points)

2.0

Students will attend and participate in all classes, be prepared for each class by doing the assigned readings in advance, and have the appropriate materials required for class activities. Students will receive points for participation in online class forums. Absence from online forums during the week in which they are active may lower a student’s cumulative point total by 30 points.

(Objectives # 1,2,3,4,5,6, 7; disposition; teacher observation)

2.0 Weekly Work

2.1 Weekly Discussions (14 discussions @ 3 points each = 42 points)

Each week the student will respond to a discussion prompt provided by the instructor. Students will be assessed on the degree to which they addressed the discussion prompt, reflection, the degree to which the posting contributed to the discussion, and the timeliness of their postings. Please Note: Since discussion postings are a part of an active conversation postings made after the week during which the discussion is active will not receive ANY credit. Therefore, it is very important that discussion postings are made in a timely manner.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
An overview of instructional communications, design, and technology as they relate to teaching and learning in the digital age; including the production of digital teaching materials and the utilization of digital teaching tools.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK
The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence [knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive]; (b) Field-Based Inquiry [decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading]; and (c) the Betterment of Society [collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic]. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. The ISTE national standards and the GaPSC standards also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

Rationale
Over the past few years, the nature and delivery of P-12 and other education has shifted and broadened to include hybrid course delivery combining online modules with traditional face to face instruction in brick and mortar classrooms, as well as totally online courses offered by traditional schools and virtual schools. This course will expand beyond the existing Introduction to Distance Education course (MEDT 7472) to develop professional competencies in online and distance education for practitioners in a variety of fields such as P-12 education and nursing education.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course focuses on current issues and challenges for the distance education professional. Students will be prepared to assume the role of an e-learning teacher and professional through the study of distance education research as well as the analysis, design, development, implementation, and evaluation of e-learning environments. Students will examine the management of e-learning initiatives including cultural impact; budget, technological and managerial requirements; quality support; policy issues; development of e-learning materials; facilitating instruction and interaction; and other areas of professional development and training.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Preparing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors (knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive, decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic), clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence; (b) Field-Based Inquiry; and (c) the Betterment of Society. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National and state standards (National Board for Professional Teaching Standards [NBPTS] and International Society for Technology in Education [ISTE]) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICIES
Link to Conceptual Framework:

As students complete their assignments, they will have demonstrated achievement in the areas of decision making: selecting topic areas in the student’s field of study to design and develop an online learning module and interactive tutorial (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); leadership: enhancing his/her knowledge and skills in distance education in order to integrate technology more extensively on the job, at a distance, and to assist others as needed (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); lifelong learning: studying how to integrate technology into the work place and distant environment (course course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); being adaptive: changing educational practices to meet the needs of distance learners (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); collaboration: working with colleagues and stakeholders to plan and carry out school improvements in technology (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); cultural sensitivity: adapting interventions and technology innovations to meet the needs of diverse distance learners (course activities 2.1, 3.1-3.4); empathy: demonstrating sensitivity to the needs of individual, family, and community needs (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); knowledge: drawing on pedagogical, content, and professional knowledge, including knowledge from others’ postings in the online bulletin board when developing distance education systems (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4); being proactive: implementing new interventions and innovations in technology to better serve distance learners (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4) and reflection: engaging in ongoing, continuous reflection related to technology to determine the effectiveness of interventions/innovations and school changes that are needed to more effectively integrate technology into the curriculum both local and distant (course activities 1.0, 2.1, 3.1-3.4).

Activities and Assessments:

1.0 Class Participation (20 points)

Students will participate in the course regularly and will attend any Wimba Live Classroom or other virtual meeting session(s) scheduled in WebCT CourseDen (if applicable) and generally be prepared for the class. Absence from virtual meetings or noted absence of participation may lower a student’s cumulative point total by 20 points. Virtual conference sessions with outside experts/teachers in the field of distance education may be scheduled. If these conferences are scheduled, it is expected that students will prepare, attend, and ask questions. Scheduling and requirements will be posted in WebCT CourseDen. (Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7; disposition; teacher observation)

2.0 Weekly Work

2.1 Discussions (6 weeks @ 5 points each = 30 points)

The student will respond to a discussion prompts provided by the instructor. With a few exceptions, the student is expected to make an initial posting on or before Wednesday of the week the discussion posting is first available and follow up with remaining postings during the week. Students are expected to read and participate in all online discussions. Each discussion (except where noted elsewhere) is worth 5 points. You are required to post your initial thoughts (3pts) and respond to AT LEAST two other postings (2pts). Video posting of discussion responses is encouraged. A reflective response includes new information, personal perspectives, or other input that shows thought and consideration of the issue. It goes beyond simple agreement with or endorsement of responses that have already been posted. (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4; Teacher Observation, WebCT CourseDen DB postings, Online discussions)

3.0 Student Work

All student work submitted during the course is required to be original. All projects must be completed to be graded. It is strongly recommended that you begin work on ALL of the projects as soon as possible. Do not rely solely on the suggested schedule to tell you when to start and finish these projects. Please work early and often!

3.1 Project 1: Redesign an Existing Course (25 points)

Working in teams, students will redesign an existing online course. Students will be presented with a current online class and asked to redesign the course for more effective delivery. Students will focus on analyzing their intended audience and then on improving course navigation and layout; selecting or updating technologies to enhance learning; designing to facilitate interaction, communication, and collaborative learning; and articulating clearly the learning objectives, expectations, activities, and assignments. In addition to the class improvements, the group will produce a wiki-report justifying their changes. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

3.2 Project 2: Virtual Mentorship (25 points)

Each student will be assigned (or will locate and have approved) a virtual mentor to collaborate with over the term. The student will observe and participate in the mentor’s online class. The details of the assignment will vary based on expectations established with the mentor. This assignment serves as partial fulfillment of the internship requirement for endorsement. The student will submit a reflection report about the collaboration. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

3.3 Project 3: Online Learning Proposal/Instructional Design Plan (25pts)

The student will craft an online learning proposal and action plan to address a demonstrated need. The proposal will highlight the nature of the online project (why it is important, why it needs doing, and what will be accomplished), how it will be accomplished, where it will take place, who is the target population, what are the expected outcomes and how will they be measured/assessed, etc. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

3.4 Project 4: Hands-on Creation and Delivery of Learning Module (25 points)

The student will create a learning module in WebCT CourseDen or the learning management platform of their choice for delivery to an audience in their chosen field. Upon completion of the module, the student will present the content to the appropriate audience and assess the effectiveness of their instructional design. This assignment serves as partial fulfillment of the internship requirement for endorsement. Additional guidelines for this assignment are posted in WebCT CourseDen (Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; rubric).

CLASS, DEPARTMENT, AND UNIVERSITY POLICIES

1. Submitting Assignments

Students are expected to submit assignments on time. All components must be completed to receive a grade. Valid reasons for submitting work late must be cleared by the professor in advance. It is the student’s responsibility to contact the professor when extenuating circumstances take place. Points will be deducted for each day an assignment is late. Late online assignments such as discussion board postings will also result in grade reduction. All assignments are due by midnight on the date due. Any assignments posted after midnight are considered late. Each assignment in WebCT CourseDen has a due date and a cut-off date. The cut-off date is one week after the due date. For instance, if an assignment is due January 22nd, the final cut-off date is January 29th. After January 22nd, the assignment is “late.” After January 29th, the assignment is GONE. No assignments more than 1 week late will be accepted.
2. Professionalism

Students are expected to conduct themselves professionally. This is an essential quality for all professionals who will be working in the schools. All students are expected to display a positive attitude. Professionalism includes but is not limited to the following:
- Participating in interactions and class activities in a positive manner.
- Collaborating and working equitably with students in the class.
- Actively participating in class each week.
- Turning in assignments on time.
- Arriving at and leaving scheduled Wimba Live Classroom and/or other virtual classes punctually.
- Treating class members, professor, and colleagues with respect in and out of the classroom.
- Eliminating interruptions in class.

Students who display a lack of professionalism will be contacted by the instructor immediately after class when violations take place and informed of the consequences. If there is a second violation the student will meet with a departmental committee and may be dismissed from the program for at least one year.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

All work completed in this course must be original work developed this semester. Students are expected to adhere to the highest standards of academic honesty. Plagiarism occurs when a student uses or purchases ghostwritten papers. It also occurs when a student utilizes ideas or information obtained from another person without giving credit to that person. If plagiarism or another act of academic dishonesty occurs, it will be dealt with in accordance with the academic misconduct policy as stated in the latest Connection and Student Handbook and the Graduate Catalog.

DISABILITY STATEMENT

All students are provided with equal access to classes and materials, regardless of special needs, temporary or permanent disability, special needs related to pregnancy, etc. If you have any special learning needs, particularly (but not limited to) needs defined under the Americans with Disabilities Act, and require specific accommodations, please do not hesitate to make those known, either yourself or through the Coordinator of Disability Services. Students with documented special needs may expect accommodation in relation to classroom accessibility, modification of testing, special test administration, etc. For more information, please contact Disability Services at the University of West Georgia: http://www.westga.edu/studentDev/index_8884.php. ACTIVITIES AND ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICY

Activities and Assessments:

1.0 Class Attendance and Participation (30 points)

2.0 Students will attend and participate in all classes, be prepared for each class by doing the assigned readings in advance, and have the appropriate materials required for class activities. Students will receive points for participation in online class forums. Absence from online forums during the week in which they are active may lower a student’s cumulative point total by 30 points.

(Objectives # 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7; disposition; teacher observation)

2.0 Weekly Work

2.1 Weekly Discussions (14 discussions @ 3 points each = 42 points)

Each week the student will respond to a discussion prompt provided by the instructor. Students will be assessed on the degree to which they addressed the discussion prompt, reflection, the degree to which the posting contributed to the discussion, and the timeliness of their postings. Please Note: Since discussion postings are a part of an active conversation postings made after the week during which the discussion is active will not receive ANY credit. Therefore, it is very important that discussion postings are made in a timely manner.

(Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7; Knowledge, Skills, Disposition; Teacher Observation, Course LMS postings, online discussions)

2.2 Weekly Quizzes (16 quizzes @ 2 points each = 32 points)

Program Description and Objectives:

a. Objectives of the program

The proposed Master of Arts in Teaching at UWG has been designed to meet the needs of individuals who have a background, and bachelor’s degree, in a content area other than education, but who do not necessarily have a teaching certificate. This degree will allow them to complete either requirements for a secondary (grade 6-12) certificate (Level-5) and a master’s degree simultaneously or merely complete the master’s degree only if that is the student’s desire. The program will prepare candidates with a primary concentration in math, P-12 Spanish, broad field science, English, history, political science, biology, chemistry, economics, physics, P-12 health and physical education or business education. Passing the Georgia Assessments for the Certification of Educators (GACE), including the GACE Basic Skills and the GACE Content Area tests in the primary field of concentration are prerequisites for admission to the program.

The primary objectives of this program are to prepare these candidates to teach at the secondary and P-12 level or in some cases to strengthen the pedagogy, content knowledge and teaching skills of candidates not seeking certification or who already have certification. Some of the prospective candidates will already be novice teachers and may be provisionally-certified. This degree will also focus on attracting individuals who are career changers and who are not yet employed by a school district.
Currently, there are an equal number of candidates in post-baccalaureate initial certification programs as there are in the traditional undergraduate certification programs. Most of the students interested in that program would find the master’s attractive, based on anecdotal evidence. The Department of Leadership and Applied Instruction (LAI) receives calls daily inquiring about our a possible MAT program. These students have to be turned away or absorbed into the initial certification program. For very little, if any additional coursework, and a significantly more convenient degree, these students could receive the MAT. The Department of LAI however will maintain a traditional undergraduate teacher certification program in conjunction with other Arts and Sciences departments.

The MAT program will additionally allow opportunity for aspiring educational leaders to gain the prerequisites of a master’s degree and graduate level content that meets the PSC pre-service requirements for the Educational Specialists Leadership Certificate in Georgia.

b. Needs the program will meet

This proposed program will support the Board of Regents Strategic Goal Four: Strengthen the University System of Georgia’s (USG) partnerships with the state’s other education agencies by opening the door to a smooth transition from an undergraduate degree to becoming a professional educator. Likewise, it provides an avenue for career changers to enter the education profession. It meets the goal of producing more educators and aspiring educational leaders for Georgia and surrounding states.

