Course Description and Goals

We encounter claims from social researchers almost every day, not only in academic journals, but in the popular press as well. The claims as scholars, as well as the journalists and politicians who cite those scholars, depend on the quality of the research they conduct to supply answers to their questions and evidence for their theories.

In this class, we will learn about the theory and practice of social research. We will learn how social research differs from other forms of human inquiry. We will study the terms and concepts that professional scholars use to describe their work. We will learn how to conduct ethical research involving human subjects. We will study several major research strategies, and learn the criteria scholars use to evaluate completed research as better or worse. Finally, we will learn how to conduct our own research.

We will focus on four major research methods: qualitative observation and interviews, experiments, content analysis, and surveys. We will read an example of each method from an academic journal article. You will also have the chance to conduct your own small research project using one of these techniques.
By the end of class, you should feel confident that you can understand the methods used by social researchers, evaluate the claims those researchers make on the basis of their work, and design and carry out your own independent research project.

Online Etiquette

- I expect everyone in the class to have done the assigned readings and to be prepared to discuss them.
- We will cover a number of controversial topics. I expect everyone to practice sensitivity and respect in all class discussions. You should feel free to share as much as you are comfortable with, but you must keep in mind that your classmates’ beliefs and experiences may be different from yours, and that they are equally deserving of respect. I expect you to respect each other’s race, gender, sexuality, nationality, religion, etc.
- Please check your email and CourseDen daily Monday - Friday. I will do the same.

Contacting Your Instructor

The best way to contact me is by using your official UWG email account to email me at ahunter@westga.edu. I check my email at least once per day during the normal work week. I will typically respond to questions within 48 hours, although I may take longer if you have a complicated request, or if you email on a weekend or holiday.

Do not email me using CourseDen. I will not receive, and will not respond to, emails that are sent using CourseDen rather than the official UWG email system.

Your email subject line should include the class number (SOCI 4000), your first and last names, and a brief description of the nature of the email.

Remember when you contact me that you are communicating with a faculty member in an academic setting. Please use correct English grammar and normal capitalization.

Honor Code and UWG Policies

The University Honor Code is in effect for all written assignments and exams. Please read the provisions of the Honor Code carefully, and make certain that you understand and follow them. Violations of the Honor Code will not be tolerated.

In addition to the Honor Code, you should review the University’s policies on the Americans with Disabilities Act, email, and credit hours, as these change periodically.

You can review the Honor Code and other policies at http://tinyurl.com/UWGSyllabusPolicies
Participating in Class

In order to participate in an online class, you will need regular access to a computer with a reliable internet connection and the ability to play audio and video files. A smartphone is not an adequate substitute for a computer in this context because some course materials will not display properly when viewed on a smartphone.

You will participate in class by doing the assigned readings, viewing the video lectures, and posting in the class discussion forum.

As with any class, you are expected to read all the assigned material. You have the primary responsibility to make sure that you read and understand all the course texts. I encourage you to keep notes on our readings and to review them periodically.

I will post lecture videos on CourseDen. These lecture videos act, in part, as an online equivalent to classroom lectures. I will attempt to summarize and explain any important or difficult ideas from our readings. These lecture videos cannot fully replace the experience of an in-person lecture or class discussion, which makes your own reading and notes even more important than they would be in an in-person course.

I will post discussion prompts to the CourseDen discussion forum. These prompts will act, in part, as an online equivalent to classroom discussion. You should post a thoughtful and substantive response to each discussion prompt. A substantive reply includes both a statement of your answer to the prompt as well as some of the reasoning behind it. A trivial response might include an answer with no reasoning or not actually address the prompt. You may also choose to respond to your classmates in addition to making your own post, although you are not required to. Please be respectful of each other and remember our online etiquette.

Readings

There is one book assigned for our course. In the schedule below, readings from this book will be abbreviated ISW. Other readings will be available online through direct hyperlink or on CourseDen / Desire2Learn (D2L).

This book is available for purchase at the university bookstore. I strongly encourage you to obtain your own copy of it. If you have not already done so, you should purchase this book immediately. You need access to it no later than Monday, August 15th.

Previous editions of ISW are substantially similar to the 8th edition. If you choose to purchase a used copy of a previous edition, I encourage you to double-check each reading assignment based on the chapter title, rather than the chapter number.
Course Requirements and Evaluation

All written assignments must be turned using the CourseDen drop-box. I will not grade papers that I receive over email. Grammar and composition are not a formal part of your assignment grades, but both are necessary to clearly present your ideas and experiences in a relatively small number of pages. If I cannot understand what you are trying to say, it is as though you have not said it, which may result in a lower grade.

Unless otherwise noted, assignments due during a specific week must be received no later than Sunday at 11:59 pm of that week. I will not accept technical difficulties or miscalculations occurring around midnight as valid excuses for late work.

All written assignments must be written using MS Word and saved in the .doc format. You should put your name and the assignment number at the top of the page. Your work should be written in size 12, Times New Roman font, double-spaced, and it should have 1-inch page margins. Your assignments should also be written in complete sentences and paragraphs, rather than as bulleted lists.

