COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This course surveys the history of American women from 1890 to the present. We will explore American women’s lives and experiences in the past, and examine how and why historians have approached women’s history differently. Through an intersectional lens, we will also determine how identity, race, class, and sexuality shaped women's experiences.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
1. Demonstrate content knowledge of history of American Women.
2. Analyze primary and secondary sources for their historical content and interpretations.
3. Demonstrate writing skills that reflect persuasive historical arguments based on evidence and proper citation.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:
This course will consist of lectures, readings, films, and discussions. There are four books required for this course (listed below). In addition to the four required books, there are required supplemental readings available on the CourseDen. Class lectures will provide an overarching framework within which you will analyze the readings. Each week’s assigned readings appear in the Schedule of Lectures and Assignments, and must be completed by the start of class. To make the most of this class, students must read the assigned materials and be prepared to engage in dialogue based on what they have read. Bring two exam books to class by January 30th.

REQUIRED BOOKS:
Zeitz, Joshua. Flapper: A Madcap Story of Sex, Style, Celebrity, and the Women who Made America Modern

McGuire, Danielle. At the Dark End of the Street: Black Women, Rape, and Resistance – a New History of the Civil Rights Movement from Rosa Parks to the Rise of Black Power

Rosen, Ruth. The World Split Open: How the Modern Women’s Movement Changed America (ebook available through the library)

Daily/weekly reading assignments: Will be available to you through CourseDen
ATTENDANCE: There is no attendance policy for this course. However, student attendance strongly correlates with your participation grade and your final grade. Students who attend class tend to pass the class. Students who do not attend typically earn a poor grade. Note that there is a participation grade in this course. If you do not attend, you cannot participate. Your midterm and your final exam are based on the content of lecture, class discussions, and the readings.

Extracurricular Conflicts: If you are member of an athletic team, musical group, or other University organization, it is your responsibility to provide me with a schedule of planned absences at the beginning of the semester. Participation in extracurricular activities DOES NOT excuse the student from any course requirement.

ASSIGNMENTS: There will be discussion/participation, a plagiarism quiz, three book reviews, one research paper, a midterm exam, and a final exam in this course

Plagiarism Quiz: You are required to take and pass a plagiarism quiz on January 15th. Your paper will not be accepted or graded unless you pass this quiz in advance. NO EXCEPTIONS.

Book Reviews: You will write three (2-3page) book reviews on the works required for this course. In the book review, you will be identifying the argument, sources, themes, and the strength and weaknesses of each book. More instruction will be on CourseDen.

Paper: You will be writing a research paper for this course (1900-2300 words). The topic is your choice, but must be relevant to this course and the timeframe. Papers will include a mix of primary (4-6) and secondary sources (6-8).
A one paragraph paper topic is due on January 29th.
A list of ACCESSIBLE sources is due on March 5th.
The instructions for your paper are posted on CourseDen. Your paper will not be graded unless you pass the Plagiarism quiz on . The paper will be due April 16th.

EXAMS:

Midterm Exam: The midterm exam will consist of an essay question. The midterm exam will be on February 26th.

Final Exam: The exam will consist of an essay question. The final exam will be on April 30th during the regularly scheduled class meeting.

MAKE-UP POLICY:
Make-ups are given only with the permission of the instructor and only in the face of extreme, extenuating circumstances (death in the family, serious illness, car accident, injury). Documentation is required. Feeling under the weather, roommate issues, traffic congestion, or breakups with your partner are not valid excuses for missing an assignment, an exam, or a paper. In the case of an emergency on exam day, you must contact the instructor at the soonest possible time. Students who are involved in extracurricular activities that will occasionally require them to miss class must provide their travel schedule well in advance of the expected absence. They must also arrange to make up any missed assignments before they leave.
Late papers: If approved, it must be submitted within 48 hours of the original due date.

Make-up midterm exam: If approved, it must be taken within 48 hours of the original exam date.

Make-up final exam: If approved, you will receive an incomplete until the following semester when you will take the exam at my convenience.

COURSE POLICIES:

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT POLICY: Any acts of dishonesty in your work constitute acts of academic misconduct. This includes first and foremost cheating and plagiarism. In cases of student academic misconduct, the instructor will determine the appropriate penalty, which will range from a “0” on the assignment to a failing grade for the course. In addition, I will submit students who cheat or plagiarize to the University of West Georgia’s Academic Dishonesty Tracking System. I take these issues seriously and I do not overlook, ignore, or give second chances.

CLASSROOM CONDUCT: A good learning environment requires that we treat each other with respect and consideration. We must all behave in a manner that is conducive to an effective and positive learning environment. Distracting behavior including, but not limited to, talking, eating, working on assignments for another class, using earbuds or headphones, texting is not acceptable. Studies show that students who check their phones during class receive an average of half a grade lower than their peers who do not check their phones. Turn your phone off. You will be asked to leave class if you violate the classroom conduct rules. Continued violations will be reported to the student conduct board. Penalties range from community service, withdrawal from the course, and suspension from the university.

LAPTOPS: YOU ARE NOT ALLOWED TO USE LAPTOPS IN THIS CLASS. No exceptions without documentation from Accessibility Services. Multiple studies have demonstrated that students who take notes by hand are more engaged and perform better on class assessments. Read the most recent study: http://www.npr.org/2016/04/17/474525392/attention-students-put-your-laptops-away

If I find you are using a laptop (or cellphone or other technology) I will ask you to stop. If you disregard my request, I will ask you to leave class. If the behavior continues I will ask you be removed from my course.

YOU MAY NOT RECORD MY LECTURES.
Please review the Common Language for university syllabi at the link below for further information about university policies as well as information about academic and disability services:
