COURSE DESCRIPTION

“Extraordinary claims require extraordinary evidence.”
Carl Sagan

ENGL 1101 helps students to develop the skills they need to become successful in college-level courses where critical thinking and writing are required. This course does not presume that students already possess these skills; instead, it will help students develop these skills, so that by the end of ENGL 1101 students will be better equipped to succeed in college classes where writing is required. ENGL is not the only course in the core where students receive writing instruction; however, it is an important course in the development of college-level writing skills since its focus is on the sequential development or scaffolding of the discrete writing and analytical skills that, together, lead to stronger, more successful writing.

English 1101 and 1102 courses are often challenging for students because of the rigorous nature of the courses. We read regularly—but we write constantly. The only way to improve your writing is to write. During the semester, you will learn to identify and analyze text-based arguments, developing your own interpretive positions while training to clearly and effectively express yourself in writing. Although this may sound intimidating, rest assured that we will work together throughout the semester, breaking down the process into achievable steps. Please keep in mind that I am dedicated to assisting you throughout the learning process and supporting your transition from high school to college (and beyond). Our course theme focuses on science, the mysteries of space, and interconnectivity. Hopefully, while we work on writing, you will explore some interesting concepts about the relationship between our human experience and the greater universe. (Aliens! Astronauts!)

COURSE MATERIALS, ASSIGNMENTS & GRADING

Required Texts

All texts, with the exception of the film, are available at the UWG Campus bookstore and online sources like Amazon and Barnes and Noble. The film can be purchased or rented online through a variety of sources, including Amazon and Barnes and Noble.

- Gravity, directed by Alfonso Cuarón, starring Sandra Bullock and George Clooney
Assignments

All written assignments must be typed and formatted to MLA standards (1 inch margins, 12-point Times New Roman font, double-spaced, no title page, properly documented, works cited). Refer to our grammar handbook to answer questions about format, citations, and mechanical issues, or see me.

- Essay #1 – Rhetorical Analysis of “Science Fantasy” Reality Television (20%) – 3-4 pages
  Essay one is a rhetorical analysis of how reality television uses appeals to emotions (as well as other types of appeals) to persuade its intended audience.

- Essay #2 – Argumentative Analysis of Gravity (20%) – 3-4 pages
  Essay two is an analysis of a chosen scene from the film that examines how the film constructs an argument for space exploration or for promoting women in science (by way of the various rhetorical appeals and arguments) and how Dr. Ryan Stone is offered to the audience as a way of experiencing the scientific world.

- Essay #3 – Argumentative Essay on Cosmos (25%) – 4-5 pages
  Essay three will focus on a specific section from Cosmos, exploring how this text uses science to challenge cultural attitudes of the time or maintain the status quo.

- Professionalism: Work Ethic and Class Participation (20%)
  Students will come to class having read the material as well as prepared questions and comments for the group. I suggest keeping a reading journal for these purposes. The majority of class will be discussion, so prepare accordingly. You may not sit in class like a stump; unpreparedness will result in a quiz. Additionally, we use process exercises to generate and revise writing into final essay products. Although these assignments make a small impact on the final average, they significantly impact the quality of the larger essays. Students experience greater success when truly dedicated to improving their writing through each step of the process.

  Since we do not have a “quizzes” or “homework” category, each failed quiz (earning less than 70%) or failed process writing assignment will result in a deduction of 5 points from the final professionalism grade. Missing quizzes or assignments apply in the same manner, and there are no opportunities for “make up” work. If you show up to class regularly, keep up with the reading, engage in the course discussions, and apply yourself seriously to your work, these are points that are here for the taking.

- Final Presentation (15%)
  This is a 5-6 minute presentation on a nonfiction text of your choice. Think of this as an oral essay presenting an argument about the text, supporting the claim with detailed evidence and analysis. Detailed prompt to be provided closer to the assignment.
Grading

Grade Chart: 90-100 = A; 80-89 = B; 70-79 = C; 60-69 = D; Below 60 = F (Not turned in = 0)
You must earn a letter grade of C or better in order to complete English 1101. All essays must be completed in order to pass this course. Additionally, all essays will be graded according to the department’s shared grading rubrics for ENGL 1101. We will discuss the grading rubric in class prior to the due date for each essay so that you will be familiar with the criteria.