As an illustration of the student demand, one can look at the enrollment in teaching internships at UWG in the fall, 2010. There were 45 secondary and P-12 level interns, many of whom were from the initial certification programs. Ideally, all of the non-traditional interns would blend into a MAT program. Classes will be offered in multiple formats to allow for both convenience and multiple learning preferences. This option, which includes the opportunity for a 95% online degree allows candidates to continue working while they complete the degree and certification.

There are over 100 open files of candidates in our secondary and P-12 initial certification programs and a full time advisor working with them and similar middle school candidates. This is an indication that there is not only a market for a program such as this, but an existing capacity for hosting the proposed MAT program.

The university presently serves four of the fastest growing counties in the nation. While suburban schools do not usually have the same teacher shortages as rural and urban areas, the growth that is occurring around us indicates a prolonged need for additional teachers, especially once the State budget crisis passes. Presently, there are provisionally-certified teachers in the Atlanta districts, e.g., Cobb, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Atlanta City, Clayton who would be potential candidates. According to data from the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (PSC), 15% of new teachers hired in Georgia stay only one year; provisional non-renewable certificates are double that dropout rate. Preparation and planning to encourage retention is built into this program.

c. Brief explanation of how the program is to be delivered

The program will be delivered in the same manner our present teacher-preparation programs are delivered with the added convenience of multiple delivery class options. Much of the population will come from UWG graduates who have completed degrees in the various content areas, or related fields as prescribed by the PSC, and from our pool of initial certification candidates which grows on a daily basis. Classes will be taught by currently employed faculty or faculty lines and the supervision of field experiences will be done by the same as well. Most of the courses prescribed for the program are already being taught.
Summary of Comments on Master of Arts in Teaching-Add with Friendly Amendment of RF.pdf

Friendly Amendment made at 2/15/11 COGS meeting to remove "related fields" language.
One new course has been proposed and will be associated with the degree: MEDT 6402 Technology in Content Areas is a 3-hour course designed to be a pedagogy and teaching skill course. In addition, labs within courses, or field experiences within courses, and the internship are required in order for candidates desiring certification to be in schools the required amount of time.

Entry into the program will require a major in a content area and passing scores on the GACE Basic Skills (or verification of exemption) and the appropriate GACE content exam. Also, students must have a GPA of 2.7 or better. A critical pre-entry advising session will be necessary to determine if additional pre-entry courses are required. As per Graduate School policy, two courses can be transferred in from another accredited institution.

d. Prioritization within the institution’s strategic plan

The UWG Strategic Plan for 2010-2015 is full of references to the development of professionals and increased enrollment in graduate programs. The following excerpt exemplifies that.

Goal 3: The University will endeavor to increase enrollment in and graduation from graduate programs, including doctoral programs, that have as their mark a practical professional purpose, experiential learning opportunities, and an intellectual program informed by a foundation of liberal arts education.

The university is known for its teacher education programs. It has a reputation for producing fine educators.

2. Description of the program’s fit with the institutional mission and nationally accepted trends in the discipline.

This program furthers the mission of the university, college, and department. As a part of the mission and vision statements of the university, it is stated that the university will “maintain contact with the people of the region and be responsive to their need.” It certainly supports the mission of the College of Education: The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of learning settings, to foster an innovative, student-focused learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching, applied research, and the dissemination of knowledge. The proposed MAT supports the mission of both the Department and the College of Education to provide highly-qualified professional education programs at all levels of achievement. The proposed MAT also supports the Strategic Plan of the BOR which seeks to provide more teachers, especially in the areas of math and science.

Degrees entitled MAT are becoming more prolific, as is indicated by the table attached at the end of this proposal. The College of Education accreditation agency, NCATE, also recognizes such degrees in all of its forms and review processes.

3. Description of how the program demonstrates demand and a justification of need in the discipline and geographic area and is not unnecessary program duplication.

The College of Education currently has an initial certification program which only leads to certification. It is a pre-cursor to a master’s program. Many completers do go on to do a master’s and many want to do a master’s initially. Some students assume the initial certification program leads to a master’s which is not accurate. With the new MAT program, the College of Education will phase out the initial certification-only program and encourage people to take this MAT degree route as a means both to certification and a Masters simultaneously. This proposed program has fewer hours for completion for most other universities in the region, especially in the areas of math and science. It also allows use of the PSC Related Field document as a guide for what undergraduate degrees will be pre-requisites for the new MAT.

4. Brief description of institutional resources that will be used specifically for the program (e.g., personnel, library, equipment, laboratories, supplies & expenses, capital expenditures at program start-up and when the program undergoes its first comprehensive program review.

The University of West Georgia (UWG) has extensive library holdings and access through Galileo to a plethora of online documents. It is not perceived that any new library services will be needed. UWG has facilities that support our teaching and those will continue to be used for this program. No new facilities are being proposed. UWG has computer labs and excellent technical support for technology, in general, and distance education specifically. UWG has existing, adequate faculty, an advisor who will be dedicated to advising candidates in this program, and a pool of adjuncts who help with supervision. There are no perceived additional costs to create the program. If it grows as predicted, and supplants much of the work with initial certification, then faculty will simply switch roles to teach and supervise in more graduate courses, rather than undergraduate. Available adjuncts assume roles in undergraduate supervision.

5. Curriculum: List the entire course of study required and recommended to complete the degree program. Provide a sample program of study that would be followed by a representative student.
   a. Clearly differentiate which courses are existing and which are newly developed courses
   b. Append course descriptions for all courses (existing and new courses. Include the course titles as well as acronyms and credit hour requirements associated with each course. New courses are in bold.

Proposed Program Sheet
Master of Arts in Teaching

Program Notes

1. It is the candidate’s responsibility to apply for graduation in a timely manner.
2. All candidates must take and pass comprehensive exams during their last semester of the program.
3. Only two courses of this program may be taken off campus. Transfer courses count as off-campus courses. SEED 7291, strategies courses, and internship must be done at UWG.
4. With the advisor’s permission, up to 6 semester hours of credit may be transferred from an accredited institution. Transfer credit must carry at least a grade of B.
5. Candidates must meet all requirements imposed by the Graduate School, the College of Education, and the Department of Leadership and Specialized Instruction.
6. Provisionally certified candidates who enter the program and are fully employed in a cooperating school may be asked to complete 150 hours of activities with students who have a different ethnicity or economic status from their regular teaching assignment. Candidates who are not provisionally certified will spend time in a high school to gain these experiences. All experiences will be coordinated by the professor in cooperation with the Office of Field Experiences.

Advising Notes

History Note: History majors must take or have had Georgia History.

English Note: English majors will need to take READ 6242 Young Adult Literature. This will count as a content course. Candidates may also take a comparable course in the Department of English.
c. When describing required or elective courses, list all course prerequisites. See Appendix of prerequisites for each of the required courses.

d. Provide documentation that all courses in the proposed curriculum have met all institutional requirements for approval. Documentation and signatures attached.

e. Append materials available from national accrediting agencies or professional organizations as they relate to curriculum standards for the proposed program.

f. Indicate ways in which the proposed program is consistent with national standards. Master of Arts in Teaching programs are popular in this state and many others. See the list of Georgia universities that offer the degree which is included in this proposal.

g. If internships or field experiences are required as part of the program, provide information documenting internship availability as well as how candidates will be assigned and supervised.

The College of Education is currently placing candidates in our service area via our initial certification program and we cooperate with counties around us, and in the Atlanta metropolitan area, in our provisionally-certified program. It is true that the numbers of provisionally-certified candidates have dropped, but the College of Education still has approximately 20 presently (circa Fall, 2010) in secondary and P-12 initial certification program and expect the numbers to continue, especially in math and science.

h. Indicate the adequacy of core offerings to support the new program.

The College of Education has sought to improve on our present offerings, which put our provisionally-certified and initial certification candidates in undergraduate courses. Their needs are different. They normally are non-traditional, e.g., older, experienced in the work force. Providing graduate level courses which lead to a degree will improve the candidate’s experience and marketability.

All but one of the courses are already being taught, e.g., SPED 6706, EDLE 6342, and numerous strategies courses that already exist. Also, MEDT 6402 is a new course that will evolve out of a course currently being taught. It is being submitted simultaneously with this proposal and will be included in the proposal. These are all presently taught either partially or fully online. College of Education faculty representatives have met with all of the stakeholders, e.g., school partners, other departments, and the cooperation is evident.

6. Admissions criteria. Please include required minima scores on appropriate standardized tests and grade point average requirements.

   Passage of the GACE Basic Skills [or verification of exemption, 1000 on SAT, 43 on ACT or 1030 on GRE)], the appropriate GACE content exam (varies by subject and is set and altered by the state), and a GPA of 2.7, or better, will be the entrance requirements.

7. Availability of assistantships (if applicable).
Graduate assistantships are presently available in all departments that house graduate programming.

8. Student learning outcomes and other associated outcomes of the proposed program.

The College of Education relies on the propositions of the National Board of Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) as the underpinning for all of our graduate education programs.

- Teachers are committed to students and their learning.
- Teachers know the subjects they teach and how to teach those subjects to students.
- Teachers are responsible for managing and monitoring student learning.
- Teachers think systematically about their practice and learn from experience.
- Teachers are members of learning communities.

Based on NCATE requirements, the College of Education also rely on the recommendations of Special Professional Associations (SPA) for content proficiencies that define our strategies courses. All degrees and syllabi are correlated with the COE’s Conceptual Framework. Specific outcomes, or goals, for our master’s program include:

- Being more knowledgeable about content, the adolescents to be taught, and the educational system at large.
- Being taught from a philosophy that all students can learn and that candidates will leave the program better prepared to teach in a diverse and multicultural society.
- Using technology in progressing through the program, learning to apply technological tools to assist in teaching all students, and willingness to embrace technology as an integral part of the teaching and learning environment in today’s and tomorrow’s schools.
- Discussing new ways to make schools and classrooms inviting, supportive, and safe environments.
- Developing new and creative ways to assess students, classrooms, and programs.
- Evaluating research and applying it to current challenges in candidates’ and other school settings.
- Holding high expectations for every member of the learning community.
- Being devoted to integrative and active learning in secondary and P-12 classrooms and schools.
- Involving themselves as advocates for all students.
- Cooperating and participating in partnerships with stake holders in the education arena.

9. Administration of the program:

a. Indicate where the program will be housed within the academic units of the institution.

The proposed MAT will be housed in the Department of Leadership and Applied Instruction.

b. Describe the administration of the program inclusive of coordination and responsibility.

The proposed MAT will be housed in the Department of Leadership and Applied Instruction (LAI) in the College of Education. Within the LAI Department, a Coordinator of Secondary and P-12 Education Programs assist the Chair of the Department in all matters related to teacher education. The program will ultimately fall under the purview of the Graduate School.
10. Waiver to Degree-Credit Hour (if applicable): If the program exceeds the maximum credit hour requirement at a specific degree level, then provide an explanation supporting the increase in hours (Note: The maximum for bachelor’s degrees is 120-semester credit hours and the maximum for master’s degrees is 36-semester credit hours). The program does not exceed the 36 hour maximum.

11. Accreditation: Describe disciplinary accreditation requirements associated with the program (if applicable).

The program has been approved the Department of LAI, and will be submitted to the the College of Education Faculty Governance, the UWG Graduate School (COGS), the UWG Faculty Senate and the PSC for final approval.

12. Projected enrollment for the program especially during the first three years of implementation. Please indicate whether enrollments will be cohort-based.

The program will be cohort-based as related to the education courses. Content courses may be taken whenever the candidate can get them into their program or work them in to their work schedule.

The College of Education will be moving away from the initial-certification model. Therefore, the enrollment will grow dramatically in the initial three years. In the College of Education, there are presently over 100 active files of individuals working on the initial certificate at the post-baccalaureate level. Currently, there are 20 MEd students in middle and secondary and P-12 grades and eight students in the physical education initial certification program. All these will blend into the proposed MAT program.

Year 1 -- 30 candidates
Year 2 -- 40 candidates.
Year 3 -- 50 candidates.

13. Faculty

a. Provide an inventory of faculty directly involved with the administration of the program. For each faculty member, provide the following information:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Faculty Name</th>
<th>Rank</th>
<th>Highest Degree</th>
<th>Degrees Earned</th>
<th>Academic Discipline</th>

Explaination of how workload will be impacted by the new program: None of the faculty workloads are expected to change. Several faculty will merely be shifted to the courses in this new MAT as part of their regular load. The Coordinator of Secondary and P-12 Programs already receives release time for this duty and additional release will not be forthcoming.

