Career Profile:

An industrious and willing adjunct instructor of History with experience teaching two College courses - U.S. History to adult students (five-week program) and Geography to traditional students. A dutiful, committed instructor who makes great strides to ensure that students receive as best an education as they can and are graded fairly. Also, an instructor who values the advice and instruction of fellow academics and works hard to ensure that the College or University's standards and interests are always being adhered to and made the highest priority.

Key Skills:

- Keen knowledge of world events, both past and present.
- Particularly knowledgeable in the following areas:
 - o How Western Imperialism affected (and continues to affect) today's world.
 - o Ethnic, racial, linguistic, and religious demographics of every major Geographic Realm.
 - o Focused knowledge of the history of North Africa, the Middle East, and Central Asia.
 - o Focused knowledge of ethno-linguistic and religious demographics of Southeast Asia.
- Experience meeting deadlines and adjusting to class days lost to inclement weather.

Career History:

Point University (Formerly Atlanta Christian College)

West Point, GA – October 2010 to Present.
