TEXT
The lectures are based on multiple book chapters and articles. All reading materials are placed in the “Reading Materials” module.

NOTE. THE MATERIALS ARE MADE AVAILABLE THROUGH FAIR USE AND FURTHER COPYING AND REDISTRIBUTING THE MATERIAL IS A VIOLATION OF THE COPYRIGHT LAW.

COURSE OVERVIEW
This course is designed to enhance understanding of diverse national media systems and information flows around the world. Our journey starts with examining the concept of globalization and conventional theories of media systems. Changing media dynamics led by technological development is one of the key items of discussion. The imbalanced interaction among media systems will highlight the political and economic influence of the U.S. and, at the same time, the responsibility that accompanies being a superpower.

This course is comprised of two parts. The general introductory lectures are followed by in-depth analyses on specific cases such as conflicts between politics and journalism, global sports markets, the swaying impact of pop culture and films, and social media as alternative mass media.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES
By the end of this course, students are expected to

- identify key theories and concepts of global media systems
- become aware of the features of international news in the U.S. media
- understand the challenges and trends surrounding various international media topics
- analyze the influence of advanced technologies on global communication
- think critically about globalization and information flows in this new world order

ASSIGNMENTS & EXAMS

Note: All handouts about assignments are placed in the “Assignments” module.

Orientation Module Introduction Posting / Syllabus Quiz / Case selection (4 %)
See the course website and class schedule for more information on these assignments that should be completed during the first week of class. Unlike other Exams, multiple attempts are available for this Syllabus quiz.

During the first week, you also need to choose two cases using CourseDen’s “Survey.” Please read the handout “Case Presentations” carefully.

Exams (3 exams, 33% total)
You are expected to complete three online exams in the Quizzes section.

Each exam will include 30-40 multiple-choice/true-false/matching questions based on the reading materials, lecture notes, students’ case presentations, video clips, and other reading materials. You will have 2 minutes per question to complete each exam. Only one attempt is available.

NOTE: Exam questions will be mainly based on Weekly quizzes and Case Presentation Quizzes provided by presenters.

Weekly Quizzes (5 quizzes, 18% total)
These short answer/matching questions are designed to encourage you to review lecture materials thoroughly. Detailed instruction will be given with the study guide each week. Weekly quizzes are open Friday and Saturday. Multiple attempts are available. I advise you to highlight the parts cited in the Weekly quizzes for future exams.
Film Paper (10%)
Your assignments must be typewritten and double-spaced. Use 1-inch margins and 12-pt. type. Put your name and the date at the top of each page. The file name of your story is your capitalized last name and assignment: SMITH Film (the film essay by Smith).

Don’t just include phrases. Write in complete sentences; you will be judged on clarity and content, as well as grammar. Use a Spellcheck, but also review your work carefully for errors. The more neatly you layout the information, the more likely we will be able to see you have responded to all the questions and give you full credit.

See the handout in the “Assignments” module.

Case Presentations (20%)
You need to give two presentations about global media cases using CourseDen’s “Survey.” Please read the handout “Case Presentations” carefully.

The first submission (CASE PPT Submission 1) is Jan. 31 and the second one (CASE PPT Submission 2) is due on Feb.14.

Discussions (2 posts @ 5% each = 10% total)
Each discussion board will be kept open Tuesday and Wednesday.

Your assignment is to post one main thread and two replies to one of your classmate’s postings. The due date for each Discussion is noted on the Weekly Schedule.

NOTE - If you are the first or second person to post, remember to come back later when your classmates have posted in order to find a posting to which you can reply.

Interview about the International Coverage in the U.S. Media (5 %)
See the handout in the “Assignments” module.

LATE WORK POLICY
Late assignments, missed discussions, exams and quizzes will result in a penalty of 20% per day.

The late works would be excused if (1) arrangements are made at least 48 hours before the deadlines, (2) instructor-approved documentation of extenuating circumstances can be provided, or (3) documentation of irresolvable technical problems with CourseDen (not your computer or internet connection) is provided/confirmed by Distance and Distributed Education on the day you attempted the quiz.

Requests for early exams must be made at least 48 hours prior to the start of the online exam. Requests for make-up exams must be made no later than 2 hours before the start of the exam. To request an early or make-up exam, e-mail me.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY
The penalties for academic dishonesty range from receiving 0 points on the exam or the assignment to receiving an “F” grade in the course.
All the work you do must be your own. Do not present the work of another as if it were your own. Use quotation marks to indicate the exact words of someone else, and cite the source. Cite sources of ideas that are not your own, even if you did not use their exact words. Summarizing OK – it is considered paraphrasing, but do not just rearrange a sentence or change some of the words. Still, each time a source is paraphrased, a credit for the source needs to be included in the text.

Cheating Using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information or study aids.

Fabrication Falsification or unauthorized invention of any information or citation.

Plagiarism Representing the words or ideas of another as one's own. Direct quotations must be indicated and ideas of another must be appropriately acknowledged.

COURSEDEN RESOURCE and TECHNICAL SUPPORT

For CourseDen assistance, including tutorials, troubleshooting, and online support resources, I encourage you to reference the CourseDen Desire2Learn (D2L) Resources link on the course homepage, or contact the UWG Online Helpdesk Services via email at online@westga.edu, or via the Internet at http://uwgonline.westga.edu/students.php.

If you experience technical difficulties, it is very important that you contact the CourseDen support staff - Distance Education & Distributed Center (first choice) or GeorgiaVIEW Help Center. The staff will document your case, and verify whether it is a personal or campus technology issue. Personal technology issues do not justify due date extensions; and due dates will be extended only in cases of campus technology issues or cases of unavoidable situations substantiated with documentation. To request an extension for qualified cases, you should e-mail me within two hours of the due date. However, if you do not contact CourseDen support staff, late online assignments or exams may not qualify for credits.

Important CourseDen Tools
- Announcements: While it would be hard to miss Announcements, make sure to read each post whenever it’s updated. This is a key tool that keeps you on track. I post Weekly Announcements every Monday to remind you of To-Do items with links.
- Grades: Use the Grades tool to view your grades. Exam scores will be automatically posted as soon as online exams are completed.

With the exception of Friday afternoons, weekends, and holidays, I will respond to emails through CourseDen within 24 hours.