The advising aspect of this program will be more demanding however due to the multiple entry possibilities and requirements.

Expected responsibilities in the program: The program will require across department cooperation in terms of faculty to teach the courses, which are cross-disciplinary and in terms of the formats in which the classes are delivered. This will be expected to range from face-to-face to totally online.

Total Number of Faculty: 5 full-time + 8 adjuncts in supporting roles.

b. If it will be necessary to add faculty in order to begin the program, give the desired qualifications of the persons to be added, with a timetable for adding new faculty and plan for funding new positions.

No full time faculty will need to be added to start the program.

14. Fiscal, Facilities, Enrollment Impact, and Estimated Budget

a. Provide a narrative that explains how current institutional resources will be expended specifically for this program. Provide a narrative that explains how the institution will fiscally support the establishment of the new program through the redirection of existing resources and acquisition of new resources. Indicate whether the institution will submit a request for new funds as part of its budget request. The narrative also needs to explain the basis of the institution’s projections with regard to anticipated EFT, head count, student enrollment, estimated expenditures, and projected revenues.

Since these candidates are gradually being moved from the initial certification ranks, no new institutional resources will be needed the first year. As graduate faculty take over supervision of candidates, adjuncts will need to be employed to help cover undergraduate courses that graduate faculty have been teaching. The infrastructure is already in place to support a program such as this. We have adequate classrooms, library support, and other support.

COURSE DESCRIPTION
Study of characteristics, identification, and support needs of exceptional children and youth. Includes basic teaching strategies and supportive techniques/resources for meeting needs of pupils with special needs in the regular classroom.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK
The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. By incorporating the theme "Developing Educators for School Improvement," the College assumes responsibility for preparing educators who can positively influence school improvement through altering classrooms, schools, and school systems (transformational systemic change). Ten descriptors (decision makers, leaders, lifelong learners, adaptive, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic, knowledgeable, proactive, and reflective) are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing educators who are prepared to improve schools through strategic change. National principles (INTASC), propositions (NBPTS), and standards (Learned Societies) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured. The mission of the College of Education is to develop educators who are prepared to function effectively in diverse educational settings with competencies that are instrumental to planning, implementing, assessing, and re-evaluating existing or proposed practices. This course's objectives are related directly to the conceptual framework and appropriate descriptors, activities and assessments that align with course objectives, course content, and the conceptual framework are identified in a separate section of the course syllabus.

Link to Conceptual Framework Since this class is designed to provide students majoring or seeking certification in special education with critical information pertaining to exceptional students and special education, the COE Conceptual Framework descriptor included in all assignments and activities is Knowledgeable. In addition, specific assignments also reflect descriptors, as follows: The Case Studies will include basic information related to the nature of exceptional needs and appropriate interventions, supports, and procedures, thus tapping Adaptive, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, and Proactive descriptors. By requiring application of these skills, the Group Discussion Projects and Parent Letters will add Empathetic and Reflective to the descriptors tapped by the midterm. The Desk Reference assignment adds Lifelong Learners to the descriptors tapped by the case studies. In combination, the In-class Activities/Discussion and Small Group Presentations and Exams/Quizzes reflect all of the descriptors listed for this class.

SPED 6706 4

Assignments:

1. Timeline Project - Will include analysis/application regarding evolution of special education system. Material used to produce timelines will include text, class discussion, lecture, and internet resources and result in a group project (the timeline).
   (Objectives # 1, 2; timeline project)

2. Desk Reference - Students will demonstrate knowledge of course material by designing and personally publishing an educator's desk reference. This will be a collaborative effort and peer review editing will offer support.
   (Objectives # 1-5; rubric)

3. In-class Activities/Discussion - Students will be divided into small groups and each group will outline and discuss/explain or role play information and case studies related to topics in this course.
   (Objectives #1-5; instructor's records of attendance and participation, group and individual products, graphic organizers)

4. Parent Pamphlet - Students will individually create an informational pamphlet for parents who have a child with a disability. This pamphlet will include information on parent rights and responsibilities, IDEA, the procedures for special education, and Section 505.
   (Objective 1; rubric)
5. Exams - Students will demonstrate knowledge of text material
(Objectives #1-5; exams)
Evaluation Procedures:
Assignments will be graded by the course instructor based on the information provided in this syllabus and in additional handout material and/or discussion.
Late assignments will have 20 points deducted. If assignments are e-mailed, it is the student’s responsibility to “check and recheck” to insure that the assignment arrived on the date due.

Grading Policy:
A = 90-100
B = 80-89
C = 70-79
F = < 70
CLASS POLICIES
1. Attendance in class and participation in class discussions and activities are integral elements of this course. Specific requirements will be discussed during the first class meeting.
2. Late assignments will be marked down 20 points.
3. Student work will be graded and that grade posted as promptly as possible. Please do not email the instructor the day you turn in an assignment asking to know your grade.
4. Students who miss class (or any portion of class) are responsible for the content. Any student who misses a class has the responsibility for obtaining copies of notes, handouts, assignments, etc. from a classmate. If additional assistance is necessary after reading the assigned chapter(s), looking at any additional materials, and speaking with a classmate, an appointment should be scheduled with the instructor.
5. The instructor reserves the right to alter the grade structure and modify assignments, including, but not limited to, adding assignments, and unannounced quizzes. Evaluation will take into account a student’s participation and class etiquette.
6. Submission of work taken directly from another source (e.g., lesson plan copied from a book, the internet, or material developed by another student) will be considered plagiarism and grounds for no credit on the assignment. However, students are encouraged to use a variety of resources in obtaining ideas and illustrations to help them complete assignments.
See the APA (5th edition) guide for the correct methods for citing other authors’ work.
7. It is not appropriate or acceptable to submit for credit an assignment, project, or paper that was submitted for credit in another class without prior approval from the instructor.
8. Also note UWG policy/requirements on computer access and use.

Virtual Classroom Expectations
The following ground rules will help your work in this course to go much more smoothly. Please carefully review these expectations and follow them.
1. Keep up with the reading. You have quite a few chapters, quizzes, discussion postings, and homework assignments for this class. Students who keep up with the reading tend to do much better in this kind of class than those who do not.
2. Work with others. You will be assigned to a group for projects and online discussions. Make sure to keep in touch with your teammates and do your work. Remember your team is counting on you. Doing your work includes contributing to the online discussion board.

E-mail
When you sign into the classroom, check the class news on the front page. Important announcements will appear there. Also, check your e-mail for messages from your instructor.
1. Check your e-mail at least three times per week (more often is better).
2. Be patient. Do not expect an immediate response when you send a message. Generally, two days is considered a reasonable amount of time to receive a reply. I do try to respond to messages within 24-48 hours although this may be 72 hours on the weekend.
3. Always include the course name in the subject line and refer to a particular assignment or topic.
4. Be courteous and considerate. Being honest and expressing your position thoroughly is very important, but being considerate of others online is just as important as in the classroom.
5. Make every effort to be clear. Online communication lacks the nonverbal cues that fill in much of the meaning in face-to-face communication.
6. Do not use ALL CAPS. This is considered “shouting” and the message is very hard to read. Check spelling, grammar, and punctuation (you may want to compose in word processing software then cut and paste the message into the discussion or e-mail).
7. Break up large blocks of text into paragraphs and use a blank line between paragraphs.
8. If you have a question regarding the course material, post the question in the Discussion Forum and specify the specific chapter/topic. Other students will appreciate seeing the question and your instructor’s answer. Students are encouraged to respond to other students’ questions. Learning by teaching is a powerful tool. Please do not send your instructor e-mail related to the course content. That is the purpose of the Discussion Forum. It takes the place of classroom discussion.
9. Never assume that your e-mail can be read by no one except yourself; others may be able to read or access your e-mail. Never send or keep anything that you would not mind seeing on the evening news.
10. Please keep all postings professional. Correct grammar and spelling are an important part of being a professional. Review your comments before you post them. Write as though you were sending the correspondence to your principal or a parent of one of your students.

ASSIGNMENT PROTOCOLS
1. Graded Discussions will have an opening date and a closing date. Postings before or after these dates automatically are removed from the discussion board.
2. Any test or quiz required in the course must be completed on or before the designated due date.
3. Please practice safe computing by having a virus detection program loaded on your computer that checks for viruses on e-mail, attachments, documents, etc.
SPED 6706 7

ACADEMIC HONESTY
Students are expected to adhere the highest standards of academic honesty. Plagiarism occurs when a student uses or purchases ghost-written papers. It also occurs when a student utilizes the ideas or information obtained from another person without giving credit to that person. If plagiarism or another act of academic dishonesty occurs, it will be dealt with in accordance with the academic misconduct policy as stated in The Uncatalog, Undergraduate Catalog, and the Graduate Catalog.
COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course provides an in-depth study of the major cognitive and behavioral theories of classroom learning. Emphasis will be placed on enabling teachers and counselors to better understand how students learn; on helping educators identify and remove barriers that impede student learning; and on helping educators develop, utilize and advocate teaching practices, programs, and curriculum that lead to academic success for all. Theories of motivation, classroom management practices, and belief systems that promote learning will also be addressed.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors (knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive, decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic), clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence; (b) Field-Based Inquiry; and (c) the Betterment of Society. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National and state standards (INTASC, NBPTS, Learned Societies), insert applicable professional associations that guide your program, e.g. ASHA, PSC) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

APPROACHES TO INSTRUCTION

Various pedagogical methods used for this class include: Interactive technology, e.g., online discussion and chat, small group discussion, lecture, schema project, etc.)

   (Knowledgeable; Reflective; NBPTS 1,2,3; CACREP SC A.1, 4; SC C. 3b, d);

4. learn to integrate and synthesize research findings on teaching and learning to generate new, more effective teaching activities (Alexander, 2006; Bruning, Schraw, Norby, & Ronning, 2003; Gredler, 2005; Ormrod, 2008; Slavin, 2005)

   (Decision makers; Culturally Sensitive; Proactive; Reflective; NBPTS 4,5; CACREP SC A.1, 4; SC C. 3b, d);

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICY

1. Module Quiz and Final Exam: A quiz is scheduled at the end of each module. A total of six Module Quizzes will be offered during the semester. Each Module Quiz consists of 20 multiple-choice questions related to the content covered in the module. The final exam contains 60 multiple-choice questions related to all six modules. You can take each Module Quiz and the Final Exam up to two times. If you choose to take each test twice, you need to wait for at least four hours to take the test the second time. The higher score of the two trials will be recorded as your performance on the test. You need to observe the scheduled test date and time. If you miss the test deadline, you will NOT be able to take the test. If an emergency arises the day of an exam, please contact Dr. Cao: lcao@westga.edu as soon as possible.

Course Objectives: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

2. Class Discussion: Online discussion requirements: Students are expected to read and participate in all online discussions. Class discussion for each week is worth 5 points. The discussion consists of two parts. In part one, you are required to post your initial responses (2 pt) to the discussion questions. In part two, you are required to offer reflective responses to AT LEAST two postings (3 pts) posted by your classmates. A reflective response goes beyond simple agreement or endorsement of responses that have already been posted. It includes new information, personal perspectives, or other input that demonstrates thought and elaboration of the issue.

Course Objectives: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

3. Schema Project: As a summary exercise to synthesize the information in the class, you will create a visual representation of effective instruction in the form of schema representation—network of organized ideas. The purpose of this schema project is for you to (a) draw together all that you have learned about learning and instruction from the class, and (b) attempt to represent the most important aspects of this knowledge in an organized pictorial. Your representation should reflect your personal scheme (a concept that you will learn more about during the class) for effective instruction. Therefore, key elements to include will be important concepts from the textbook, interconnections among the concepts, clear layout, personalized applications, and all the creativity you can muster. This is a project you could use as evidence to demonstrate your understanding of effective teaching and learning in your particular subject area. The representation will be developed on computer using a software, e.g., Inspiration, Gliffy, etc. Please check the Schema Project folder on CourseDen for the instruction and sample schema projects.