POLICIES

Expectations

Imagine me as your manager for this course. When you are hired, the manager has high expectations for your abilities as well as your professionalism; each time you disappoint your manager, her opinion of your professionalism goes down. As your manager, I expect you to:

- Display a working knowledge of the syllabus
- Attend all classes, arriving on time with relevant materials in hand
- Participate fully and respectfully in class discussions
- Remain attentive and engaged throughout the class period
- Offer constructive critiques on your classmates’ work and respond graciously to constructive criticism
- Improve your writing during each step of the process
- Avoid repeating mistakes addressed in feedback
- Submit quality work, complete and on time
- Communicate promptly with me about any concerns

Ultimately, your success depends on how much time, energy, and effort you are willing to put into the class. I am only in control over one hundred percent of my own effort, but I promise you will always receive my full effort. I hope to see the same level of dedication in you. I want to help you make the grade you desire; I promise that you will receive the grade you earn.

Submitting Assignments

All assignments must be submitted through TurnItIn (www.turnitin.com). There are no waivers for computer, program or user errors. Essays are the only assignments accepted late, losing one letter grade per 24-hour late period beginning immediately after the scheduled submission time.

Revision Process and Opportunity

The process exercises assigned for each essay integrate revision opportunities for students prior to turning in the actual essay. Essentially, for every essay, you will generate prewriting that should be revised into an essay based on feedback. Because revision is an imperative part of the composition process, we will practice it regularly. If you wish to (or are asked to) revise a paper, you must: (1) meet with me in person to discuss the paper and my comments; (2) email the revision to me within a week’s time of receiving your graded paper; (3) and undertake substantial work to revise. If the revision meets all of these requirements, I will replace the original grade with the revision grade.
Office Hours

I encourage you to visit me during my office hours (or to make an appointment if you cannot make my regular times). Please feel free to come by to say hello, to introduce yourself, to ask questions about the readings, or to discuss any element of your writing and research (at any stage of the process). See me the same day you begin to have a question or concern. Please do not wait until the day before an assignment is due to seek assistance—give yourself time to think and write, and ask questions early and often.

Attendance

Regular participation in this class is vital to its success. You are expected to attend every class session regularly. What we cover in class is what you need to know. If you are absent, it is your responsibility to contact another student for an explanation of what was covered. I offer you 4 absences to do with as you like—use them wisely for the inevitable "stuff" that will mess up your semester: illness, traffic, death in the family, etc. If you miss 5 classes for whatever reason, you will not pass this class. Two late arrivals count as one absence, and leaving early applies in the same manner. No distinction exists between excused and unexcused absences, and assignments are still due on the day assigned.

Disruptive Behavior and Electronic Devices

Students will be dismissed from any class meeting at which they exhibit behavior that disrupts the learning environment of others. Such behavior includes—but is not limited to—arriving late for class, allowing cell phones to ring, speaking disrespectfully to the instructor and/or to other students, checking email or surfing the web, and using personal audio or video devices. Laptops and tablets may be used for class-related work only; use for other purposes will result in your dismissal from class. Each dismissal of this kind will count as an absence and will be applied toward the attendance policy. Sleeping—for a minute or an hour—counts as an absence. For the sake of transparency, my biggest pet peeves are off-task electronic usage and class disruption.

Email Policy

The official communication method for this class occurs through campus email or CourseDen. You remain responsible for regularly checking both UWG Email and CourseDen. In order to guarantee your privacy, I do not respond in detail to emails sent from alternate email providers. Additionally, please understand that even my life is sometimes hectic, and allow me at least twenty-four hours to respond to any attempts at communication. If for some reason you do not hear from me within twenty-four hours, assume the technology has failed and try again. I want to help and will always respond.

The Writing Center

The role of the Writing Center is to offer consultation in which tutors question, respond to, offer choices, and encourage revision in student essays. Tutors do not evaluate or prescribe solutions to problematic areas to student essays, and tutors are specifically trained to avoid appropriating the student's work.

1. For more information, visit the Writing Center online: http://www.westga.edu/writing/.
2. To schedule an appointment, call 678-839-6513 or email writing@westga.edu.
3. The UWC is located in TLC 1201.
Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty

The university considers plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty to be a serious breach of academic ethics. Section 207 of the University of West Georgia Faculty Handbook, which defines plagiarism as “Improper academic conduct…the purchase and use of ghost-written papers and reports, or incorporating into a report, term theme, research paper, or project, ideas and information obtained from another person without giving credit to the person from whom such information was obtained.”

Excessive Collaboration: By the end of the term in both ENGL 1101 and 1102, students should demonstrate the ability to produce independent writing (writing without collaborative assistance of peers, writing tutors, or professionals in the field) that shows an acceptable level of competence. Although classroom activities and out-of-class assignments may highlight collaborative learning and collaborative research, excessive collaboration (collaboration that results in the loss of a student’s voice/style and original claims to course related work) is considered another form of academic dishonesty and therefore will not be permitted.