Your final grade will be based on the following components:
- Discussion Forum (20%)
- Homework Assignments (20%)
- Exams (40%)
- Final Research Paper (20%)

I will post a discussion prompts on the CourseDen discussion forum. Substantive responses to each prompt will earn full credit. Late or trivial responses may receive partial credit at my discretion.

There will be 4 assignments. I will post an assignment prompt as well as instructional class notes for each assignment. Late assignments may receive partial credit at my discretion.

There will be 2 exams. Your midterm exam must be completed by Sunday, October 9th at 11:59 pm. Your final exam must be completed by Saturday, December 3rd at 5:00 pm. I will not accept late exams.

You will write a final research paper based on your own independent data collection and data analysis. Your final paper is due on Friday, December 9th at 7:00 pm I will not accept late final papers.

I do not grade on a curve. You will receive point values, but not letter grades, for individual tests and assignments. I will award final grades using this scale. I will award final grades on the following scale:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>90-100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>80-89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>70-79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D</td>
<td>60-69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>0-59</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Class Schedule

WEEK 1: June 10th - August 12th

Introduction to the Class

WEEK 2: August 15th - August 19th

Introduction to Social Research
- Read ISW ch 1 “Science, Society, and Social Research”

Research Questions and Hypotheses
- Read ISW ch 2 “The Process and Problems of Social Research”

WEEK 3: August 22nd - August 26th

Research Ethics
- Read ISW ch 3 “Research Ethics and Research Proposals”

Example of Research Ethics
- Read “Racism and Research: The Case of the Tuskegee Syphilis Study” on D2L

WEEK 4: August 29th - September 2nd

Participant Observation
- Read ISW ch 10 “Qualitative Methods”
- Read “The Promise and Pitfalls of Going into the Field” on D2L

Intensive Interviewing
- Read “In Their Own Words: Making the Most of Qualitative Interviews” on D2L

Assignment 1

WEEK 5: September 6th - September 9th

Analyzing Qualitative Data
- Read ISW ch 11 “Qualitative Data Analysis”

Example of Qualitative Research
- Read “Weighing In: Elementary-Age Students and the Debate on Attitudes toward School among Black Students” on D2L

Assignment 1 due by Sunday, September 11th at 11:59 pm
WEEK 6: September 12th - September 16th

Conceptualization and Operationalization
- Read ISW ch 4 “Conceptualization and Measurement”

Example of Conceptualization and Operationalization
- Read “Flux and Choice in American Ethnicity” on D2L

Validity and Reliability

WEEK 7: September 19th - September 23rd

Levels of Measurement

Measures of Central Tendency
- Read ISW ch 9 “Quantitative Data Analysis”

Assignment 2

WEEK 8: September 26th - September 30th

Causality
- Read ISW ch 6 “Research Design and Causation”

Experiments
- Read ISW ch 7 “Experiments”
- Read “The Power of Experiments” on D2L

Assignment 2 due by Sunday, October 2nd at 11:59 pm

WEEK 9: October 3rd - October 5th

Examples of Experimental Research
- Read “The Mark of a Criminal Record” on D2L

WEEK 10: October 10th - October 14th

Midterm Exam

Midterm exam due by Sunday, October 9th at 11:59 pm
WEEK 11: October 17th - October 21st

Sampling
- Read ISW ch 5 “Sampling and Generalizability”

Generalizability

WEEK 12: October 24th - October 28th

Content Analysis
- Read ISW ch 13 “Comparative and Historical Research and Content Analysis”
- Read “An Old Tool with New Uses” on D2L

Examples of Content Analysis Research
- Read “Culture and Conflict: The Portrayal of Blacks in Children’s Picture Books through the Mid- and Late-Twentieth Century” on D2L

Assignment 3

WEEK 13: October 31st - November 4th

Analyzing Quantitative Data using Bivariate Cross-Tabulation
- Read ISW ch 9 “Quantitative Data Analysis”

Analyzing Quantitative Data using Multivariate Cross-Tabulation

Final Research Paper (observation and content analysis options)

Assignment 3 due by Sunday, October 30th at 11:59 pm

WEEK 14: November 7th - November 11th

Descriptive Statistics using the General Social Survey

Bivariate Statistics using the General Social Survey

Final Research Paper (survey option)

Assignment 4
WEEK 15: November 14th - November 18th

Surveys
- Read ISW ch 8 “Survey Research”
- Read “Sense and Nonsense about Surveys” on D2L

Question Wording

Examples of Survey Research
- Read “Southerners All?” on D2L

Assignment 4 due by Sunday, November 20th at 11:59 pm

THANKSGIVING BREAK: November 21st - November 25th

WEEK 16: November 28th - December 2nd

Final Exam

Final Exam due by Saturday, December 3rd at 5:00 pm

FINAL EXAM WEEK: December 5th - December 9th

Writing and Publishing Research
- Read ISW ch 16 “Summarizing and Reporting Research”

Final Research Paper due by Friday, December 9th at 7:00 pm