Course Objectives: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

4. Artifact to Foliotek and Reflection Paper:

Page 221 of 335
If you are required by your program to meet the Foliotek requirements, you need to post your schema project in your Foliotek account, plus a one-page reflection paper on how completing the schema project helped you fulfill the requirements described in the course framework above.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is an introduction to the basics of teaching and learning with an emphasis on establishing decorum and structure in the classroom.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence [knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive]; (b) Field-Based Inquiry [decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading]; and (c) the Betterment of Society [collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic]. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National standards [Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC)] also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

Assignments:

Assignment 1: Classroom Management Plan (100 points). Students will prepare a discussion of what they anticipate their classroom being like, including how it will look physically, what rules, routines, and procedures will be prescribed for their future students, and a discussion of how instruction will take place in their classroom setting, e.g., large and small grouping.

(Objectives 5-6)

Assignment 2: Lesson Plans (100 points). Students will prepare two lesson plans based on their content, e.g., history, English, constructed using the Understanding by Design format. They will be expected to use one lesson plan in their lab setting and have a review done by their cooperating teacher or university supervisor. The lesson plans should use different strategies and demonstrate how the student will diversify for learners with different needs.

(Objectives 1, 2, 3, 7)

Assignment 3: Rubric and Test (50 points). Students will develop a test and rubric on some GPS in their content area. The test should include a variety of items and the rubric should be about a paper or presentation in the classroom.

(Objectives 1-4)

Assignment 4: Micro-Teaching (100 points). Students will teach the class for a period of 15 minutes using a strategy other than lecture. They will present an abbreviated lesson plan that includes the GPS addressed and an outline of the procedures to be used.

(Objectives 1-4)

Assignment 5: Exams (100 points). There will be two exams during the semester that will test students’ knowledge of the text and class discussion.

(Objectives 1-7)

Assignment 6: Reflections (50 points). Students will prepare 5 reflection papers based upon their experiences in classrooms. Guidelines will be placed on the website or CourseDen page that supports this course.

ACTIVITIES AND ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICY

Activities and Assessments:

Class Attendance and Participation (30 points)

Students will attend and participate in all classes that are scheduled on campus, be prepared for each class by doing the assigned readings in advance, and have the appropriate materials required for class activities. Students will also receive points for participation in online class forums.
Absence from on campus sessions and/or online forums during the week in which they are active may lower a student’s cumulative point total by 30 points.

(Objectives # 1,2,3,4,5,6; disposition; teacher observation)

2.0 Weekly Work

2.1 Weekly Discussions (14 discussions @ 3 points each = 42 points)

Each week the student will respond to a discussion prompt provided by the instructor. Students will be assessed on the degree to which they addressed the discussion prompt, reflection, the degree to which the posting contributed to the discussion, and the timeliness of their postings.

Please Note: Since discussion postings are a part of an active conversation postings made after the week during which the discussion is active will not receive ANY credit. Therefore, it is very important that discussion postings are made in a timely manner.

(Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; Knowledge, Skills, Disposition; Teacher Observation, Course LMS postings, online discussions)

2.2 Weekly Quizzes (15 quizzes @ 2 points each = 30 points)

Each week a short quiz of no more than five questions will be made available through the course website. The quiz will be based on that week’s readings. Please consult the tentative course schedule for each week’s readings.

(Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; Knowledge, Skills; Course LMS Quizzes)

3.0 Student Work

All student work submitted during the course is required to be original. All projects must be completed to be graded.

3.1 Introduction to the Virtual Lab (4 Points)

In this assignment the student will access the UWG Virtual Lab and create a basic webpage in their UWG student Web account. Specific instructions, including a video tutorial, are available in the assignment area of the course.

(Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; Knowledge, Skills; rubric).

3.2 Establishing the Web Portfolio (5 Points)

Using materials provided in the class the student should use their UWG web space to establish a web based portfolio for the class. The portfolio will be built as each assignment is completed for the class.
(Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; Knowledge, Skills; rubric).

3.3 Georgia Statehood: A WebQuest (4 Points)
In this assignment the student will create a predefined WebQuest. Specific instructions, including a video tutorial, are available in the assignment area of the course.

In this assignment the student will create a basic WebQuest which will be incorporated into their final curriculum website. Specific instructions are available in the assignment area of the course.
(Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; Knowledge, Skills; rubric).

3.5 Embedding Video in a Webpage (4 Points)
In this assignment the student will use Dreamweaver to create a learning activity that incorporates video. Specific instructions, including a video tutorial, are available in the assignment area of the course.
(Course Objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; Knowledge, Skills; rubric).

3.6 Multimedia (4 Points)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to increase the school leader’s knowledge and understanding of assessment and its role in improving student achievement. Students will examine the knowledge and skill base that supports the effective use of assessment within classrooms and schools. The nature and purpose of assessment, its use for improving instruction, and the design of high-quality, teacher-developed classroom assessments will be emphasized.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at the University of West Georgia forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences and outcomes are created. By incorporating the theme “Developing Educators for School Improvement,” the College assumes responsibility for preparing educators who can positively influence school improvement through altering classrooms, schools, and school systems (transformational systemic change). Ten descriptors (decision makers, leaders, lifelong learners, adaptive, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic, knowledgeable, proactive, and reflective) are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing educators who are prepared to improve schools through strategic change. National principles (Educational Leadership Constituent Council) and standards are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to develop educators who are prepared to function effectively in diverse educational settings and with competencies that are instrumental to planning, implementing, assessing and re-evaluating existing or proposed practices. This course’s objectives are related directly to the conceptual framework and appropriate descriptors, principles or propositions, and Learned Society standards are identified for each objective. Class activities and assessments that align with course objectives, course content, and the conceptual framework are identified in a separate section of the course syllabus.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
Students will:
1. characterize the relationships among teaching, assessment, testing, measurement, and evaluation. (Ainsworth & Christinson, 1998; Anderson, 2003; Danielson, 2002; Popham, 2006)

   (Decision Makers; Knowledge; ELCC 2, 3)

2. understand the connection between assessment and instruction in a standards based classroom and describe how learning targets help direct the instructional process. (Ainsworth & Christinson, 1998; Bernhardt, 2004; Davies, 2000; Depka, 2006; McMillan, 2003)

   (Decision Makers; Knowledge; ELCC 2)

3. identify and describe various types of classroom assessments, their essential characteristics, and the major advantages and disadvantages associated with the application of these assessments. (Bernhardt, 2003; Depka, 2006; Holcomb, 1999; Schmoker, 2001; Salkin, 2006; Stiggins 2007)

   (Decision Makers; Knowledge; ELCC 2)

4. demonstrate the ability to select, develop, and or use appropriate assessments for different educational purposes. Bernhardt, 2003;Depka, 2006; Holcomb, 1999; Schmoker, 2001; Salkin, 2006; Stiggins, 2007)

   (Decision Makers; Knowledge; Proactive; ELCC 2)

5. apply validity criteria to classroom assessment results to reduce sources of bias that may distort the accurate interpretation of student results, and describe ways to improve the reliability of classroom assessments. (Ainsworth, 2006; Borien, 2005; Davies, 2000; Popham, 2006)

   (Decision Makers; Knowledge; ELCC 2)

6. be able to design and implement a classroom assessment model that targets appropriate achievement expectations for students, to include performance assessments and their corresponding scoring rubrics, and modified classroom assessments that accommodate students with disabilities. (Davies, 2000; Depka, 2006; McMillan, 2003; Steinhorm, 2002; Stiggins, 2007)

   (Decision Makers; Knowledge; Collaborative; Reflective; Culturally Sensitive; Proactive; ELCC 2, 3)

7. describe the leader’s role in understanding barriers to achieving excellence in assessment in schools and identify strategies to overcome those barriers. (Bracy, 2000; Schmoker, 2001; Stiggins, 2001)

   (Decision Makers; Knowledge; Collaborative; Reflective; Culturally Sensitive; Proactive; Leaders; ELCC 2, 3, 6)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Prerequisite: Admission to Teacher Education.
This course is designed to engage interns in a critical reflection of issues, topics, materials, and skills appropriate to their professional development and teaching experience during their internship. The course will also serve as a capstone experience for satisfying exit requirements of the program. Taken concurrently with SEED 7286, 7287, or 7288.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence [knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive]; (b) Field-Based Inquiry [decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading]; and (c) the Betterment of Society [collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic]. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National standards (INTASC) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICY

Assignments:

1. Seminar Meetings and On-line Discussions: Students are expected to maintain regular and punctual attendance at all seminar meetings. Students are also expected to actively and reflectively participate in all seminar meetings and on-line discussions. Students must post their own reflections and respond to two other postings for each on-line discussion.
   (Course Objectives 1-3)

2. Foliotek: Students must complete ALL Foliotek requirements this semester – UWG Framework Descriptors, Content Standards, and Professional Artifacts (Resume/Vita, Teaching Philosophy, and Effect on Instruction). For each standard, students must have at least one (1) artifact that demonstrates their competence in that standard. Students may use the same artifact for NO MORE THAN TWO (2) standards. For each standard, students must include a reflection justifying how the artifact(s) demonstrate their competency in that standard. Artifacts must be revised if necessary before submission. Successful completion of the portfolio using Foliotek is a minimum requirement for passing this course. If a student does not receive a “MET” on all standards in Foliotek, this will result in an F grade for the entire course. Artifacts that are not appropriately submitted, not revised or missing will result in a “DOES NOT MEET” for that standard.
(Course Objective 4)

3. Reflective Paper: Students will compose a reflective paper that communicates their growth as a professional in regards to understanding how content, pedagogy, diversity, ethics, and technology affect the teaching profession—a summary of your teacher preparation process through UWG.
(Course Objective 5)

EVALUATION PROCEDURES

Assignments will be graded by the course instructor, based on accuracy, completeness, and consistency with deadlines, as well as the guidelines distributed and/or discussed in class. Each assignment will be assigned a specific number of points. Failure to meet deadlines/guidelines for the assignments may result in a grade reduction.

Field Placement Policy – 5.4. DISCONTINUATION POLICY [Adopted 05/97. Revised and approved by Administrative Council 06/03. Effective 01/04]

There are circumstances that warrant discontinuing the candidate’s admission to teacher education program and/or field experience placement. The termination of the admission to teacher education program status and/or the field experience placement may be immediate when the actions of the teacher candidate present a negative impact on the learning environment or on the safety of the students, or when the actions of the teacher candidate do not conform to responsible professional conduct as outlined in the Code of Ethics adopted by the Professional Standards Commission; or in the knowledge, skills, and dispositions as outlined in the Conceptual Framework of the College of Education; or as determined by university faculty, site administration, Department Chair, or the administrator who coordinates field experiences.

In such circumstances, the following actions may be taken:

1. The university supervisor and/or course instructor(s) and the Department Chair confer immediately with the teacher candidate to be sure that he or she is aware of the seriousness of the situation and to provide the teacher candidate with an opportunity to present additional information.
2. The university supervisor and/or course instructor(s) and the Department Chair review the data and make a decision to either allow the candidate to continue in the teacher education program or be removed from the teacher education program.

3. The teacher candidate is informed of the decision, in writing and in conference by the Department Chair and/or the administrator who coordinates field experiences.

4. The Department Chair, advisor, and/or appropriate faculty member discuss with the candidate other career alternatives, available campus support resources, and/or options for a second opportunity in the teacher education program. The teacher candidate is informed of the appropriate procedures for appeal.

Note: Unprofessional acts and/or acts which pose a safety risk may result in immediate termination of the admission to teacher education status, application for admission to teacher education, and/or field experience placements.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Designed for investigation and assessment of and research into the teaching of social studies with implications for strategies and curriculum needs at the secondary level.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence [knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive]; (b) Field-Based Inquiry [decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading]; and (c) the Betterment of Society [collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic]. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National standards [Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Supervision Consortium (INTASC), the National Board of Professional Teachers Standards (NBPTS) and the National Council for the Social Studies (NCSS)] also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Students will:

1. discuss the lack of a clear definition of social studies, relate how that plays out in the curriculum of our schools, (Beal, Bolick, & Martorella 2009; Dynneson, Gross, & Berson, 2007);
2. explore instructional practices which appear to contribute to student learning in the social studies, investigate research on successful practice, and postulate why these ideas are still rarely used (various articles from Social Education);

3. inquire into the status of the following trends in social studies via literature reviews and interviews and prepare to discuss and debate from multiple perspectives the following issues that confront all social studies teachers:

   Is it social studies or social science?
   Is it history or social studies?
   The proper and effective use of instructional technology
   Service learning
   Censorship
   Religion in the curriculum
   Ability grouping
   Special interest within the social studies (Hess, 2009; Parker, 2010);

4. research a controversial issue (e.g., situation ethics, MACOS), from the past and relate it to present arguments over curriculum, e.g., global education, multicultural education (various journals and past issues of Social Education and The Social Studies);

5. prepare classroom presentations using Powerpoint or similar presentation programs (Bennett & Berson, 2009); and

6. review CD ROM, multimedia programs, videos, and information via Internet and be prepared to discuss the impact of media on the social studies curriculum (Bennett & Berson, 2009).