Each incidence of plagiarism is subject to review and consideration by the instructor, and is subject to a range of penalties including but not limited to failing the assignment, failing the course, and referral to the disciplinary review board (which may ultimately result in the expulsion, suspension, or disciplinary removal of the student from the university). In order to facilitate the prevention and detection of plagiarism the Department of English and the University of West Georgia will maintain records of plagiarized assignments and those who prepare and/or submit them.

I have a no-tolerance plagiarism policy. If plagiarism occurs, the student receives an automatic F for the course. In short, please do not plagiarize. If you are struggling with time constraints for any reason, see me before making a poor decision like plagiarizing. For further information: http://www.westga.edu/~engdept/Plagiarism/index.html.

University of West Georgia Honor Code

At the University of West Georgia, we believe that academic and personal integrity are based upon honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. Students at West Georgia assume responsibility for upholding the honor code. West Georgia students pledge to refrain from engaging in acts that do not maintain academic and personal integrity. These include, but are not limited to, plagiarism, cheating, fabrication, aid of academic dishonesty, lying, bribery or threats, and stealing.

The University of West Georgia maintains and monitors a confidential Academic Dishonesty Tracking System. This database collects and reports patterns of repeated student violations across all the Colleges, the Ingram Library, and the School of Nursing. Each incidence of academic dishonesty is subject to review and consideration by the instructor, and is subject to a range of academic penalties including, but not limited to, failing the assignment and/or failing the course. Student conduct sanctions range from verbal warning to suspension or expulsion depending on the magnitude of the offense and/or number of offenses. The incident becomes part of the student’s conduct record at UWG.

Additionally, the student is responsible for safeguarding his/her computer account. The student’s account and network connection are for his/her individual use. A computer account is to be used only by the person to whom it has been issued. The student is responsible for all actions originating through his/her account or network connection. Students must not impersonate others or misrepresent or conceal their identities in electronic messages and actions.
Students with Special Needs/Disability Pledge

Students with a documented disability may work with UWG Accessibility Services to receive essential services specific to their disability. All entitlements to accommodations are based on documentation and USG Board of Regents standards. If a student needs course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability or chronic illness, or if he/she needs to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, the student should notify his/her instructor in writing and provide a copy of his/her Student Accommodations Report (SAR), which is available only from Accessibility Services. Faculty cannot offer accommodations without timely receipt of the SAR; further, no retroactive accommodations will be given.

Any student who has a special need should inform me during the first week of class. We will then set up a conference to discuss the specifics of the official paperwork from Accessibility Services. Students with documented special needs may expect accommodation in relation to classroom accessibility, modification of testing, special test administration, etc. For more information, please contact Accessibility Services at the University of West Georgia: http://www.westga.edu/studentDev/index_8884.php

Departmental Policy on Severe Weather

The University of West Georgia is committed to the personal safety of its students, faculty, and staff in the event of severe weather. University policy regarding severe weather and emergency closings is posted at http://www.westga.edu/police/index_2277.php and official announcements about class and/or examination cancellations will be made only by the President and/or the Department of Public Relations. Although it is not possible to develop policy to address every weather-related emergency, these guidelines are intended to provide some general direction about such situations. For immediate severe weather situations, especially when classes are in session, faculty, staff and students are advised to follow the emergency procedures identified below:

1. Direct occupants to remain in the building and to seek shelter immediately on the lowest level of the building in interior rooms (closet, interior hallway) away from corners, windows, doors, and outside walls.
2. Instruct occupants to not leave the building.
3. Evacuate all offices, rooms or hallways with windows and glass or with exterior walls.
4. Provide assistance to persons with disabilities.
5. Accompany occupants to the nearest designated shelter area in the building.
6. Comply with departmental severe weather policies/procedures.
7. Wait for an “all clear” signal” before resuming activity.
8. Occupants will: a) proceed to the nearest designated shelter area in the building by the closest route; b) move quickly but in an orderly manner so that all will arrive safely; c) will not attempt to vacate the premises, drive or seek shelter in cars; d) take a seat in the shelter area; e) remain cooperative with those in charge; and f) wait for an “all clear” signal before resuming activity.

In the event that classes are cancelled or disrupted for less than one calendar week, each professor, at his or her discretion, will make adjustments as needed to cover material missed during those cancelled sessions. This may or may not involve the use of rescheduled or online classes. If the closures exceed a single calendar week, students should contact the Chair of the Department of English and Philosophy at 678-839-6512 or the professor of the class for updated information regarding changes to the schedule in the Department. It is the intention of the Department of English and Philosophy to handle every concern seriously and as effectively as possible.
