Course Description
This course will provide frameworks and tools to solve strategic-level marketing problems. Taking the viewpoint of the general manager and the senior marketing executive, the class will focus on marketing strategy design, implementation, and evaluation. Our focus will therefore go beyond marketing tactics for a single product or service offering. Instead, we will examine the strategic-level management of a firm’s marketing resources and capabilities to maximize long-run customer value and to generate the greatest financial return for the firm. The course will cover the issues of:

- Formulating segmentation and targeting strategies
- Understanding, attracting and keeping valuable customers
- Positioning the business to achieve an advantage over competitors
- Identifying and exploiting growth opportunities
- Allocating resources across businesses and segments
- Managing the channels for gaining access to the served markets, and
- Aligning the organization to changing market requirements
- Ethical issues

Deadlines
The due dates and times are absolute. Any submissions after the deadline will not be accepted and you (or your team) will be given a zero for the assignment. PLEASE, do not wait until the last moment to submit an assignment only to discover there is an issue. The deadlines are absolute and without exception.

Grading Policy: As the instructor. I am the final authority on grades.

The grading for this course is:

Exams:
- Mid Term 25%
- Final 25%

Quizzes 20%

MARKSTRAT
- Marketing Plan 5%
- Final Results 25%

Exams
There will be two exams during the semester, a mid-term and a final exam. The exams will be essay and will be based upon video lectures and readings from the text. As you may take and submit your exam within any 75 minute period during the week the exam is scheduled, there will be NO makeup exams.

Quizzes

There will be a multiple choice quiz each week at the beginning of class. Each quiz will cover the chapters from the assigned textbook readings for the week. You will have 20 minutes to complete each 20 question quiz. There are NO make-up quizzes.

MARKSTRAT

MARKSTRAT is a marketing simulation that allows students to control a virtual corporation, thus making decisions on its behalf. The simulation consists of ten periods in an industry that contains a set of companies. Each of these companies are player groups that consist of a team of students. The teams will be announced during the first week of classes. All the companies in the industry start the simulation in different but equivalent situations. As the game progresses, your team will use a wide array of market knowledge, which can be bought as Marketing Research Studies to make decisions.

MARKSTRAT Video Tutorials

- Cost Reduction R&D (4:19)
- Using R&D (4:24)
- Designing a new Product (4:58)
- Perceptual Advertising (5:08)
- Markstrat Simulation Overview (50:18)

At the beginning of the semester, your team will be given a trial period of 3 decision rounds to become accustomed to the simulation. The trial periods are not counted towards your final SPI or grade. The simulation will be reset to period 0 after the trial period – you will be starting the graded simulation from scratch.

Marketing Plan

After the three trial periods, your team will prepare a written marketing plan (due on June 21) for how you plan to manage your corporation within its industry. There is also a Marketing Plan Tutorial at Marketing Plan. Use these as templates to guide your efforts.

Final Results

Success of your firm will be measured by your Share Price Index (SPI). All teams will begin with an SPI of 1000, and your movement relative to the other firms will dictate this portion of your final grade. Thus, your grade is relative to the other teams in your industry.
Peer evaluations are something that I take very seriously. The ability to contribute and interact with your project team is a skill that is essential in corporate America.

Each person within the team will evaluate themselves and the other team members on contribution to each class project team assignments. The evaluations will occur at the end of the semester. A link to the online questionnaire will be sent during the last week of the semester. Please wait until all group assignments are submitted before completing the peer evaluations.

You will allocate 100 percentage contribution points across your group that will represent the amount of work/effort the group member contributed to the assignment. For example, if there are four (4) members in your group and everyone contributed equally, then you would assign 25% to each group member. If someone contributed less than others, the percentage allocation would be less for that person – perhaps you felt the person only contributed 10% of the work, then that person would receive that percentage and the other group members, who had to make-up the work for that person, would earn more.

The percentage earned multiplied by the number of group members would be your grade multiplier for the assignment. If your four-person group earned an 80% on the marketing plan, but your group members only allocated 15% of the work to you (where 25% would have been your fair share), then your grade multiplier would be 4 * 15% or 60%. As a result, your assigned grade for the marketing plan would be 80% * 60% or 48%.

The grades will be assigned as follows:

University of West Georgia students are provided a MyUWG e-mail account. The University considers this account to be an official means of communication between the University and the student. The purpose of the official use of the student e-mail account is to provide an effective means of communicating important university related information to UWG students in a timely manner. It is the student’s responsibility to check his or her email.
Credit Hour Policy

The University of West Georgia grants one semester hour of credit for work equivalent to a minimum of one hour (50 minutes) of in-class or other direct faculty instruction AND two hours of student work outside of class per week for approximately fifteen weeks. For each course, the course syllabus will document the amount of in-class (or other direct faculty instruction) and out-of-class work required to earn the credit hour(s) assigned to the course. Out-of-class work will include all forms of credit-bearing activity, including but not limited to assignments, readings, observations, and musical practice. Where available, the university grants academic credit for students who verify via competency-based testing, that they have accomplished the learning outcomes associated with a course that would normally meet the requirements outlined above (e.g. AP credit, CLEP, and departmental exams).

For approximately fifteen weeks, students in this class will generally spend 150 minutes with direct faculty instruction (either face-to-face or online) and work about 360 minutes outside of the classroom each week. This out-of-class work may include, but is not limited to, readings, assignments, projects, group work, research, and test preparation.