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICY

Activities and Assessments:

Written Work:

All work should demonstrate your ability to conduct research, to interpret and integrate information, and the ability to express thoughts coherently in oral and written form. All work should be carefully proof-read for Standard English grammar, spelling, capitalization, punctuation, and proper citations according to APA 6th ed.) guidelines (not MLA).

In addition to the use of APA (6th ed) guidelines, all written work should be completed in a typed, double – space format, with Times New Roman font, size 12, and 1 inch margins on all sides.

All copyright rules must be strictly adhered to in the development of our Best Practices guide and all other written work. If work is copyrighted and you wish to use it in your Best Practice Guide, permission must be obtained from the publisher to use the material (i.e. a lesson plan published in a book). Additional information will be posted to WebCT to assist you.

As we work on our Best Practices Guide, progress check-points with deadlines for portions of your work will be established. Any work that is submitted beyond this deadline will incur a 10% penalty.

All work is to be submitted via WebCT as attached documents, instructions and deadlines will be provided. Documents should be prepared with a Microsoft Word program to insure compatibility with Cobb County computer systems. A free copy of the latest Microsoft, Professional edition program is available to you as a student through the SITS center. Additional information will be provided via webct class announcements.

1) Participation

Participation is defined as completion of on-line module work by established deadlines and may include: bulletin board postings; chat room participation; assignment submissions; proactive and timely collaboration with classmates and professor via email, bulletin board, or chatroom; and evidence of proactive, frequent review of information I provide on our Webct Vista course pages. (Note: for full chat room participation points, you must log in to chat at the pre-determined time agreed upon by the group and participate fully and meaningfully in the chat. In addition participation is defined as preparedness for face-to-face meetings in which you will be asked to prepare and demonstrate a lesson illustrating a best practice in the social studies or some other assigned work for in-class use. Finally, participation is defined as proactively and collaboratively working with all class members to assist the in the development of our Best Practices guide. Participation will count toward your course grade (see below).

Face-to-Face Attendance:

We will meet infrequently and will work together to establish a day and time agreeable to all. The work we do in face-to-face meetings will be very important. Consequently, any missed face-to-face meeting will result in a 5% deduction in your final course grade. You will be asked to present your best practices strategy to the class and this will count as part of your participation grade.

2) Best Practices in Social Studies Guide- Research Paper and Abstract: You will select two Best Practices Topics to research. For each strategy, you will complete the following:

Summary: You will write a 5-7 page summary of the research on your topic. This paper should address the following in this sequence: 1) a general description of the strategy and model(s) of the strategy, 2) a summary of how this strategy relates to each of the NCSS Principles of Teaching-Learning for powerful social studies, 3) a description of how this strategy addresses the needs of multiculturally diverse students 4) the history of this strategy (i.e.) who is credited for developing this strategy or writes extensively on this strategy, when was it developed and how extensively is it used in social studies classrooms today, 5) a summary of the research on the effects of this strategy on teaching and learning in the social studies, including effects in a multicultural diverse classroom 6) a summary of non-research based published narratives that would support the strategy as Best Practice, 7) a description of the costs of this strategy for school districts, if commercially produced i.e.) History Alive.

Note: Social Education, Theory and Research in Social Studies Education, Social Studies and the Young Learner (all NCSS publications), CITE (an on-line journal for research related to technology integration in the social studies), Middle Ground and Becoming (middle grades journals), NCSS Bulletins, and NCSS Position Statements should all be consulted for this research. In addition, ERIC (Educational Clearinghouse for Research in Education available on-line), Merlot (an on-line clearinghouse of information related to teaching strategies), the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development website with articles from leading journals, and Middle Web website should be consulted. Your paper MUST reflect research from these journals, not simply on-line investigations.

Abstract:

For each best strategies topic you research, include a 1 page abstract summarizing the strategy (the model), it's relation to the NCSS Principles of Teaching-Learning for powerful social studies, and the effects of the strategy on teaching-learning. This is the page teachers will most likely read in the Guide so be sure to prove your case that this is a Best Practice.

3) Best Practices in Social Studies Resource Packet

For each best strategies topic you research, you will develop a resource packet for use by Cobb County social studies teachers. See Course Content via WebctVista for more information. You will also be asked to suggest resources for your classmates’ work via the course bulletin board.

4) Best Practices in Social Studies Lesson Plan Samples
For each best strategies topic you research, you will develop sample lesson plans for the social studies teachers of Cobb County for grades 6-12. A lesson plan format will be provided in class and the number of plans will be determined by us in a collaborative manner based on the needs of Cobb County and our own needs and time restraints. Note: technology integration may involve a combination of lesson plans and the selection and critique of a Webquest/Virtual Field Trip. Development of the Webquest/Virtual Field Trip is optional.

5) Bulletin Board postings
In most modules, you will be asked to post a bulletin board posting related to teaching and learning social studies and our mutual work on the Best Practices Guide. All postings should be posted as attachments, unless otherwise indicated. All postings should adhere to the requirements for written work described above. Note that while I will monitor and actively participate in the bulletin board postings, I will not be able to evaluate every posting. Formal evaluation, for purposes of assigning points, will be random. See rubric “Course Content” via WebCT for how you will be evaluated for the individual bulletin board postings I choose to evaluate. Your total points for the course will reflect your average score on individual postings that I formally evaluate. (Example, if your average score on 4 postings is a 8.5 out of 10 for all postings I grade (See bulletin board rubric), I will convert that to 85% of the course points for bulletin board postings – 10 pts possible – you will earn 8.5 points out of 100 for the course points. All bulletin board entries are to be completed by Sunday, midnight, for each module. See webcst vista and course calendar. Note – full points for bulletin board postings require completion by Saturday midnight and responding to more than 1 classmate. The earlier in the week you can do this, the better our dialogue will be.

6) Chat Room (Part of Participation Grade – see above)
From time to time, I will ask you to meet with classmates, and myself when possible, to discuss our work in a chatroom at a mutually agreeable time. You are expected to arrive on time and follow rules for chatroom etiquette and academic quality. You are also expected to participate fully, offering meaningful comments, suggestions, questions for further consideration etc. (not simply, I agree with you, that sounds good etc.) When a chat is scheduled, you are expected to participate for at least 45 minutes. Roles in the chat room will alternate (see WebCTVista) for more information. You are expected to fulfill your assigned role for full participation points. Chat Room work will count toward participation points in the course. When a chat room is scheduled for a module, it is to be completed by Sunday midnight (see webcst vista modules and calendar).

7) Final Presentation Best Practices Guide:
I will schedule a time for Cobb County officials to meet with us at the end of the semester so that we can present our work to them. You will present a summary presentation of your work utilizing Microsoft Power Point. When applicable, it should include links to websites, sound, video clips from United Streaming or an actual classroom, etc. You will present on your two topics. I will also ask for a volunteer to produce a Power Point summarizing the NCSS Principles of Teaching-Learning, the new GPS and how they are related to the Best Practices Strategies your classmates developed. (See below). Tentatively, plan for a 10 minute presentation for each of your strategies.

8) Personal Journal This is such a unique experience. Seldom do we have an opportunity to complete graduate work, or teach a graduate course, in such an authentic nature – our work serves a real purpose, not just a grade or a degree, although both are important to you! Therefore, you are to keep a journal regarding the experience – your thoughts regarding the experience (positive and negative), fears, strategies for completing the work, obstacles and how you overcame them or suggestions for other groups who undertake such an endeavor, what you have learned regarding social studies best practices, how this experience has affected your professional growth/confidence in your abilities, etc. All journals should follow the requirements described above (typed – not handwritten) and will be submitted via webct email the final week of our course. You are required to write a minimum of 5 entries that should represent the beginning, middle, and end of our work together.

9) Manuscript Submission: One of the hallmarks of a professional is to be recognized by their peers through acceptance for publication in one of their journals. You will write a manuscript based on your work in this course and submit it for possible publication to one of the following journals: 1) Becoming – a middle school teacher-oriented journal that publishes articles related to teaching strategies in the middle school and other narratives related to teaching/learning in middle schools (submit to me via email – I am co-editor). For this journal, the manuscript should be based on your work on one of your Best Practices strategies – a summary of the strategy (your research paper), resource guide, and a lesson plan appropriate for middle grades 2) Issues in Middle Level Education (Professors of Middle Level Education) – a narrative describing your experience as a student in this course and Best Practices Guide work. Go online to find this on-line journal’s requirements for submission. Several of us can work on this together and I will contribute my perspective and edit for publication purposes. 3) Georgia Council for the Social Studies – format to be determined with Mr. Eddie Bennett, Cobb County Schools, and a leader in GCSS 4) The Social Studies. This will be due the final week of class – a copy to me with your future contact information via WebCT Vista email. You must provide evidence that you submitted it to the appropriate person and according to the submission requirements for the journal you submitted to. Evidence examples – a copy of email, response back from editor etc. When you receive notification that your manuscript has been accepted, please forward a copy of this acceptance email or a note indicating acceptance, author(s), article title, journal name to anazzal@westga.edu with the citation for the article (your name, title of article, journal, and publication date i.e.) Fall 2007 if indicated. We are a small class and you may decide to co-write a manuscript with other classmates and/or me. If you choose to write with me, I will edit and add my perspective and you and your classmates will be cited first in author citation. Follow written work guidelines above, APA format. Be sure to check journal publication requirements for submission. (I can help you best, in terms of requirements, with Becoming but cannot guarantee acceptance as it is a blind peer-reviewed article. I will not evaluate as editor.)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Designed for investigation and assessment of and research in the teaching of science with implications for strategies and curricular needs at the secondary level.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at SUWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. By incorporating the theme "Developing Educators for School Improvement," the College assumes responsibility for preparing educators who can positively influence school improvement through altering classrooms, schools, and school systems (transformational systemic change). Ten descriptors (decision makers, leaders, lifelong learners, adaptive, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic, knowledgeable, proactive, and reflective) are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing educators who are prepared to improve schools through strategic change. National principles (INTASC), propositions (NBPTS), and standards (Learned Societies) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to develop educators who are prepared to function effectively in diverse educational settings with competencies that are instrumental to planning, implementing, assessing, and re-evaluating existing or proposed practices. This course's objectives are related directly to the conceptual framework and appropriate descriptors, principles, or propositions; and Learned Society standards are identified for each objective. Class activities and assessments that align with course objectives, course content, and the conceptual framework are identified in a separate section of the course syllabus.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
Students will:

1. develop a teaching philosophy and gain a working familiarity with professional literature in Science Education (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995; Rutherford & Ahlgren, 1990);

   \[(\text{Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10})\]

2. investigate current national projects, issues, practices, and materials in teaching, learning, and formal assessment of middle/secondary Science (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, Science for All Americans, 1989; Scope, Sequence, and Coordination of Middle/Secondary School Science, 1992);

   \[(\text{Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10})\]

3. develop skill in the design and use of materials and other media/technology for the teaching and formal assessment of Science (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995);

   \[(\text{Decision Makers, Leaders, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 10})\]

4. develop or extend those strategies and techniques considered most effective for the teaching and formal assessment of middle/secondary Science (Farmer, Farrell, & Lehman, 1991; Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995; Rutherford & Ahlgren, 1990);

   \[(\text{Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10})\]

5. experience first hand a variety of problem solving challenges and develop a repertoire of skills and strategies for teaching and assessing problem solving (Farmer, Farrell, & Lehman, 1991; Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995); and

   \[(\text{Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 7, 8})\]

   \[(\text{Decision Makers, Leaders, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 10})\]

ACTIVITIES, ASSESSMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, & GRADING POLICY

Links to Conceptual Framework: The overall evaluation for this course is structured so that each assignment is aligned with learning a different teaching model and applying the model to the overall teaching of a science lesson. Because of the broad nature of the course, each conceptual framework descriptor is covered in the course assignments. At the completion of the course, students will have demonstrated achievement in the areas of decision making; choosing models/innovations, lesson planning strategies, and assessment techniques (Assignments 2.1-2.7, 3), leadership: taking responsibility for ongoing inquiry (All assignments), lifelong learning: studying the effectiveness of practices (Assignments 2.1-2.7, 3), being adaptive: changing educational practices to meet students’ needs (Assignments 2.2, 2.1-2.7, 3), collaboration: working with colleagues and stakeholders to plan and carry out science studies (Assignments 1.1, 1.2, 2.3-2.7, 3), cultural sensitivity: adapting models and innovations to meet the needs of diverse students (Assignments 2.3-2.7, 3), empathy: demonstrating sensitivity to the needs of individual, family, and community needs when planning lessons (Assignments 2.3, 3), knowledge: drawing on pedagogical, content, and professional knowledge, including knowledge from others, when planning the teaching of science (Assignments 2.1, 2.2, 2.4-2.7, 3), being proactive: implementing new interventions and innovations to better serve children (Assignments 1.1, 1.2, 2.5-2.7, 3), and reflection: engaging in ongoing, continuous reflection of the teaching process to determine effectiveness of models/innovations (All assignments).

