Course Overview: This course introduces students to the study of sociology. It also exposes students to the many ways in which sociologists examine human social behavior, and the ways in which research findings contribute to our understanding of society. Students will learn the basic concepts, theories and methodologies used in the field of sociology, and how sociology is employed in studying people’s social behavior. The course will also assist students with developing their critical thinking skill, and wider view of the global world.

Purchasing Connect PLUS Access follow these steps: 1) Log into the CourseDen page for the course 2) Under Course Home, look for and click McGraw-Hill Education Connect on CourseDen, and proceed to go to my Connect Section by clicking begin 3) You will be asked for your email address and password in order to register for the course, 4) Follow the on screen direction to complete your registration or you can also call Mc Graw Hill at 1800-331-5094 for help in purchasing the electronic book, and 4) Select option to buy online (cost at $75.00) follow the steps to complete this purchase.
Course Requirements: In this course, you are expected to complete the readings assigned for each chapter. You must also be prepared to answer each questions in the homeworks using knowledge of what you have read and applying critical thinking. There will be homework assignments, group work, midterm, and a final exam given in the course.

Course Learning Outcomes: At the end of this course, you should be able to 1) distinguish between a personal and a public problem, 2) describe the influence of social structure on individual agency, and 3) recognize the how culture and socialization shape the development of self.

Format: Assigned readings, on-line homeworks through having Connect PLUS access to the e-textbook, and midterm, and final exams on line.

Attendance Policy: Even though the course is 100% online, you still need to have a good attendance habit by checking the announcement page on the course’s CourseDen page. I want to encourage you to visit the course’s Course Den page regularly. If you miss too many assignments, it can affect your performance. Read the assigned sections in each chapter for each week. It will make the learning process easier for you. More importantly, the material being covered in the course will not be totally new to you if you go through the assigned readings each week. If you miss a reading for any reason, you are still responsible for all assignments that are due.

Encouragement: I want to encourage you to read all the assigned readings. It is vital that you keep up with the readings and other assigned works. Assignments will be given once the reading is complete at the end of every two weeks on the assigned chapters.

Respect for your classmates: There will be no personal conversations going on among anyone while class is in progress on the discussion board in CourseDen. Any discussions taking place must be pertaining to the class lecture and learning that is taking place in on the discussion board while class is in progress. You are expected to show respect for your classmates by providing a peaceful and pleasant learning environment. In this class, we will respectfully listen to the views of others during class lectures and discussions even though it is through virtual learning.

CourseDen: This course uses CourseDen; it is the University of West Georgia’s online course management system. See CourseDen regularly for course updates and assignments. Your grades on all exams, assignments, and projects will also be posted on CourseDen.

Homework Assignments/Group Work: Practice homework questions will be given after the completion of each chapter every two weeks. The questions are drawn from problems in the textbook. Please follow the instructions of each question when conducting these assignments. There will also be a group work. Homework assignments, and reflection paper/group work will contribute 33% to your final grade.

Tests/Exams: There will be two exams (mid-term and final exam) in this course. Each exam will contribute 33% to your final course grade. Each exam will be taken through the course’s CourseDen page. Midterm and final exams will be posted on Course Den. Your test/final exam must reflect your knowledge of the course.

Late Home-works and Works: Apart from extraordinary situations, I will not accept late work. You are expected to meet most deadlines.

University of West Georgia Department of Sociology’s Principle on Academic Integrity: In this course, students are expected to abide by the department of sociology’s academic integrity principle. The department states that “the presence of academic dishonesty in particular frustrates the effort to create and sustain an academic culture and community that nurtures student growth and development.” It is also against any form of academic dishonesty as it states that “integrity [] should characterize communities both within academia and without [it], is corrupted by the threat of untruthfulness, deceit, and fraud.” In this course, we will all live up to the department’s principle on academic integrity. You must abide by the principles stated in the UWG’s Academic Honor Code, which stands against cheating, plagiarism, and academic dishonesty and lack of integrity. For more information on this, see the UWG Student Handbook: https://www.westga.edu/administration/vpsa/ocs/assets/docs/2016_2017_UWG_Student_Planner .pdf.

Dishonesty on Assignments: Any submitted assignments with plagiarism and/or copying of textbook authors’ or classmates words will be graded an automatic zero. There is no exception.

University Language for Course Syllabi: See http://www.westga.edu/assetsDept/vpaa/Common_Language_for_Course_Syllabi.pdf for UWG’s academic support information.