ACTIVITIES AND ASSESSMENTS

All activities must be completed in a typed, double space format, with Times / New Times Roman font, size 12 and 1-inch margins on all sides unless otherwise indicated.

1. Philosophy: You will write about your Philosophy of Teaching Science on the first day of class. On the last day of class turn in a 1-2 page paper telling me how your philosophy regarding teaching science changed during the term. Be reflective: where do labs, technology, multiculturalism, alternative teaching models, and alternative assessment fit into your philosophy? (Objective #10; Disposition; checklist)
2. Lesson Plans – Teachable Unit: You will be responsible for preparing five lesson plans utilizing a “new teaching model” in each lesson (lessons usually contain more than one model), according to the format discussed in class. By the end of the course you should be able to discuss all models sequenced as a teachable unit, but your lesson plans do NOT need to be a sequential unit (you will do that during student teaching seminar). Your plans are to be thorough and include everything that is pertinent to your lesson, especially a Formal Assessment AND how it will be graded (5 different assessment formats). Your plans assume 50-minute periods as one Session of teaching (5 classes maximum). This is a term project as new models will be introduced throughout the term. These problems are to be completed and submitted in your “File.” Include a brief reflection of any lessons actually taught in a classroom or simulated classroom session. (Reflection = What went well? What did not go well? What might I do differently next time? What did I learn about teaching when using this model?) (Objectives #1, 2; Knowledge, skills, disposition; rubric)

3. Problem Solving – Enrichment Activities: From any source, find an “Enrichment Activity” for each lesson plan and include it in the final version of the lesson plan. Enrichment activities can be an entire lesson, but usually are only part of a lesson. Include this part of the lesson plan under “activities.” At least some of the activities must include problem solving/inquiry/discovery (I hate worksheets!! – But graphic organizers are fine :>). These activities are to be completed by you as if you were the student. All work, including “in-between” steps, and answers must be provided to receive full credit. These do not need to be typed. Include a brief reflection of any activity actually taught in a classroom or simulated classroom.
(Objective #4; Knowledge, skills; checklist)

4. Article Review: Find one article on middle/secondary school mathematics, dated 2001 or newer from peer-reviewed Education Journals (discussed in class). For the article, write a 1-page Critique including a Summary section and a Reflection section (Label the sections!), from one of the following areas: teaching middle/secondary school mathematics, learning middle/secondary school mathematics, technology and/or manipulatives in middle/secondary mathematics classrooms, or formally assessing middle/secondary school mathematics. Start each Critique with an appropriate APA style Reference (discussed in class), and Critiques should be turned in electronically, if possible. (Objectives #7, 8; Knowledge, disposition; checklist)

5. Individual Presentations: You will have at least one teaching presentation (as time permits) based on the topics you signed up for during the first class meeting (presentation times might change due to time constraints). You will need to turn in a lesson plan for the presentation, due at the time of the presentation. These lesson plans and activities CAN also be used to fulfill Activities 2 &/or 3 above. The presentations should be about 30 minutes in length, utilize a “new teaching model,” and should include the use of most of the following: Example Theory (discussed in class), demonstrations, questioning techniques (Inductive questioning, as discussed in class), manipulatives and/or technology. Formal Assessment of the lesson should be discussed at the end of the presentation and included in the lesson plan, but not included as part of the presentation.
(Objectives #1, 2, 3, 6; Knowledge, skills; peer critique, teacher observation)

6. Internet Search: Find 2 original Internet sites related to middle/secondary science – 1 for teachers, 1 for students or parents. For each site include: (1) Name; (2) URL; (3) Audience; (4) Brief Description of the Site; and (5) Usefulness for you/students/parents. Your search results should be submitted electronically, if possible. (Objectives #3, 7; Knowledge, skills; checklist)

7. Course Checklist (Portfolio Preparation): This assignment is a cumulative assignment for the semester. All you need to do is complete your checklist and turn in all assignments on or before the last day of regular class (not the final exam day). Remember that some assignments can be turned in electronically, as applicable, but also check off the checklist.

8. Term Tests: We will have two exams during the term of different types and discuss the pros and cons of the different formats in terms of evaluating your students. The tests will cover the new teaching models and information (especially theoretical) discussed during class to date in the semester. See the course outline for the dates of these examinations.
   (Objectives #1, 2, 3, 4; Knowledge, skills, disposition; exam)

10. Final Examination: During the designated time, we will meet to turn in your 2-page (maximum) take-home final exam on the implementation of the new teaching models in your teaching, and a reflection of the entire course. A 3-minute summary will be presented in class by each student – bring snacks for socializing when we finish.
   (Objectives #1, 2, 3, 4, 10; Knowledge, skills, disposition; exam)

11. Professionalism/Participation: Students are expected to attend all class sessions (and complete online activities on time) and are accountable for all materials covered. Course grades will be reduced for unexcused absences (at 3 hours) or late online activities, and student will be dropped from the course if more that 6 hours of class time are missed. Students are also expected to participate in class activities and discussions. Failure to do so may result in course grade reduction.
   (Objective #2, 3, 4; Knowledge, skills, disposition; teacher observation)

EVALUATION PROCEDURES

You will be evaluated using the following criteria: (1) individual and small group work, (2) whole class discussion with an emphasis on student interaction, (3) tests, (4) student presentations, (5) writing LPs, and (6) lecture/discussion with student interaction.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Exploration of models, techniques, strategies, formal assessment, and research for teaching middle/secondary mathematics

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at SUWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. By incorporating the theme "Developing Educators for School Improvement," the College assumes responsibility for preparing educators who can positively influence school improvement through altering classrooms, schools, and school systems (transformational systemic change). Ten descriptors (decision makers, leaders, lifelong learners, adaptive, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic, knowledgeable, proactive, and reflective) are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing educators who are prepared to improve schools through strategic change. National principles (INTASC), propositions (NBPTS), and standards (Learned Societies) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to develop educators who are prepared to function effectively in diverse educational settings with competencies that are instrumental to planning, implementing, assessing, and re-evaluating existing or proposed practices. This course's objectives are related directly to the conceptual framework and appropriate descriptors, principles, or propositions; and Learned Society standards are identified for each objective. Class activities and assessments that align with course objectives, course content, and the conceptual framework are identified in a separate section of the course syllabus.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
Students will:

1. gain a working familiarity with professional literature in mathematics education (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995);

   (Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10)

2. investigate current issues, practices, and materials in teaching, learning, and formal assessment of middle school mathematics (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995);

   (Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10)

3. develop skill in the design and use of manipulative materials and other media/technology for the teaching and assessing of mathematics (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995);

   (Decision Makers, Leaders, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8)

4. develop or extend those strategies and techniques considered most effective for the teaching and assessing of secondary mathematics (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995);

   (Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive, Reflective; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10)

5. experience first hand a variety of problem solving challenges and develop a repertoire of skills and strategies for teaching and assessing problem solving (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995); and

   (Decision Makers, Lifelong Learners, Collaborative, Culturally Sensitive, Empathetic, Knowledgeable, Proactive; NBPTS 3, 4, 5, 7, 8)

6. utilize a variety of enrichment topics in teaching and assessing secondary mathematics (Hatfield, Edwards & Bitter, 1997; Heddens & Speer, 1997; Posamentier & Stepelman, 1995).

ACTIVITIES, ASSESSMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, & GRADING POLICY

Links to Conceptual Framework: The overall evaluation for this course is structured so that each assignment is aligned with learning a different teaching model and applying the model to the overall teaching of a mathematics lesson. Because of the broad nature of the course, each conceptual framework descriptor is covered in the course assignments. At the completion of the course, students will have demonstrated achievement in the areas of decision making: choosing models/innovations, lesson planning strategies, and assessment techniques (Assignments 2.1-2.7, 3), leadership: taking responsibility for ongoing inquiry (All assignments), lifelong learning: studying the effectiveness of practices (Assignments 2.1-2.7, 3), being adaptive: changing educational practices to meet students’ needs (Assignments 2.2, 2.1-2.7, 3), collaboration: working with colleagues and stakeholders to plan and carry out mathematics studies (Assignments 1.1, 1.2, 2.3-2.7, 3), cultural sensitivity: adapting models and innovations to meet the needs of diverse students (Assignments 2.3-2.7, 3), empathy: demonstrating sensitivity to the needs of individual, family, and community needs when planning lessons (Assignments 2.3, 3), knowledge: drawing on pedagogical, content, and professional knowledge, including knowledge from others, when planning the teaching of mathematics (Assignments 2.1, 2.2, 2.4-2.7, 3), being proactive: implementing new interventions and innovations to better serve children (Assignments 1.1, 1.2, 2.5-2.7, 3), and reflection: engaging in ongoing, continuous reflection of the teaching process to determine effectiveness of models/innovations (All assignments).

ACTIVITIES AND ASSESSMENTS

All activities must be completed in a typed, double space format, with Times / New Times Roman font, size 12 and 1-inch margins on all sides unless otherwise indicated. Projects and papers are due in class on the designated date. Failure to meet assigned due dates may result in grade reduction.

1. Philosophy: You will write about your Philosophy of Teaching Mathematics on the first day of class. On the last day of class turn in a 1-2 page paper telling me how your philosophy regarding teaching mathematics changed during the term. Be reflective: where do manipulatives, technology, multiculturalism, alternative teaching models, and alternative assessment fit into your philosophy? (Objective #10; Disposition; checklist)
2. Lesson Plans – Teachable Unit: You will be responsible for preparing five lesson plans utilizing a “new teaching model” in each lesson (lessons usually contain more than one model), according to the format discussed in class. By the end of the course you should be able to discuss all models sequenced as a teachable unit, but your lesson plans do NOT need to be a sequential unit (you will do that during student teaching seminar). Your plans are to be thorough and include everything that is pertinent to your lesson, especially a Formal Assessment AND how it will be graded (5 different assessment formats). Your plans assume 50-minute periods as one Session of teaching (5 classes maximum). This is a term project as new models will be introduced throughout the term. These problems are to be completed and submitted in your “File.” Include a brief reflection of any lessons actually taught in a classroom or simulated classroom session. (Reflection = What went well? What did not go well? What might I do differently next time? What did I learn about teaching when using this model?) (Objectives #1, 2; Knowledge, skills, disposition; rubric)

3. Problem Solving – Enrichment Activities: From any source, find an “Enrichment Activity” for each lesson plan and include it in the final version of the lesson plan. Enrichment activities can be an entire lesson, but usually are only part of a lesson. Include this part of the lesson plan under “activities.” At least some of the activities must include problem solving/inquiry/discovery (I hate worksheets!! – But graphic organizers are fine :>). These activities are to be completed by you as if you were the student. All work, including “in-between” steps, and answers must be provided to receive full credit. These do not need to be typed. Include a brief reflection of any activity actually taught in a classroom or simulated classroom. (Objective #4; Knowledge, skills; checklist)

4. Article Review: Find one article on middle/secondary school mathematics, dated 2001 or newer from peer-reviewed Education Journals (discussed in class). For the article, write a 1-page Critique including a Summary section and a Reflection section (Label the sections!), from one of the following areas: teaching middle/secondary school mathematics, learning middle/secondary school mathematics, technology and/or manipulatives in middle/secondary mathematics classrooms, or formally assessing middle/secondary school mathematics. Start each Critique with an appropriate APA style Reference (discussed in class), and Critiques should be turned in electronically, if possible. (Objectives #7, 8; Knowledge, disposition; checklist)

5. Individual Presentations: You will have at least one teaching presentation (as time permits) based on the topics you signed up for during the first class meeting (presentation times might change due to time constraints). You will need to turn in a lesson plan for the presentation, due at the time of the presentation. These lesson plans and activities CAN also be used to fulfill Activities 2 &/or 3 above. The presentations should be about 30 minutes in length, utilize a “new teaching model,” and should include the use of most of the following: Example Theory (discussed in class), demonstrations, questioning techniques (Inductive questioning, as discussed in class), manipulatives and/or technology. Formal Assessment of the lesson should be discussed at the end of the presentation and included in the lesson plan, but not included as part of the presentation. (Objectives #1, 2, 3, 6; Knowledge, skills; peer critique, teacher observation)

6. Internet Search: Find 2 original Internet sites related to mathematics – 1 for teachers, 1 for students or parents. For each site include: (1) Name; (2) URL; (3) Audience; (4) Brief Description of the Site; and (5) Usefulness for you/students/parents. Your search results should be submitted electronically, if possible. (Objectives #3, 7; Knowledge, skills; checklist)
7. Course Checklist (Portfolio Preparation): This assignment is a cumulative assignment for the semester. All you need to do is complete your checklist and turn in all assignments on or before the last day of regular class (not the final exam day). Remember that some assignments can be turned in electronically, as applicable, but also check off the checklist.

8. Term Tests: We will have two exams during the term of different types and discuss the pros and cons of the different formats in terms of evaluating your students. The tests will cover the new teaching models and information (especially theoretical) discussed during class to date in the semester. See the course outline for the dates of these examinations.
   (Objectives #1, 2, 3, 4; Knowledge, skills, disposition; exam)

10. Final Examination: During the designated time, we will meet to turn in your 2-page (maximum) take-home final exam on the implementation of the new teaching models in your teaching, and a reflection of the entire course. A 3-minute summary will be presented in class by each student – bring snacks for socializing when we finish.
    (Objectives #1, 2, 3, 4, 10; Knowledge, skills, disposition; exam)

11. Professionalism/Participation: Students are expected to attend all class sessions (and complete online activities on time) and are accountable for all materials covered. Course grades will be reduced for unexcused absences (at 3 hours) or late online activities, and student will be dropped from the course if more that 6 hours of class time are missed. COURSE DESCRIPTION

The course provides an overview of systematic approaches to instructional planning, development, and evaluation.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. By incorporating the theme "Developing Educators for School Improvement", the College assumes responsibility for preparing educators who can positively influence school improvement through altering classrooms, schools, and school systems (transformational systemic change). Ten descriptors (decision makers, leaders, lifelong learners, adaptive, collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic, knowledgeable, proactive, and reflective) are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing educators who are prepared to improve schools through strategic change. National principles (INTASC), propositions (NBPTS), and standards (Learned Societies) also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to develop educators who are prepared to function effectively in diverse educational settings with competencies that are instrumental to planning, implementing, assessing, and re-evaluating existing or proposed practices. This course's objectives are related directly to the conceptual framework and appropriate descriptors, principles or propositions, and Learned Society standards are identified for each objective. Class activities and assessments that align with course objectives, course content, and the conceptual framework are identified in a separate section of the course syllabus.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Students will:

1. identify and describe the major steps in the systematic design of instruction. (D8 Knowledgable; NBPTS 1,2,3,4; AASL 2); (Dick & Carey, 1995; Gagne, Briggs, & Wager, 1992; Smaldindo, Russell, Heinich, & Molenda, 2005; Kemp, Morrison, and Ross, 2000; Seels & Glasgow, 1998; Reigeluth, 1999; Shambaugh, & Magliaro, 1997; Smith & Ragan, 1999; Turner & Riedling, 2003; Zook, 2001);

2. explain how instructional design principles derive from the information processing model of learning. (D1 Decision Maker; NBPTS 2,3,4; AASL 2); (Gagne, Briggs, & Wager, 1992; Gustafson & Branch, 1997; Roblyer & Edwards, 2004; Shambaugh & Magliaro, 1997; Zook, 2001);

3. apply systematic instructional design principles by selecting a learning problem and carrying out the steps of an instructional design model. (D5 Collaborative; D10 Reflective; NBPTS 1,2,3,4; AASL 2, 3); (Dick & Carey, 1995; Seels & Glasgow, 1993; Gagne, Briggs, & Wager, 1992; ; Smaldindo, Russell, Heinich, & Molenda 2005; Kemp, Morrison, and Ross, 1999; Shambaugh & Magliaro, 1997; Smith & Ragan, 1999; Turner & Riedling, 2003; Zook, 2001); and

4. discuss the value of instructional design today as it relates to the changing nature of society and learners, including the roles of instructional designers in the schools and/or higher education. (D4 Adaptive; NBPTS 1,2,3,4,5; AASL 1, 2, 3, 4); (Bradens, 1996; Callison, 2005; Merrill, 1991; Perkins, 1991; Roblyer & Edwards 2004; Smith & Ragan, 1999; Turner & Riedling, 2003; Willis, 1995; and Zook, 2001).

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING POLICIES

Link to Conceptual Framework

The focus of this course is to provide students with an overview of and opportunities to work with a variety of systematic approaches to instructional planning, implementation, assessment, and evaluation. As students participate in the course and complete the course assignments they will have demonstrated achievement in the areas of decision making: developing an instructional design project centered around student instruction, developing an instructional design project based on an information literacy standard or technology standard for a faculty/staff in-service (course activity 3, 4); being adaptive: comparison paper describing the value of instructional design and its changing role as it relates to the changing nature of society and learners, including provisions in the instructional design project to meet the needs of diverse learners, in-service projects (course activities 2, 3, 4, 5); being collaborative: developing an instructional design project collaboratively with teachers and media specialists centered around student instruction (course activity 3, 4); knowledge: developing an instructional design project centered around student instruction, developing an instructional design project based on an information literacy standard or technology standard for a faculty/staff in-service, completing a project describing and comparing two systematic instructional design models, completing midterm and final examinations which will cover text information, class materials, and WebCT discussions, participation in class and WebCT discussions and activities (course activities 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7); reflection: participation in class and WebCT discussions, comparison paper, thought provokers, describing the evaluative aspects of the instructional design project, field experience reflections, completing the reflective section of the final exam (course activities 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7).

Activities and Assessments:

1. Participation in face-to-face and on-line class activities

   Face-to-face class requirements

   - Students will attend and participate in all classes that are scheduled on campus, be prepared for each class by doing the assigned readings in advance, and have the appropriate materials required for class activities.
   - Absence from on campus sessions may result in a lower cumulative point total. Failure to submit assignments on time will result in a loss of points. (Objectives # 1,2,3,4; disposition; teacher observation)

   On-line class requirements

   - Students will complete the assigned online activities by the specified timelines. Students must check WebCT Vista at least 3 times per week. Students can expect responses from the instructor within 48 hours. If students have any problems they are to contact the Distance Office for assistance and the instructor immediately. The help line e-mail address is on page one of this syllabus as well as the distance office e-mail address and phone number. If this fails call the Distance Learning Office and then the instructor for assistance. Remember, there are computer labs on campus for student use.
   - Students need to go through the tutorials that are available by clicking on the “Student” tab at the top of the WebCT Vista page. Do not wait to ask for help with WebCT Vista. Seek assistance immediately. (Objectives # 1,2,3,4; disposition; teacher observation)
   - Since this is primarily an online course, you are responsible for monitoring your work time in order to complete and submit assignments by the established due dates. Assignments will be accepted late but there will be a loss of points due to the lateness of submission.

   General Statements

   - Extra credit is not available for assignments in this course
   - All student work submitted during the course is required to be original.
   - Work created in another course will not be excepted unless approved by the instructor.
   - All assignments must follow APA format unless otherwise specified.

2. Thought Provokers and Other Discussion Topics

   For each chapter in the text, students will read and respond formally to the questions and situations posted (Thought Provokers). Responses should be both reflective and significant in that your answers should include information that you expect to remember and, perhaps, use a year to five years after you complete this class. What concepts, definitions, and processes are most meaningful to you? These concepts will guide your thinking about the course content and may provoke questions and improve our class and online discussions. Students will also respond to projects developed by their classmates. Students will respond to other discussion topics posted by instructor. (Objectives # 1,2,3,4; knowledge, skills; projects)
3. Student Instruction Design Project ~ Group Project
   Students will discuss and reflect on the Instructional Design steps in relation to collaborative development, implementation, and evaluation of a Student Instruction project. The discussion will be completed collaboratively between students in the course and school library media specialists. Discussion groups will be assigned by the instructor based on the background and experience of students. The project will focus on a variety of grade levels and corresponding QCCs or Performance Standards and will include information literacy and technology skills.

   - Specific details for the Student Instruction Design project will be posted in the “Student ID Project” backpack on the WebCT Vista course page.
   - The work for this project will be completed and submitted periodically throughout the semester.
     (Objective #3; knowledge, skills; project)

4. Faculty/Staff In-Service Design Project
   Students will individually design, hopefully implement, evaluate, and revise one Faculty/Staff In-service Design Project. The project will focus on a specific information literacy standard (school library media students) or a specific technology standard (instructional technology students). The project must use specific Georgia Performance Standards as the context for the In-Service Project.

   - Specific details for the In-Service project will be posted in the under “In-Service Project” backpack on the WebCT Vista course page.
     (Objective #3; knowledge, skills; project)

5. Comparison of Instructional Design Models ~ Individual Project
   Students will define ID, compare three specific instructional design (not research models) models, and explain why they are important in today’s society. To accomplish this each student will individually research, reflect, and prepare a comparison documenting the value of instructional design today as it relates to the changing nature of society and learners and describe and compare two specific instructional design models. The comparison must include the definitions of instructional design as presented in the literature as well as the definition of instructional design as the student sees it, the value of instructional design in the schools, the role the student will play as an instructional designer in the future, and the descriptions and comparisons of instructional design models. A minimum of 5 references must be included. A list of potential resources and definitions found will be due early in the semester. Specific criteria will be posted in the “Comparison of Models” backpack on the WebCT Vista course page. This assignment will be placed in Foliotek.

   Reflection on Instructional Design Models
   After comparing the three instructional design models, students will reflect on their comparison and describe how they would adapt the models to best meet the needs of students. Students will also reflect on the assignment and how it helped them gain a better understanding of AASL standards and College of Education Conceptual Framework descriptors. Specific criteria will be posted in the “Comparison of Models” backpack on the WebCT Vista course page. This assignment will be placed in Foliotek.
   (Objective # 4; knowledge, disposition; written essay)

6. Research Models Exploration
   Students will explore and compare a variety of research models that are most frequently used with students in PreK-12 schools. As each model is explored, information will be recorded on the form provided.
   Connections between the research models and Information Literacy Standards and Technology Standards must also be identified. After all of the specified models have been explored, students will write a comparison of the models and describe the potential use for each model.
(Objective # 3; knowledge, disposition; completed form and essay)

7. Field Experience Activities

   Field Experience Assignment  MEDT 7461  Instructional Design

   I. Description of field assignment

   Examine specific instructional roles of the SLMS through interviewing a SLMS. Discuss roles related to planning, implementing and evaluating student instruction; developing in-service materials; collection development related to Georgia Performance Standards, information literacy standards and technology standards.

   II. Procedures and time allocation — 5 hours

   - Consult a SLMS or media coordinator through interviews, surveys, or questionnaires about their responsibilities related to student instruction and staff development.
   - Discuss ways to catalog materials adding curriculum connection information to individual catalog (MARC) records.
   - Examine a collection for materials that could support Georgia Performance Standards in one curriculum area (math, science, or social studies) for a grade level you are not familiar with. A collection can be examined in person or through a schools on-line catalog.
   - Use LM-NET and Georgia Media Listserv to explore these issues further and see how other SLMS collaborate with teachers, provide staff development, and build their collection to support Georgia Performance Standards through their media programs.

   III. Check list of additional activities to be completed in the field — 10 hours

   - 1 − Examine the LMC collection in-depth / Shelf reading
   - 2 − Plan/collaborate with teachers
   - 3 − Teach information literacy skills (Dewey, orientation, etc.)
   - 4 − Assist students with research needs
   - 5 − Assist students in locating materials
   - 6 − Assist students with multimedia productions
   - 7 − Shelve books
   - 8 − Check books in and out
   - 9 − Collect fines and issue overdue notices
   - 10 − Catalog / Process

   IV. Suggestions of how to prepare for activities:

   - Contact a SLMS or Media Coordinator as soon as possible to set up times for interviewing.
   - Become familiar with course assignments so you can work on final products while you are in the field.
   - Apply learnings from the text, websites and listservs, and outside readings in addition to field experience as you work on class projects.

V. Required assignment documentation to be submitted for course

Brief description of what was done in narrative form OR an annotated outline (check sheet and other artifacts should be attached). Include the job titles of the person(s) involved in the activity such as SLMS, media coordinator, teacher, etc.

Brief description of two or three most significant learnings with statements of future applicability of what has been learned (reflection).

Reflective critique that addresses specific media program administration issues:

- Based on readings, surveying of listservs and online catalogs, and interacting with SLMS, how would you approach collection and material development to support student instruction?
- Potential positive results of collaboration between teachers and SLMS.
- Value of well developed in-service materials

VI. Required documentation to be submitted at the end of course (Save Electronically)
- Field Experience Log (will be placed in Foliotek)
- Field Experience Reflection Form (will be placed in Foliotek)

(Objective # 2, 3, 4: knowledge, skills, disposition; required forms)

8. Completion of Midterm and Final Examination Activities

The midterm and final exam activities will be completed during on-line sessions (midterm) and during our on campus session (final) and will cover the text material and other notes posted in WebCT Vista. The exam activities will consist of both group work and individual work. The final exam will also include a reflective activity. Rationale

The rationale for each is that they are the labs for the corresponding course number. For example, students must complete SEED 7261L along with SEED 7261 which is already on the books. The reason is that all students must complete 900 hours of field experiences during their program.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Prerequisite: Admission to Teacher Education. Application for field experience required prior to enrollment.

This course consists of the field experience that accompanies SEED 7261.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The conceptual framework of the College of Education at UWG forms the basis on which programs, courses, experiences, and outcomes are created. With the goal of Developing Exemplary Practitioners, our programs incorporate ten descriptors, clustered into three interrelated and overlapping themes, that demonstrate our commitment to (a) Professional Excellence [knowledgeable, reflective, inquisitive]; (b) Field-Based Inquiry [decisive, adaptive, proactive, leading]; and (c) the Betterment of Society [collaborative, culturally sensitive, empathetic]. These themes and descriptors are integral components of the conceptual framework and provide the basis for developing exemplary practitioners who are prepared to improve schools and communities. National standards [Interstate New Teacher assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC)] also are incorporated as criteria against which candidates are measured.

The mission of the College of Education is to provide excellence in the initial and advanced preparation of professionals for a variety of settings, to foster an innovative learning community, and to empower a faculty committed to teaching and the dissemination of knowledge. This course’s objectives, activities, and assignments are related directly to the conceptual framework and national standards, as identified below.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Students will:

1. participate in a field experience for one semester (Savage, Savage, & Armstrong, 2006; Teacher education handbook: Policies and procedures, 2010-2011);
   (Professional Excellence; Field Based Inquiry; and the Betterment of Society; INTASC 1-10)

2. develop observational skills and observe classroom practices (Cruikshank, Jenkins, & Metcalf, 2009);
   (Professional Excellence; Field Based Inquiry; and the Betterment of Society; INTASC 1-10)

3. apply theoretical concepts to actual practices in the classroom (Darling-Hammond & Bransford, 2005); and (Professional Excellence; Field Based Inquiry; and the Betterment of Society; INTASC 1-10)

4. follow the directions of the professor of SEED 7261 concerning assignments related to field experiences.

(Professional Excellence; Field Based Inquiry; and the Betterment of Society; INTASC 1-10).

ASSIGNMENTS, EVALUATION PROCEDURES, AND GRADING

Assignments:

1. Complete a field experience in an assigned school by going to the school on agreed upon days, cooperating with the teacher assigned, and the university supervisor.
Objectives, 1, 2, 3

2. Complete any other assignments designated by the university professor and/or university supervisor, e.g., reflection papers, that relate to SEED 7261.

Objectives 1-4

Evaluation Procedures:

An evaluation tool designed by the College of Education faculty will be used to evaluate the candidate’s performance. College supervisors may also complete narrative evaluations of the progress of the candidate in her/his student placement. Successful passage of this experience also involves communicating with the professor for SEED 7261 and the assigned supervisor for this field experience. Failure to maintain open communications by e-mailing and/or telephoning the university supervisor regularly may be grounds for a grade of U in the course. Candidates should communicate absences to the assigned school, the cooperating teacher, and the university supervisor. More than two absences may be grounds for a grade of U. A candidate must successfully pass this field experience to complete her/his program in Teacher Education.

Grading:

S -- Candidate successfully passes the field experience.
U -- Candidate is unsuccessful in passing the field experience.

5.4. DISCONTINUATION POLICY [Adopted 05/97. Revised and approved by Administrative Council 06/03. Effective 01/04]

There are circumstances that warrant discontinuing the candidate’s admission to teacher education program and/or field experience placement. The termination of the admission to teacher education program status and/or the field experience placement may be immediate when the actions of the teacher candidate present a negative impact on the learning environment or on the safety of the students, or when the actions of the teacher candidate do not conform to responsible professional conduct as outlined:

- in the Code of Ethics adopted by the Professional Standards Commission; or
- in the knowledge, skills, and dispositions as outlined in the Conceptual Framework of the College of Education; or as
- determined by university faculty, site administration, Department Chair, or the administrator who coordinates field experiences.

In such circumstances, the following actions may be taken:

1. The university supervisor and/or course instructor(s) and the Department Chair confer immediately with the teacher candidate to be sure that he or she is aware of the seriousness of the situation and to provide the teacher candidate with an opportunity to present additional information.

5-3-2010
2. The university supervisor and/or course instructor(s) and the Department Chair review the data and make a decision to either allow the candidate to continue in the teacher education program or be removed from the teacher education program.

3. The teacher candidate is informed of the decision, in writing and in conference by the Department Chair and/or the administrator who coordinates field experiences.

4. The Department Chair, advisor, and/or appropriate faculty member discuss with the candidate other career alternatives, available campus support resources, and/or options for a second opportunity in the teacher education program. The teacher candidate is informed of the appropriate procedures for appeal.

Note: Unprofessional acts and/or acts which pose a safety risk may result in immediate termination of the admission to teacher education status, application for admission to teacher education, and/or field experience placements.

CLASS, DEPARTMENT, AND UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Academic Honesty: All work completed in this course must be original work developed this semester. Students are expected to adhere to the highest standards of academic honesty. Plagiarism occurs when a student uses or purchases ghostwritten papers. It also occurs when a student utilizes ideas or information obtained from another person without giving credit to that person. If plagiarism or another act of academic dishonesty occurs, it will be dealt with in accordance with the academic misconduct policy as stated in the latest UWG Connection and Student Handbook and the Graduate Catalog.

Attendance: Candidates should communicate absences to the assigned school, the cooperating teacher, and the university supervisor. More than two absences may be grounds for failure.

Disability: All students are provided with equal access to classes and materials, regardless of special needs, temporary or permanent disability, special needs related to pregnancy, etc. If you have any special learning needs, particularly (but not limited to) needs defined under the Americans with Disabilities Act, and require specific accommodations, please do not hesitate to make those known, either yourself or through the Coordinator of Disability Services. Students with documented special needs may expect accommodation in relation to classroom accessibility, modification of testing, special test administration, etc. For more information, please contact Disability Services at the University of West Georgia: http://www.westga.edu/studentDev/index_8884.php. Any student with a disability documented through Student Services is encouraged to contact the instructor right away so that appropriate accommodations may be arranged. In addition, certain accommodations (which will be discussed in class) are available to all students, within constraints of time and space.

Professional Conduct: Candidates are expected to follow the rules of conduct as outlined in the Teacher Education Handbook of the College of Education of the University of West Georgia, as well as the Code of Ethics for Educators as outlined by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission.

Student Email Policy: University of West Georgia students are provided a myUWG email account, which is the official means of communication between the University and student. It is the student’s responsibility to check this email account for important University related information. It is also the student’s responsibility to keep the account cleaned out so that e-mail does not “bounce back” when sent from an agent of the university.

CLASS OUTLINE

Candidates are expected to report to their assigned school when instructed to do so by the Office of Field Experiences. Dates of attendance are posted at various places in the College of Education and will be announced in SEED 7261. They vary from semester to semester.

Any deviation from the assigned schedule must be discussed among the candidate, their cooperating teacher, and their university supervisor.

Addendum V
A Proposal to Revise the Allocation and Number of Senators

Submitted to the Faculty Senate by the Rules Committee (Chris Aanstoos, Chair)

Preamble
Because the reorganization of the College of Arts and Sciences and the reorganization within the College of Education resulted in structures that no longer conform to the existing rules for the allocation of senators (see Policies and Procedures, Article IV, Section 2), the Rules Committee was charged with the task of devising a new set of rules to govern the allocation of senators. After extensive study of Senate structures at other universities, conversations with colleagues across the colleges at UWG, and deliberation within the committee of many alternatives, the Rules Committee developed a new determination based on the principle presented to the Senate as an Information Item at the November meeting, which was:

Each college, the School of Nursing and the Library shall be allocated the number of senators equal to 10% of their full-time faculty. The Library and the School of Nursing shall elect their senators at large. For the colleges, each department within a college first elects one senator, and then the remaining senators allocated to that college are elected at-large by the college.

The following proposal codifies the revised language for the Policies and Procedures manual needed to enact this proposed allocation.

The Motion
Motion to replace Article IV, Section2,A,5 of the Policies and Procedures with the following:

Duly elected senators, apportioned to each college, the School of Nursing and the Library, such that the number of senators allocated to each unit shall equal 10% of their full-time faculty. The Library and the School of Nursing shall elect their senators at large. For the colleges, each department within a college elects one senator and the remaining senators allocated to that college are elected at-large by the college. Should any department fail to elect a senator in an election cycle for which it has a vacancy, that vacancy will be added to the at-large pool for its college for that election.

Current Policy Changed by the Proposed Policy
Article IV, Section2,A,5 of the Policies and Procedures currently states:

Thirty Nine (39) duly elected senators apportioned as follows: College of Arts and Sciences, nineteen (19); Richards College of Business, six (6); College of Education, nine (9); School of Nursing, two (2) and the Library, three (3). No department of any unit shall be represented by more than one (1) senator unless a unit has fewer departments than its allotted number of senators. In no case shall departmental representation exceed two (2) senators.

Addendum X
A Proposal to Clarify the Definition of Voting for Meetings of the General Faculty

Submitted to the Faculty Senate by the Rules Committee (Chris Aanstoos, Chair)

Preamble
Because the quorum rule for meetings of the general faculty was written prior to the development of computer-based communication, its definitions of quorum and voting requirements do not include any reference to electronic means for doing so. Lacking such specification, it has been interpreted narrowly as requiring the physical presence of faculty for quorum requirements. On the basis of such interpretation, the 50% threshold required has been a very rare achievement. The consequence has been that either the presiding officer must declare the appearance of a quorum when it does not exist, or that declaration is challenged and the meeting is adjourned. Because a single attendee can thus force the adjournment of almost any meeting, the potential impact is the disenfranchisement of the faculty’s ability to serve as a deliberative body recommending policy to the administration, and the subsequent impoverishment of administrative decision-making bereft of faculty input. Because this prospect can otherwise be an enduring problem, the Rules Committee recommends that the definition of voting be clarified to accommodate electronic communication according to the following proposal.

The Motion
Motion to revise Article I, E, F of the By-Laws to specify the inclusion of electronic balloting in the definition of quorum and voting, by the addition of the following highlighted material:

E. QUORUM. A quorum of the General Faculty shall consist of fifty (50) percent of the membership at both regular and special meetings. No meeting of the General Faculty shall be held unless a quorum is present. Votes shall be taken at meetings of the General Faculty only when a quorum is declared present, otherwise voting shall be conducted by subsequent electronic or other written balloting.

F. VOTING. Only members of the General Faculty may vote. Voting in regular and special meetings shall be by voice vote except that a division vote (by showing of hands or standing, whichever is most convenient to the counters) shall be taken on request of any member of the General Faculty, and except that voting shall be by secret written ballot on request of twenty (20) percent of the members present. If it should be declared that the meeting lacks a quorum, voting may be conducted subsequently by electronic or other forms of written balloting. In the case of such subsequent balloting, notice of the motion to be voted upon shall be posted and distributed to the faculty at least one week in advance of the vote. The motion shall be approved upon a majority vote of a quorum of the General Faculty.
